TWELVE HUNDRED MINERS VOTE TO AGAIN WALK OUT BECAUSE OF BLACKLIST

EXTINCT VOLCANO IS AGAIN ACTIVE.

MANAGUA, NICARAGUA, Oct. 26.—(Copyright.)—The volcano of Santa Maria, in the department of Quezaltenango, northwestern part of Gautemala, has been in eruption since yesterday morning. The eruption is attended with a terrifying roar and shocks are felt all over Nicaragua, Salvador and Costa Rica. No damage has been done here, but there is great alarm. Santa Maria has not been considered an active volcano.

REED TO LEAVE STATE LIBRARY

His Resignation to Be Accepted By Gov. Stone Today.

GIVES NO REASON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Oct. 26.—Dr. George Edward Reed has resigned the position of state librarian. The story that he would do so has been in the air for some time, but was always denied. It was based on the assumption that Dr. Reed, favoring Pattison's candidacy for governor, could no longer hold office under a Republican administration. He gives no reason for resigning in his letter to the governor, but steps down and out of the state librarianship and its $2,500 salary, with $500 per volume for editing the state archives, without a word of explanation.

If it were, however, a matter of conscience with the state librarian, he could have resigned long ago, for the law creating the office plainly says he must reside at the seat of government during his term of office, and it is quite certain that he has no domicile in Harrisburg beyond his residence now and then at a hotel.

Reed's resignation was received last night by Gov. Stone on his return from Philadelphia. It takes effect on the appointment of his successor. Stone will send a letter to Reed tomorrow formally accepting his resignation.

Gov. Stone said tonight that he has no one in mind to fill the vacancy occasioned by Reed's resignation. This is the third resignation at the state library in two weeks. First Assistant Librarian Howard B. Hartswick resigned to enter business in Clearfield, and Clerk William K. Swartz of Duncannon resigned to take a place in New York.

THREE MEN INJURED BY DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

Were Drilling Rock for Pastime When the Accident Occurred.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., Oct. 26.—This morning David Heffiefinger, Joseph Myers and Robert Dissinger of Mapleton were taking a walk. They came to a stone quarry, and, finding a drill and sledges, began drilling in a huge rock. Dissinger holding the drill and the others wielding the sledge.

Only a few blows were struck when a terrific explosion came from dynamite stored in the rock. The men were hurled from 20 to 40 feet. Myers' left hip was fractured and the others sustained fatal injuries. They were brought to the Altoona hospital.

CATTLEMEN REJOICE.

Fine Growth of Lush Grass Grows Up in Semi-Arid Region Along the Rio Grande.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The great semi-arid region of southwest Texas, comprising a strip of territory 100 miles wide along the Rio Grande river, is covered with verdure for the first time in over two years.

Less than a month ago this section was absolutely a dreary desert. Most of the stock had either died or been shipped north. Now the land is covered with lush grass ankle deep and the cattlemen are jubilant.

They will give the new grass a chance to grow before they ship their cattle back to the ranges, and they will not overwork the new growth for if not eaten off too close they know it will stand much drought.

Boer Generals May Not Come.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—In a dispatch from Brussels the correspondent of the Standard says it is declared positively that Gens. Botha and Delarey have abandoned their proposed tour of the United States and will return shortly to South Africa.

Czar Plans Long Tour.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—According to the Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, the czar of Russia, after visiting Italy, will proceed to Montenegro, Athens and probably to Constantinople.

Fifty Members of Local Barred from Work by Lentz & Company.

READING COMPANY OPENS NEW MINES

Seventeen Collieries in District Around Mahanoy City All Ready for Work.

REPAIRS ARE FINISHED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Mahanoy City, Oct. 26.—Park Place local, U. M. W. of A., which has a membership of 1,200 men, voted unanimously this afternoon to go out on strike again tomorrow if Lentz & Co., individual operators, do not abolish the "black list." This list contains the names of about 50 of their members, who are charged with conspicuous activity during the strike.

The collieries of this company resumed operations on Thursday last. When the miners learned that the men whose names appeared on the blacklist had been refused work they resolved to take action. Not a man will report for work tomorrow. No effort on the part of the company will be made to start the collieries.

The 17 collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company in this district will begin operations tomorrow morning with a full complement of men. By noon tomorrow 500 cars of anthracite will be ready for market.

The Mill Creek Coal Company, which employs about 2,500 men, has withdrawn the objectionable paper which it had prepared for its employes to sign and in consequence the resumption of mining will take place at its Buck Mountain and Vulcan collieries tomorrow.

Things are especially quiet at Camp Glenn. The chilly weather today made life under canvas uncomfortable, and as there is little prospect of the regiment being called home for the next 10 days at least, the boys are busying themselves in devising means to keep warm.

Adjt. McCoy of Col. Thompson's staff, who is suffering from a slight illness, is still confined to the camp and will not be able to leave for a few days. Battalion Adjutant McGovern is acting as regimental adjutant in the interim.

Tonight Company H, Capt. Griscom, is on guard at Gilberton. The homes of non-union men in this city are still being guarded by a detail of troops from the Fourteenth.

Sergt.-Maj. Black of Company E left this afternoon for Pittsburgh on a 15-days' furlough. Private Garvin of this company also left for home, disabled.

This afternoon Lieut. Col. Corbett marched his command into the city and gave a dress parade in Main street. It was witnessed by a large crowd, liberal with applause.

NON-UNION MINERS DRIVEN FROM WORK

Six Men Are Severely Beaten and Driven from a Colliery by Unionists.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 26.—Half a dozen non-unionists employed at the Oxford colliery of the Peoples Coal Company were beaten and chased half a mile through a gangway yesterday by a crowd of union employes of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company's Bellevue colliery, which it adjoins.

The mines open one into the other in a number of places, and at one place the employes of both make use of the same gangway, or main road. The union men waylaid the non-unionists at a cross-cut and after beating them, chased them until the fugitives reached the mule barn in the Oxford workings, where they sought refuge.

WILL PREVENT FAMINE.

President Roosevelt's Shipping Order for Philippines Will Furnish Manila With Foodstuffs.

MANILA, Oct. 26.—It is believed here that President Roosevelt's order permitting foreign vessels to engage in coastwise trade through the Philippine islands will relieve immediately the inter-insular freight situation, as well as improve the supply and lessen the cost of rice, in which article a famine is threatened. Existing freight rates from Manila to some ports in the archipelago exceed the rates from San Francisco to Manila.

Agriculture in the islands, already impaired on account of the war rinderpest and the cholera, has been further injured by locusts.

Cholera is gaining a strong foothold on the island of Mindanao. The disease continues to be bad in the province of Hollo, island of Panay, but it is light elsewhere. It has disappeared from Manila.

PENNSYLVANIA IS AMONG THE TARDY ONES IN CONTRIBUTING TO THE M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

The Commission Inspecting a Site in Westlawn Cemetery, Canton.

William McConway, Pittsburgh member of the board of trustees of the McKinley memorial fund, returned yesterday from the meeting of the board held in Canton. Mr. McConway said that it would be some time before the trustees would be ready to take up plans for the erection of the monument, and that the most important work done on Saturday was the selection of the site in Westlawn cemetery.

"Many of the states are in arrears in paying their apportionment," Mr. McConway declared, "and it is to be regretted that Pennsylvania is among the number. When all the states have contributed their share we shall have secured more than the $100,000 necessary for the beginning of the work. The contributions will be materially increased when this state of affairs becomes generally known and Pennsylvania's part, at least, will be nobly done."

HUNDRED DEPUTIES SENT FROM SHAMOKIN

Told to Hold Themselves Ready for Another Call to Duty at Mines.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHAMOKIN, PA., Oct. 26.—One hundred deputies on guard at collieries in this region during the strike were sent home today, under orders to be ready to return to duty on a minute's notice. Strikers are quiet, but object strenuously to working under non-union fire bosses and engineers.

A meeting of the miners' advisory board of the district will be held tomorrow to consider whether to organize permanent co-operative stores or not. The relief stores are still kept up and will be until the strikers draw their first pay and those now idle receive work.

Capt. Armbrust of Company I, Tenth regiment, has left for his home in Greensburg on account of the serious illness of his daughter.

The regiment gave a fine drill near camp this afternoon, people coming from many parts of the region to witness it and to see the Philippine heroes.

Col. Barnett was greatly improved today and will likely be able to assume command of the troops some time this week.

There is a fear that if the arbitration board does not deal liberally with the strikers the men will at once engage in another tie-up to a finish.

RABBI KILLS HIMSELF ON HIS WEDDING NIGHT

Bride-to-Be Hears the News While Arraying Herself in Her Bridal Gown.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Preparations had been made for the marriage tonight of Rabbi Herman Getz to Mrs. Freidman at her home. Guests had begun to assemble; the marriage feast was spread and the house was a blaze of light. Mrs. Freidman was arraying herself for the ceremony, when a messenger burst into the house, his face white with excitement.

"Rabbi Getz is dead," he cried.

There was a wail of anguish from the woman, and a rush of friends to comfort her, then one by one the lights were put out, the viands swept away and belated guests found the house in darkness.

Rabbi Getz was not dead when the announcement was made to his betrothed, but he was dying, and the end came soon afterward. He committed suicide when in a fit of despondency, when he should have been donning his wedding habiliments.

As the wedding day approached the surgeons told the rabbi that he must undergo a surgical operation. This caused the rabbi to grow melancholy.

WORE FALSE MOUSTACHE.

Woman Accused of Stealing Team Also Said to Have Worn Men's Clothing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—A special from Hartford, Conn., to the World this morning says: "Mrs. Mevina Thorpe, who was arrested in Suffield yesterday, charged with horse stealing, was brought here today and was tonight taken to Hudson, N. Y., by Sergt. Cruise.

"She had the team from September 17 to October 14, and left it at Newburg. She lives in Salisbury Mills, near Newburg, where her father is a mill superintendent. She used the team while selling books.

"In New York she bought a man's suit for $7, and with a false mustache eluded the police in both New York and Newburg. In her native place she stod on a corner smoking a cigarette and was not recognized."

FALL TO AHEIR DEATH FROM HIGH CHIMNEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Two men were killed, another fatally injured by a swinging scaffold on a high chimney of the American Sugar Refining Company in Williamsburg. The chimney on which the scaffold was is 275 feet high. The men were replacing bricks. They had fastened the scaffold insecurely and it slipped, throwing Mulroy and Williams to the ground and killing them.

THIRD BULLET BRINGS DEATH

Amateur William Tell Misses Apple and Hits Subject's Head.

NOW LIES IN JAIL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., Oct. 26.—In doing a William Tell act here at a free show given by a patent medicine company, John Volkman, on whose head an apple rested, was shot and instantly killed Saturday night by Charles Meinel.

It had been announced that Meinel would attempt the feat, and on Saturday afternoon Volkman volunteered to act as the holder of the apple target. He seemed proud of his courage, and, in spite of warnings from friends, he persisted in his determination to assist Meinel.

Volkman, who was a barber, worked all afternoon, and many joked with him about the affair. Some gravely bade him good by and inquired where he wished to be buried.

When the performance started, after Meinel had given some exhibitions of his skill as a marksman, the culminating act was announced, and Volkman, as a volunteer, went to the stage, where an apple was balanced on top of his head. He took up a position at the opposite side from Meinel and courageously faced the man with the rifle.

Meinel had failed just before to hit a card he had shot at, and several young men in the rear of the hall were still good naturedly jeering at him when he took aim at the apple on Volkman's head.

The first shot was a miss. Volkman did not stir. Meinel took aim the second time. This shot also missed both the man and the apple, and while Volkman still stood his ground it was apparent that he wished it was over. He was as firm as a rock, however, and the apple remained steady on his head.

The third bullet struck Volkman almost in the center of his bald head; and while women shrieked and men shouted in panic, the barber fell dead.

Instantly there was an uproar. Many women fainted; men, badly frightened, were scrambling over one another in an effort to reach the street.

The manager of the company called physicians, who quickly extracted the bullet, but could do nothing for the unfortunate man.

Meinel was at once arrested, and is being held pending an investigation. The prisoner is almost in a state of collapse.

PLAYERS WILL REMAIN.

Dreyfuss Says Smith, Conroy and Leach Will Not Go to American League.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh baseball team, in discussing the proposed make-up of the New York American league team, as published this morning, said today:

"I assert positively that Conroy, Leach and Smith are under contract to the Pittsburgh club; have received advance money for 1903, and will play next summer in Pittsburgh. Tannehill and Chesbro, as well as O'Connor, have been released outright by me, and I do not care where they go."

NORTH WIND BLOWS OVER EIGHTEENTH

All Attributes of Blizzard but Snow Strike Camp at Shenandoah.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 26.—A young blizzard, less the snow, made its appearance at the Eighteenth regiment camp this evening and sent many visitors scurrying homeward. The camp is on a plateau overlooking the town. Early settlers called it Indian Ridge. The wind has a clean sweep from all directions, except what is broken by Locust mountain, located a quarter of a mile northward.

The camp was open for visitors for the first time between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon and there were many visitors. Since the people here have become better acquainted with the officers and men, they are finding out what good fellows they really are, and will be sorry to part with them.

The fears expressed by men who had been working at the collieries during the strike and who had been quartered at the mines are responsible to a large degree for the delay in sending the troops home. The well-informed think, however, that if anything develops from these strained feelings, it will be in the form of fights when the men meet after working hours, and Shenandoah had a fair quota long before the strike was declared.

The William Penn colliery, one of the largest operations of this district, will start tomorrow. The collieries working are slowly increasing their output.

The deputy coal and iron policemen are being mobilized daily at East Mahanoy Junction by the coal companies for use in the event of an emergency.

WESTERN REGIMENTS WILL BE SENT HOME

Three Detachments Will Receive Orders to Break Camp This Week.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 26.—Gen. Wiley said tonight that three detachments of the Second Brigade will be ordered home this week. The other two regiments will remain until after election day.

It will be decided at the conference to be held at Pottsville tomorrow which regiments are to go.

Col. Rutledge, of the Eighteenth regiment, was ordered by Gen. Wiley to appear at the court house at Pottsville tomorrow in response to the summons issued by the court in the Wadsworth habeas corpus case.

The attorneys for the state will move to quash the proceedings. District Attorney McLaughlin will argue against the motion.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY ON PASSENGER TRAINS

ROME, Oct. 26.—It has been decided to establish wireless telegraphy apparatuses at all stations and on all passenger trains on Italian railroads. King Victor Emmanuel has appointed William Marconi a chevalier of the Order of Industrial Merit.

FOOTBALL MEN BURN UNIFORMS BECAUSE ONE OF TEAM IS KILLED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Staunton, Ill., Oct. 26.—Ed Schmidt, fullback for the Staunton football team and all around athlete, was killed this afternoon in a game with the St. Louis Coffeys. Schmidt had just made a brilliant 25-yard run. Staunton lost the ball and Haley, for the Coffeys, started to carry it around the end, when Schmidt tackled him low, but fell down, helpless, complaining of pain in his head. Bystanders carried him from the field and he died before a doctor's office could be reached. Death was ascribed to rupture of a blood vessel in the head. As soon as the players heard the terrible news the Staunton eleven pulled down the goal posts, doffed their football toggery and piling them in a heap, burned them all together, declaring they would play the game no more.

HAWAIIAN DELICACY ENJOYED BY SENATORIAL COMMISSION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Honolulu, Oct. 15, via San Francisco, Oct. 26.—Hawaiians are laughing over a joke they say was played on the members of the senatorial commission last month.

United States Senators Mitchell of Oregon, Foster of Washington, and Burton of Kansas were made to eat dog. Those who are authority for the story declare that the senators ate the fare with relish and called for more. This dish was served the party at one of the native "luaus," or feasts, during their recent visit in Honolulu.

Among Hawaiians cooked dog has long been esteemed one of the greatest of delicacies. No native feast is ever complete without such a dish. The dogs so served are not any common breed of mongrel, but are carefully raised and prepared for the table.

The canines are a small animal, about the size of a suckling pig. They are fed entirely on vegetables and fruits, and the flesh, in consequence, is luscious and tender.

THE RING FIGHTS HARD TO RETAIN SLIGHT HOLD ON THE LABOR LEAGUE

Delegates Are Refused Admission and Break Into Hall.

POLICE ARE READY TO TAKE A HAND

Riot Is Narrowly Averted and Hall Is Cleared by Officers.

CITIZENS WON VICTORY

Pandemonium reigned for a few minutes last night in the regular meeting of the United Labor League of Western Pennsylvania, the leading central labor organization of this community. There were yells of "police" and "murder," intermingled with threats, as the incensed delegates bounded over chairs and tables and exchanged blows. The police were inside in an instant. Some of them had been in readiness on the outside. The officers' appearance stopped the disturbance at the verge of an ugly riot.

New delegates, whom the doorkeeper had been ordered by the chairman to admit, were denied admission, and made a rush for the door of the main assembly room. At their appearance the disorder started. The scene occurred about 9 o'clock and was over in a few minutes, about 10 police clearing the hall with some difficulty. Obdurate delegates were dragged out by the officers, when they refused to accept the orders to move out. One of the delegates cried:

Pandemonium Reigned.

"Throw the police out," and at this the crowd in the hall rushed as one man toward the door. The police kept the crowd in check, however, and the hall was promptly cleared. Chairman John Fernau, district master workman of the Knights of Labor, was roughly handled by Delegate Charles Cameron from the painters, but no blows were struck.

The trouble arose from the high factional feeling which rules in the league. A month ago the adherents of the Muddy Water crowd packed the meeting, ousted Chairman William Boate from his position, and secured the passage of a resolution which withdrew the support of the body from the Citizens party, except in the case of one candidate. Adherents of the Citizens have always been in the majority and last night this contingent had arranged to upset the previous action. It did so at a separate meeting after the trouble was over.

Citizens Were Indorsed.

The majority of the delegates retired to the Bricklayers' and Bridgemen's hall, No. 519 Wylie avenue, and rescinded the resolution, which was declared not to be the sentiment of organized labor which sends representatives to the league. The action taken by this contingent is in effect an indorsement of the entire Citizens ticket, along with the Republican state ticket.

The action was put, however, as a withdrawal of the league from all party politics, and a resolution was passed indorsing all the candidates of the Citizens ticket who carry union cards, along with an indorsement for the candidacy of Joseph T. Armstrong in the Fifth legislative district. Eight out of 16 candidates on the Citizens ticket are union men.

Chairman John Fernau made the following statement after the meeting: "The police were on the outside of the building at 7:15 o'clock. The meeting was not due to go into session till 7:30. In the absence of the regular secretary, Frank E. Smith, of the painters, was made temporary secretary.

Some Strange Proceedings.

"Regularly prepared credentials were offered for delegates from the bridgemen, bricklayers, salesmen, electricians and teamsters, about 28 in all. A motion was made by O. A. Ainsworth of the salespeople that the new delegates retire while their credentials were being passed on. This was irregular and contrary to our precedents. On motion this was ruled out of order; an appeal was taken and sustained by a small majority, four, I believe. The regular credential committee, composed of Chairman M. O'Sullivan of the tinners, C. B. Hayes and Henry Legleitner retired.

"O'Sullivan brought in what he called a majority report, recommending that the credentials be laid on the table till the next meeting. Legleitner made a minority report that the credentials were regular and the delegates should be seated.

Ring Disregarded Rules.

"A motion was made by Charles Cameron that the majority report be concurred in. J. A. Bacharach rose to a point of order, which the chair sustained. Cameron appealed and his appeal was sustained by a small majority. The chair then ruled that the credentials were bona fide and that the door be opened and the delegates admitted. This was done and the confusion started, the police being in the room in a minute.

Cameron had reached to a front window, yelled police, and there was a prompt response.

"We assembled another meeting at No. 510 Wylie avenue. Frank A. Hopper of the salespeople was elected temporary secretary, John Austin of the Bricklayers vice chairman and J. M. Ryan financial secretary. Our regular financial secretary, Ziegler, had disappeared after condemning the proceedings of the former meeting. We obligated the new delegates, or most of them, who, after the excitement, had gotten to our meeting.

"The resolution presented by the Salespeople at a former meeting was taken off the table and passed.

No Politics Allowed.

This document set forth that the league has been more or less identified with partisan politics, contrary to its rules; had condemned one party and attempted to indorse another; that a continuation of this course would disrupt the league, and that the delegates are sent to the league to aid organized labor, and not for partisan politics. This was followed by a resolution deploring the action of the league and indorsing the action of the chairman in refusing to entertain a motion to indorse any party or candidate not a union man.

"William Boate offered a resolution condemning in unmeasured terms those delegates who had broken up the meeting in Smithfield street and by possible preconcerted action called in the police.

CREEPS TO CORPSE TO BE COMFORTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Kneeling at her bedside, as if in prayer, with her 4-year-old daughter sobbing beside her, Mrs. Helen Fields of Winfield was found dead by neighbors. The child had evidently spent hours alone trying to rouse her mother. It was evident that the little one, probably aroused by cold and hunger, crept to the lifeless form for comfort.

SONS OF ROYALTY COMING ON VISIT

Crown Princes of England and Germany to See St. Louis Fair.

RULERS FAVOR IT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 903 Fifteenth St., N. W. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.

As the result of an invitation sent to King Edward and Emperor William, the prince of Wales and the crown prince of Germany will probably visit this country in 1904 to attend the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis.

Just before Gens. Corbin and Young departed for Europe they went to Oyster Bay at the request of the president, who instructed them to take to the rulers of England and Germany the message that the president of the United States hoped their sons and the heirs apparent to the throne would visit this country to attend the Louisiana Purchase exposition.

Mr. Choate, the ambassador at St. James, had already broached the subject in a delicate manner to the king, and it was regarded with favor, and when Gen. Corbin put the matter to him directly his majesty remarked:

"It is a proposition which I regard with great favor."

Gen. Corbin regards that comment as equivalent to his acquiescence.

The kaiser regarded the proposition with almost equal favor. When Prince Henry visited this country there was great pressure exercised to bring him to accept an invitation to visit the world's fair at St. Louis, and even there was expressed a hope that the crown prince might be sent by his father.

TROLLEY AND AUTO CRASH

Chauffeur Arrested, But He Blames It on Motorman—Twenty-two Persons Injured.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—As a result of a collision here today between a trolley car and a heavy automobile 22 persons were injured, one so seriously that it is feared she will die. The chauffeur, W. B. Raymond, was arrested. He refused to tell anything about his companions, a man and two women.

The automobile was struck by the car, and though it was hurled with much force to the side of the street it was little injured, and its occupants escaped without a scratch. The car left the track, and turning completely over landed in the gutter. Had it rolled in the opposite direction it would have gone over a steep embankment on the tracks of the New York Central railroad.

According to the story of those in the car the accident was the result of the recklessness of the chauffeur. On the other hand, he asserts that the motorman made no attempt to prevent an accident.

DUSS BIDS FAREWELL.

Big Audience Greets Pittsburgher and His Band at Last of Season's New York Concerts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—John S. Duss bade farewell to New York for the season at the Metropolitan opera house this evening. After a three days' visit to Boston, his band will be dismissed until next spring and he will go to Economy.

A long line stretched into the street from the box office for half an hour before the concert began and consequently there was a good audience present.

It was somewhat cold at first, because Mr. Duss did not appear on the stage until 8:45 o'clock, but later plenty of applause was bestowed on the band and the soloists.

ADDICKS WITHDRAWS.

He Will Issue Statement Today Quitting Contest for Control of Delaware Legislature.

WILMINGTON, DEL., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—J. Edward Addicks has decided to abandon the fight for control of the legislature in Delaware this fall.

This decision was reached at a conference between Addicks and his lieutenants in Philadelphia last night.

Addicks will issue a statement tomorrow in which he will announce his purpose, saying that he leaves the fight for the legislature to the president's friends.

AMERICAN CONSUL HUNGRY IN MEXICO

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 26.—United States Consul Alonzo Garrett, at Lando, Mexico, returned to the consulate last night, according to a telegram received here today, after wandering with a party of friends in the Sierra Hadre mountains for 20 days, the greater part of the time without food. The party was on a hunting trip and its water supply failed. Garrett resides here.

CALLS UPON ALL THE VETERANS TO ORGANIZE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Gen. Robert St. George Dyrenforth, commander-in-chief of the Union Veteran union, has issued an appeal to union veterans of the civil war to organize into a brotherhood for mutual protection. He says that eligibility to membership in the order is now extended to every honorably discharged union veteran of good record.

ITALIAN DANCE ENDS IN DEATH

Antonio Steen of Sharpsburg Dies from a Kick in the Stomach.

ASSAILANT IS AT LARGE

Anthony Ritz, a Fifth Avenue Barber, Accused of the Crime. His Companion Arrested—Colored Man Cut With a Razor.

A fight, which resulted in a death, attended a wedding celebration in Sharpsburg yesterday afternoon. Antonio Stein, an Italian, of Sharpsburg, was the victim, dying from the effects of an assault alleged to have been made upon him by Anthony Ritz, an Italian barber, of No. 2229 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh. The Sharpsburg and Pittsburgh police were searching for Ritz, but late last night he had not been captured.

Thomas Zarno, of Gazzam street, who was with Ritz and fled with him, was arrested last night in this city and locked up at No. 2 police station. He failed to give any clue to Ritz's whereabouts.

The trouble occurred about 5 o'clock at the home of M. Sando, 410 Canal street, Sharpsburg. A dance was being held to celebrate a recent wedding. In attendance were a large number of men and women from the borough and Pittsburgh. A quarrel occurred during the dance between Ritz and Stein, and Stein is said to have been kicked in the stomach by Ritz. The dance went on and Ritz remained in the house until he found that Stein could not be revived.

Then he disappeared in company with Zarno, going through Sharpsburg and Etna. He was last seen making his way up the hill above the Etna bridge. Through some misunderstanding Stein's body was not removed and lay in a vacant lot in front of the Sando house for a couple of hours, before it was taken to an undertaking establishment and later to the county morgue. The dead man was 50 years old and bore a good reputation. The cause of the quarrel is unknown.

Dr. F. G. Snyder, of Sharpsburg, and Dr. Walter McCandless held a post mortem examination of the remains last night at the morgue. Dr. Snyder stated that death had resulted from a rupture of the kidneys.

James Dorsey, colored, 22 years old, of No. 3149 Mulberry alley, was badly slashed with a razor last night about 6 o'clock during a quarrel with Oscar Fields, also colored, at Mulberry alley and Thirty-second street. Dorsey received a gash in the back twelve inches long and an inch deep. After being wounded he picked up a brick and dealt Fields a blow in the forehead. Officer James Delehanty sent Dorsey to the West Penn hospital and Fields to No. 3 police station, after their wounds had been dressed by Dr. Clark, of Butler street. Dorsey's condition is said to be serious.

DIED ON WAY TO CHURCH.

Prominent East End Woman Has Sudden Attack of Heart Failure. Expires In Drug Store.

Mrs. Emma Smith, wife of Samuel Smith, district manager of the Chicago Hardware Company, died suddenly in Sheridan avenue last evening, shortly after 7 o'clock, while on her way from her home at No. 5140 Hoeveler street to the Emory Methodist Episcopal church in North Highland avenue. Mrs. Smith was in company with her husband.

Reaching a drug store in Sheridan avenue, Mrs. Smith asked her husband to go in and get some lozenges. Mr. Smith left his wife outside and went into the store. When he returned he saw her stagger and fall to the pavement. She was carried into the drug store and expired in a few minutes. Death is supposed to have been due to heart trouble.

Mrs. Smith was 35 years of age. Her maiden name was Emma Bovard. She is survived by her husband, two daughters—Mazie and Reba—and a sister, Mrs. Lewis Celia of Sheridan avenue. She was prominent in church work. Formerly she was identified with the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church and for a number of years was a member of the choir there.

ELDER BUTTED IN.

Sharpsburg Church Services Broken Up by Bitter Personal Discussion During the Sermon.

The services last night in the First English Lutheran church, Sharpsburg, where the Rev. H. E. Berkey, the retiring pastor, had announced his farewell sermon, ended in a bitter personal discussion, and the congregation was thrown into a state of confusion. Mr. Berkey made some pointed remarks which were taken up by Elder Weebecker and after a heated argument it was decided to hold a congregational meeting for the settlement of the difficulty.

The pastor attempted to tell his flock how he had been called upon to resign and was giving his own side of the case. He said that one man in the congregation was alone to blame. At this point Weebecker interposed and declared that the minister should not be permitted to attack his good name.

The suggestion to postpone action in the matter prevailed.

Will Confer on Scale.

The new Pittsburgh organization of the Amalgamated Association of Butchers and Meat Cutters will have a conference within this week with employers to adjust the new wage scale, in which they have demanded an advance of about 25 per cent. All of the employes have been furnished with copies of the scale, and consent to it was limited till next Saturday, but this time may be extended. About 400 men are interested.

Death of Thomas W. Sharp.

Thomas W. Sharp, 67 years old, a well-known resident of Braddock, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. W. McCleary, in Moony street, Braddock, at 11:30 o'clock last night, after a three weeks' illness from inflammation of the stomach. During his youth Mr. Sharp lived with his parents in Allegheny. Later he went to Green Springs, opposite Braddock, and opened coal mines. In 1860 he came to Braddock and opened a large general store, which he conducted for many years, and amassed a great deal of property. In 1860 he married Miss Marie Mansfield of Allegheny, who died seven years ago. Mr. Sharp was burgess of Braddock for five terms, a school director for eight years and served seven terms as borough councilman. He was always a Republican in politics. He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church for 34 years, treasurer for 25 years and a trustee for 28 years. Three sons, William, Mark and Herbert, all of Needles, Cal., survive, as well as the daughter with whom he made his home. Mr. Sharp was also a prominent Mason.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. STANTON

Famous Woman Suffragist Passes Away in New York.

DISTINGUISHED CAREER

Became a Candidate for Congress to Establish the Right of Franchise for Her Sex—Devoted to Literary Work.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the well-known woman suffragist, died today at her home in West Ninety-fourth street. Old age was given as the cause of death. She was conscious almost to the last. About a week ago Mrs. Stanton began to fail rapidly. This became more noticeable last week and then it was known to the family that her death was only a question of days or hours.

The children with Mrs. Stanton when she died were Mrs. M. F. Lawrence and Mrs. Stanton Blatchef of New York; Henry and Robert L. of New York, lawyers; Theodore of Paris and G. Smith, a real estate broker at Warden Cliffe, L. I. The funeral will be held on Wednesday, but the hour has not been set. The interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Stanton was born at Johnstown, N. Y., November 12, 1815. At an early age she showed wonderful proficiency in mathematics, Latin and Greek and studied at Union college and Mrs. Willard's seminary at Troy, N. Y. In 1840 she married Henry B. Stanton, then well known as a leader and lecturer in the anti-slavery movement. Mr. Stanton being a delegate to the world's anti-slavery convention, held in London in June 1840, they went to that city on their wedding trip.

Her Indignation Aroused.

Here Mrs. Stanton's indignation was stirred anew by the imputation of inferiority cast upon women by the refusal to admit to the convention Mrs. Mott and other American women, who had been regularly appointed delegates. This caused Mrs. Stanton to devote her life to the social, political and moral elevation of women.

In 1848 she called a meeting of the first woman's rights convention and inaugurated the woman's suffrage movement. At this convention she declared "it is the duty of the women of this country to secure to themselves their sacred right to the elective franchise." This movement was defeated. In 1868, believing the right to be entitled to public office, though denied the elective franchise, she offered herself as a candidate for congress from the Eighth New York district. She received 24 votes.

With Miss Anthony and Parker Pillsbury she established and edited in New York the woman's rights journal, called the Revolution. This venture, though brilliantly supported, came to financial ruin and was subsequently merged into the Liberal Christian.

Mrs. Stanton had for many years resided at Tenafly, N. J., where her attractive home was a social center. Her ready wit and good nature, her sympathy for the oppressed, her scorn for wrong, her charity, her love for justice and liberty, her intellectual ability and moral energy, gave her a unique place in the history of American women.

Sorrow of Miss Anthony.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Miss Susan B. Anthony received a telegram this afternoon notifying her of the death of Mrs. Stanton, her friend of 50 years, and she was crushed by the intelligence, as she had no intimation that Mrs. Stanton was not in her usual health. She gave the following interview:

"I cannot find words to express my feelings. If she had outlived me she would have had fine words in which to express our friendship. She always said she wished to outlive me that she might pay her tribute to me, for she knew I couldn't to her. She was looking forward with so much pleasure to the publication of the final volume on the history of woman suffrage. I cannot be reconciled to her death without seeing the volume. It contains scores of her speeches."

PREPARING FOR GLASS EXHIBIT.

Many Manufacturers Will Be Represented at Coming Display.

The manufacturers' annual glass and pottery exhibition will open in the Monongahela house on January 1, 1903, and will continue for four weeks. The exhibit promises to be very fine this year, as many new patterns in both glass and pottery will be shown. Among the firms that will be represented at the exhibit will be the following:

Jefferson Glass Company, Steubenville; Duncan & Miller Glass Company, Washington, Pa.; Rochester Glass Company, Rochester, Pa.; Eagle Glass and Manufacturing Company, Wellsburg, W. Va.; Beaumont Glass Company, Martins Ferry; Fostoria Glass Company, Moundsville, W. Va.; A. H. Heisey & Co., Newark, O.; Co-Operative Flint Glass Company, Beaver Falls; The Macbeth-Evans Company, Pittsburgh; Tarentum Glass Company, Tarentum; Morgantown Glass Company, Morgantown, W. Va.; A. B. Coates, Massachusetts; Gillinder & Sons, Incorporated, Philadelphia; Westmoreland Specialty Company, Grapeville; Seneca Glass Company, Morgantown; Kokomo Glass and Manufacturing Company, Kokomo, Ind.; J. B. Owens Pottery Company, Zanesville; Willetts Manufacturing Company, Trenton, N. J., and the Northwood Glass Company of Wheeling.

Popular Actor Coming.

America's famous comedian, Joseph Jefferson, comes to the Alvin theater next Monday night in "Rip Van Winkle" for a week's engagement. There are few plays which possess the enduring popularity of this piece and few actors who have so strong and lasting a hold upon the affections of the American public as this celebrated actor. The sale of seats for this engagement opens on Thursday morning.

Carnegie Workers Form a Union.

Pittsburgh carriage and wagon workers to the number of 187 were yesterday organized into Local No. 125 of the International union of their crafts by Organizer Calvin Wyatt of the American Federation of Labor. The organization will soon arrange to move for the betterment of their working conditions. N. J. Gafney was elected president.

A GUN STORE IN THIS CITY IS SUPPORTED BY A NATIONAL BANK IN A LITERAL FASHION.

Wood Street Scene Illustrating How in These Days Builders Hesitate at Nothing.

The Third National bank, at Wood street and Virgin alley, during the last three days has been supporting the sporting goods house of W. S. Brown. A glance at the accompanying picture will show that the foregoing statement must be accepted literally, and that financial support is no part of the bank's undertaking. A new banking house for the Third National is being built on the south corner of Virgin alley, and in order to support the walls of the gun store long wooden beams, over 40 feet in length, have been extended across the alley to make the gun store secure. The bank will vacate its old building on the north side of the alley to make way for the big structure which H. W. Oliver will erect in Wood street between the alley and Sixth avenue.

PICHEVIN'S LETTER EASILY ANSWERED

American Fund for Relief of Volcano Victims Was Well Administered.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 602 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.

Dr. R. Pichevin's letter to the European edition of the New York Herald asking what became of the fund congress appropriated for the relief of the sufferers of the volcanic disaster in Martinique is easily answered by the officials here who had charge of the distribution of the money. The amount appropriated by congress was, however, $200,000 instead of $500,000, as stated by Dr. Pichevin.

Of this amount fully $50,000 yet remains subject to the order of the president, who will probably feel at liberty to use it for relief measures should any similar disaster occur at a time when congress is not in session.

Immediately after the appropriation Maj. Gallagher of the commissary department of the army began the purchase of supplies in New York and spent about $70,000 in this manner. The food and supplies were shipped on the Dixie.

The quartermaster's department spent about $40,000 and the medical corps about $5,000. In addition to this supplies were ordered in Porto Rico by telegraph and sent to the devastated island. Maj. Gallagher was given $5,000 as an emergency fund, part of which he turned back to the war department. The exact figures are not obtainable today because the war department is closed.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO STOP.

No More Funds to Be Raised for Anthracite Miners.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Daniel S. Jacobs, chairman of the miners' defense committee of the Central Federated union, said at the meeting of that body today that as the strike of the anthracite miners had been declared off, the committee did not think it necessary to levy any further contributions for the miners.

Delegate Holland of the Eccentric Firemen's union said that no attention would be paid to the order here if the International Association of Stationary Firemen directed members not to handle anthracite until all the striking firemen at the mines are reinstated. His organization had decided that, as the mine workers had called the strike off, no other union had a right to interfere.

Trainmen Working for Advance.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Grand Master P. H. Morrissey of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Vice Grand Master W. G. Lee, have arrived at Chicago, to look after the interests of the 7,000 yardmen employed in the Chicago district who have presented a demand to the railroads for an increase in wages of 5 cents an hour. The railroad officials have been notified that an answer will be expected by next Friday.

Mexican Railroads Consolidated.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26.—Documents providing for the transfer of the Mexico, Cuernavaca & Pacific railway to the Mexican Central Railway Company have been prepared and await signatures. The Central acquires the property free from all incumbrances, merely by paying its liabilities to London and national banks. The liability for which the government is guarantor is approximately $4,500,000 silver.

New Under Secretary.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—In its issue this morning the Daily News says it hears that Chief Secretary for Ireland Wyndham has appointed Sir Anthony Patrick MacDonnell to the post of permanent under secretary for Ireland, in succession to Sir David Harrel, who retires on account of having reached the age limit.

Olympia Sails for Porto Rico.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The United States cruiser Olympia, flagship of Rear Admiral Coghlan, and one of the first vessels to leave for the scene of the winter maneuvers of the combined European, North Atlantic and South Atlantic squadron, at Culebra island, near Porto Rico, left port today.

Small Registration in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—The total registration in this city is 71,107, a falling off of 5,258 as compared with the state election of last year. The registration has fallen short in other parts of the state, so that a smaller vote than usual is expected in Ohio November 6.

Examining Fair Auto.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—(Copyright.)—The remains of the automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair were killed are now lying in the Mercedes company headquarters. They had been sent there by the United States consul for examination and a report by M. Fournier.

MAN WITH BIG ROLL HAS DISAPPEARED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Following a general alarm, the whole police force are looking for a man with thousand dollar bills in his pocket. He is John Mulvey, who owns three sheep ranges in Montana. He came to the city a week ago with $5,000 in big bills in his possession. He went out last night and has disappeared.

INJURED BOY DIES IN A PATROL WAGON

Five-Year Old John O'Malley Run Over by Traction Car. Motorman Arrested.

Almost in front of his parents' home, John O'Malley, 5 years old, was run down by a West End traction car yesterday afternoon at 12:40 o'clock, in Main street, and fatally injured. The boy died about 15 minutes later, while being taken to the Homeopathic hospital in a patrol wagon.

Frank Phaif, motorman, was arrested and furnished $1,000 bail for his appearance.

About five minutes after the wagon started for the hospital the boy died in his father's arms. The body was taken to the morgue and afterward removed to an undertaking establishment.

Roda Gold, an Austrian, 42 years old, stoker at Jones & Laughlin's furnace, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the South Side hospital from the effects of a blow accidentally received August 1.

John Roberts, 40 years old, employed for 15 years at the Ella mines of the United Coal Company at Millesville, on the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad, was killed there Saturday night at 10 o'clock by a fall of slate. He was married.

Two employes of the steamer Defender found the body of an unknown man floating in the Monongahela river at the foot of Short street last evening at 5 o'clock. The body was taken to the morgue. It apparently had been in the water for four or five days. The deceased was about 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, dark complexion and weighed 175 pounds. He wore a dark suit of clothes and on his collar was marked the name "Alpern." In his pocket was found a round-trip ticket on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road, from Pittsburgh to Coraopolis, dated October 18.

COLORED MAN MOBBED IN NEW YORK STREETS

Policemen Saves Life After He Runs Down Woman While Riding Wheel.

SPECIAL TO THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Oct. 26.

Half the white population in the neighborhood of Thirty-sixth street and Eighth avenue mobbed Moses Mimms, a negro, at that corner tonight, when he ran down Mrs. Elizabeth Klicks while he was riding a bicycle.

Mimms was knocked down again and again, struck a number of times and kicked as he lay in the street. Men and women hit him, while many women shouted in rage as they saw the man being maltreated.

Two policemen saved him, charging through the mob and leading him to the station house. He was bruised and cut, but not dangerously hurt, and was locked up.

Mrs. Klicks had a bad gash in her head, concussion of the brain and what the doctors feared might be a fracture of the skull. She was unconscious when sent to Roosevelt hospital.

BROUGHT TWO BACK.

Detective William Bradley Arrives in Pittsburgh With a Pair of Youths.

Detective William Bradley returned yesterday from Baltimore with Frank Hahn, 20 years old, who is charged with stealing a diamond ring valued at $125 and a stud worth $100, the property of Otto Rupp, a baker, of No. 46 Fulton street. Hahn was formerly employed in the Brunswick billiard rooms in Diamond street.

He is alleged to have secured the diamond ring and stud from Rupp last June upon the pretense that he wished to show them to a friend who might purchase them. According to Rupp the diamonds were not returned and Hahn left town immediately after pawning the stud with a broker in Smithfield street for $40. Hahn went to Atlantic City and Florida. Detective Bradley stated that he was arrested on another charge while in Florida. He had formerly lived in Baltimore. Detective Bradley also learned that Hahn has pawned the ring in Baltimore for $105.

When Bradley went to police headquarters in Baltimore to get Hahn he found there Edward Dougherty, 18 years old, who had run away from home in Pittsburgh. Bradley also brought young Dougherty with him. Dougherty left his home, No. 156 South Seventeenth street, seven weeks ago, declaring his intention of taking a trip around the world.

RING FIGHTS HARD TO RETAIN SLIGHT HOLD ON LABOR LEAGUE

He named in particular Mr. O'Sullivan, Joseph Henry, Frank Smith and Charles Cameron. The resolution was adopted."

Machine Men Bolted.

C. B. Hayes stated that he allowed O'Sullivan to make the credential committee report as he did on representation that there was a purpose to bring politics into the league. He said: "My people have opposed this and thinking that it was a ring scheme I acquiesced. I am satisfied that the credentials were perfectly regular."

While the one meeting was going on at No. 510 Wylie avenue, the other faction went to the office of W. J. Burke, in the First National bank building, and held a meeting. This contingent carried with it the secretary of the first meeting, the records and the funds, and it is a pretty question to determine which contingent was the United Labor league last night.

From both sides there were allegations of efforts at bribery, which could not be substantiated.

After the meting the muddy water contingent issued the following statement:

One Side's Statement.

To the general public and organized labor:

At the regular meeting of the United Labor League of Western Pennsylvania, held Sunday evening, October 26, 1902, as has always been the custom, the credentials of new delegates were referred to the regular credential committee, who retired to the anteroom and, after duly considering the credentials, the majority of the committee reported adversely to the admission of the new delegates at this time, and recommended that they be held over until next regular meeting, pending an investigation, giving as the reasons their belief that some of the new delegates were not bona fide delegates, but were seeking admission with the intent of packing the meeting for some purpose not in the interest of the league. A motion was made to concur in the report of the majority of the committee. The president ruled this motion out of order. An appeal was taken from his decision and on a vote being taken, the appeal was sustained, when, to the astonishment of all present, the president refused to abide by the vote of the assembly against him, and ordered the doorkeeper to open the door and admit the parties who were waiting in the ante-room. This raised a storm of protest from the majority present.

The doorkeeper refused to carry out the illegal order of the president, when the door was broken open by those on the outside, and the hall filled with parties who had no right to be present. Instantly great confusion ensued, and the vice president, who was still in the chair, in the interest of organized labor, declared the meeting adjourned, as it was impossible to legally transact any business. At this juncture the police came and cleared the hall.

Many of the new delegates who came to the meeting with honest intent, commend the action of the league, recognizing it to be in the interest of organized labor, and did not object to having their credentials held over.

Signed by the following delegates:

W. J. Burk, O. R. C.; James Henry, bricklayers; Charles Cameron, painters; W. L. Bowers, paper hangers; Alexander Hunter, painters; W. H. Baird, O. R. C.; C. Court, R. L. Eckles, A. G. Johnson, F. L. Koch, J. Barclay, painters; Frank E. Smith, building trades council; Edward F. Welsh, plumbers; George J. Churchill, John D. Nauck, street car employes; John J. Toole, plumbers; O. A. Ainsworth, salespeople assembly; J. W. Slattery, plumbers; B. F. Mulvihill, slate and tile roofers; F. C. Conway, P. R. Hurton, Cornelius Casey, C. R. McClelland, H. A. Dalby, W. T. Hamilton, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; E. J. Waltman, O. R. C.; George Miller, stone cutters; M. O. Sullivan, sheet workers; George Newcombe, Amalgamated Society of Engineers and Machinists.

We, the undersigned, who were regularly elected delegates from our respective organizations, recognize the right of all deliberative bodies to be the sole judge of the qualification of their own membership, commend the action of the United Labor league in holding our credentials over for investigation, as we do not desire to secure a seat in any body under any circumstances that might cast suspicion on our motives: W. H. Plumber, B. of R. T.; Frank P. Boyce, S. U. of N. A.; Dan Winters, S. A. Merkel, John Reynolds, William Cready, George Ambos, George Simmons, Window Glass Workers.

OUR PROSPERITY HELPING OTHERS

British Colonies Find Markets in Home Country We Cannot Supply.

PRICES ARE HIGHER

Foodstuffs Must Be Secured from Canada, Australia and South America—Consumers in Europe Beginning to Complain.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—The prosperity of the United States is counted as a reason for the prosperity of Great Britain's colonies by the British Trade Journal, a copy of which has just reached the treasury bureau of statistics.

"So great has been the prosperity of the United States," it says, "during the past two years, that the demand among the people of the republic for many classes of agricultural produce and of cattle has exceeded the supply. Hence there has been a falling off in the exports of these commodities to Europe, and the result is witnessed in the higher prices now prevailing there. Yet another reason for the rise in prices was a shortage of the corn crop of 1901.

"At present," the article adds, "there is no sign of any failing off in the United States home market. Industrial activity continues at a higher pressure, and even the enormous production of pig iron (amounting now to about 18,000,000 tons per annum) of the United States is inadequate to meet the requirements of its general building, shipbuilding, hardware and other trades in which iron or steel is employed, and the consequence has been that during the last few weeks large shipments of pig iron and steel have been made to the North American republic from Great Britain and Germany.

"So long as this business activity lasts in North America there is little probability of a fall in the price of meat and other foodstuffs. The consumers of Europe are complaining of the increased prices resulting from these altered conditions. Nearly all classes of cereals and of meat and other provisions, which used to be received in increasing quantities from the United States, have been raised in value, and consumers are beginning to ask whether the British colonies and South American countries cannot come to their assistance. There is every encouragement, therefore, for the cattle and wheat growers of Australasia, Canada, and of the River Plate to extend their production and to obtain a share of the higher prices now prevailing in the markets of Europe. Europe under present circumstances is able to take all that those countries can send, whether in the shape of live cattle or frozen meat, as well as in cereals and cotton.

"The last named commodity is the source of much anxiety to the Lancashire cotton manufacturer, who finds that he is almost entirely dependent upon the United States for this indispensable commodity. He is, therefore, anxious to buy from other countries and to encourage the growth and development of the cotton trade in South America. This is a condition of things which has not existed for more than a generation, and it opens up a vista of prosperity for our colonies and for South American countries, which until now was supposed to belong only to the North American Republic."

BLAZE IN VERSAILLES.

Four Houses Burned to the Ground and Another Damaged—Loss $8,000.

Four five-roomed houses in Walnut street, in Versailles borough, were burned to the ground last night, and an adjoining house was damaged. The total loss is $8,000.

Dr. William Black of Boston, Pa., owned the houses destroyed, and H. W. Waithou owns the damaged property. Mrs. M. A. Matthews, who keeps a general store, occupied the house where the fire started, and the other occupants were: John Pencke and family, Mrs. Jennie Stetzor, a widow, and James S. Bosley and wife. It is not known how the fire originated.

Divine Sara Buries Hatchet.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—(Copyright.)—Mme. Sara Bernhardt seems to have completely buried the hatchet, as far as her former objections to the Teuton is concerned. For 30 years she declared she would not play in Berlin unless Alsace and Lorraine were restored to France. This resolution has finally weakened, however, and she has consented to appear at the Royal Theater in an engagement beginning tomorrow.

Church Is 250 Years Old.

NEWTOWN, L. I., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Descendants of many of the pioneers who founded the old Presbyterian church in this village, 250 years ago, attended the anniversary services held in the ancient structure today. Conspicuous among the letters of regret read was one from Stuyvesant Fish. It was the Rev. Peter Fish who officiated as pastor of the church in 1700. President Roosevelt and Gov. Odell also sent letters of regret.

Whalers Got Much Oil.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—The schooner Bonanza and the whaler Alice Knowles have brought the first news of the season from the northern whaling fleet. They report speaking the C. W. Morgan, with 1,400 barrels of oil; the California, with 750 barrels, and the Mayhold, with 600 barrels. The Alice Knowles' share of the harvest netted her 1,540 barrels.

Bogota Arrives at Panama.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A dispatch sent from Panama at 11 o'clock this morning was received by the Colombian legation today announcing that the cruiser Bogota was then entering the harbor. The Bogota is the vessel which, according to rumors at Managua, yesterday was engaged in battle with the insurgent gunboat Padilla.

Georgia City Flooded.

BRUNSWICK, GA., Oct. 26.—As a result of continued heavy rains for the past 48 hours, five blocks in the center of this city are under water tonight, and considerable damage has been done. The city fire department house is under water and the jails are both flooded. Railroad traffic has been badly interferred with and washouts are reported.

Effort to Stop Fight.

WATERBURY, CONN., Oct. 26.—The Christian Endeavor society and the Epworth league of this city tonight voted to present petitions to Mayor Kilduff asking that he stop the proposed "Young Corbett"-Rice bout scheduled for November 6. In case this action is insufficient the societies will seek an injunction from the superior court.

Dillon Coming to Pittsburgh.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—John Dillon, M. P., and Michael Davitt, the Irish envoys, have gone to New York. Both have expressed themselves as much gratified at the result of the great convention of the United Irish League of America here the past week. Messrs. Dillon and Davitt will speak in Pittsburgh this week.

RUSSIAN PRESS MUST HAVE CARE

Rules Forbidding Use of Everything That Is Really News Are Announced.

SUICIDE AMONG THEM

Must Have Consent of Nearest Relatives First—Must Not Mention Chinese Railroad—Secret Police Must Be Kept Secret.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—For the first time in the history of the Russian press during the last half century, the censorship has made a compilation of the prohibitions and the partial prohibitions which is considered still binding. The following are the more notable provisions of the censorship:

Ministerial reports to the czar may not be published without the consent of the ministry of the interior; likewise rumors about the same; likewise acts and expressions of the czar.

Matters emanating from the higher governmental circles such as documents and decisions, may not be referred to without the consent of the authority concerned.

Information relating to the emperor, defensive position, mobilization or dislocation of the army or navy, credits for war purposes, construction of strategic roads or warships, etc., may be taken only from the Russki Invalid."

Chinese News Not Wanted.

News or articles concerning the maintenance of the Chinese association railroad or guard forbidden.

News about the commandering of agents of the finance ministry into Persia and results of their work is forbidden.

News about or articles on school disorders or the last university regulations are forbidden; likewise petitions of the students, blackboard bulletins, etc.; furthermore no information can be printed about the internal life of any schools without the consent of the proper authorities.

Articles on or news about political arrests or crimes or criminals, except what are printed in the official messenger or other official organs, about executions and those who perform them, are prohibited.

Factory disorders and other public disorders cannot be mentioned without the consent of the higher police.

Pestilence in Russia and neighboring countries cannot be mentioned without the decision of the medical department of the ministry of the interior.

Must Forget Secret Police.

No allusion can be made to the personnel or the work of the secret police.

Suicides cannot be mentioned without the written consent of the nearest relatives, or, in case of their absence, of the local chief of police.

Mention of contemporaneous measures against religious dissenters or of the holy synods action against Tolstoi is forbidden.

"Curb" quotations are forbidden.

Articles of a strictly scientific nature not suited for the masses are forbidden when bad results might ensue.

A later circular compels newspapers which seek to abbreviate court news to submit such abbreviations to the ministers of the court, without whose imprimatur no court news can be printed.

FOUR GREAT PROBLEMS.

Dr. Trueblood Talks on the Evils That Menace America.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 26.—Dr. Benjamin Trueblood, representative of the American Peace society at The Hague conference and a member of the International Peace bureau and International Law association, addressed the national conference of Friends tonight on the "Four Great Problems of the Age." He said:

"There are four great problems that are staring us in the face, and unless they are solved by the Christian church during the coming century, this nation and the others cannot hold their own. There are four great evils that consume the substance and the thought and the feelings of the world. They are the terrible liquor evil that does more to ruin the homes, blight minds and cause crime than any one other agency; the industrial problem that has been going on during the last half century, and which has now reached an acute stage; the race problem, which has been going on for all time, and the wars between great nations. Abolish these four giant evils and with them will go a thousand other minor evils.

"Industrial war is wrong from all points of view, and arbitration should be employed in settlement of difficulties. Industrial tyranny and slavery should not be permitted by the state. The early church swept aside international boundaries and declared that all men are brothers. There should be no race distinctions. The question of the abolition of war is the greatest one that the civilized world has to contend with today. The day is at hand when the Friends church should redeclare on all the great social and political questions of the day."

New York Pastor Resigns.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman today resigned the pastorate of the Fourth Presbyterian church of this city. The resignation is due to Dr. Chapman's acceptance of a request made by the general assembly's committee of evangelistic work and the doctor will devote his entire time to the general direction of the work of the committee.

Greeting for Lady Somerset.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Lady Henry Somerset was greeted by a large audience in Tremont Temple today at the Women's Christian Temperance Union meeting to advocate the district option bill for Boston. Her address was a plea for a patriotism that makes the welfare of the world its own.

CHURCH NEWS IN BRIEF.

—The congregation of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church will celebrate the 125th incorporation of the church on Sunday, November 16.

—Yesterday afternoon the choir boys of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church of Sewickley entertained with their singing the inmates of the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary.

—The Epworth league of the Homestead Methodist Episcopal church yesterday elected the following officers: President, R. W. Swope; first vice president, William Terrell; second vice president, Miss Bertha Luppold; third vice president, James Twesberry; fourth vice president, Miss Rebecca Gilliland; secretary, Miss Laura Shambaugh; assistant secretary, Guy Michaels; treasurer, Miss Mary Senour; pianist, Miss Alice Gilliland.

PRAISE FOR ROOSEVELT.

"Golden Rule" Jones Gives the President Credit for Settling Miners' Strike.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Political parties were scored at a meeting here tonight of the Chicago Philosophical society by Samuel M. Jones, the "Golden Rule" mayor of Toledo. He characterized the whole party system as "childish, immature and imbecile."

One of his sentences that called forth applause referred to the action of President Roosevelt in bringing about a settlement of the coal strike. "The president became more than a president—he became a man," he said.

"The coal strike will be found in the future to have been the largest contribution to the cause of human liberty of anything since Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation," is the way Mr. Jones summed up the contest.

Change in Management.

DENVER, COL., Oct. 26.—It is announced, after a four days' conference of the officials of the American Smelting and Refining Company, that the western executive committee will be abolished and that hereafter the interests of the company in Colorado will be looked after by James M. Grant and Dennis Sheedy of Denver, who are characterized as western or resident members of the executive committee.

LLEGE GROUND IS DANGEROUS

One of Sites for McKeesport Federal Building Involved in Strange Story.

OIL EXCITEMENT TALE

It Is Asserted That Large Quantity of Nitro-Glycerin Is Buried There and That the Earth Exhales Natural Gas.

On a plot of ground exhaling natural gas and believed to be filled with a sufficient quantity of nitro-glycerin to cause an explosion that would wreck the structure, the United States government has been invited to build the new McKeesport postoffice, for which $100,000 was appropriated at the last congress. The site for the proposed federal building is located at Ninth and Market streets, McKeesport, and has been considered the best of the two locations available for the government.

The fact that the ground in this particular spot is thought to be filled with dangerous gas and still more dangerous explosives has just been discovered and has startled the residents of the adjoining property. They declare that it would be extremely hazardous for the postoffice department to erect a building there, and that an accident might result and the postmaster, mail clerks, letter pouches and all the paraphernalia of the office be suddenly transferred to one of the adjoining townships.

The story of the nitro-glycerin is an old and interesting one, but is vouched for by L. C. Haler, a veteran oil operator of McKeesport, who 20 years ago, in company with several others, put down wells on the property in question. In order to get the best possible output of oil an expert was hired to "shoot" the well. He came well provided for his task with 80 quarts of the explosive. Comparatively little of the nitro-glycerin was used, and the remainder, it is alleged, was buried in the ground nearby—nobody knew exactly where. In time the ground was filled up to the depth of 20 feet and the dangerous cans are said to be underneath still potent and capable of producing a fearful explosion. Many persons who are familiar with the uses of the explosive say that the cans would rust in a short time and that the earth would absorb the nitro-glycerin, gradually washing it away.

The committee of councilmen and citizens appointed to go to Washington to intercede for the expenditure of a greater sum than $20,000 for a site prepared to leave last night. The only other site offered at present, which is near the $20,000 limit, is one on Fifth avenue, owned by James Evans, president of the National Bank of McKeesport, and offered for $25,000.

MEMBERS TO BUILD THEIR OWN CHURCH

St. Joseph's German Cathofic Congregation Starts Today on $32,000 Structure.

A unique project undertaken by a religious congregation in this section will be started this morning at Duquesne, when the members of St. Joseph's German Catholic church will begin the erection of their new church building.

The labor necessary for the construction of the new church house will be supplied by members of the congregation. By this method it is hoped to have a $50,000 church house in which to worship, which will not cost the members over $32,000.

The work will be under the personal direction of the pastor of the church, the Rev. Father Carl Dewell. Father Dewell is educated in the art of building, and with his practical knowledge of the subject and the guiding advice of the architect who prepared the plans, the congregation hopes to save about $18,000.

THE WEATHER.

Fair weather is promised for Pittsburgh and vicinity for the next two days.

The forecast for today is for fair and cooler conditions, while tomorrow's weather it is predicted will be fair, with probably a slight rise in the temperature. HEAD RECOVERS FROM HIS WOUND

Almost Certain That Dr. Duncan Will Not Have to Face Capital Charge.

MORE DETAILS COME OUT

Victim Has Long Talk With His Half-Brother and Is Much Better — Letter from Duncan's Wife to Him Arrives Here.

Bruce Head, the victim of the Greentree shooting affair of October 21, is rapidly improving, and his recovery is regarded as certain. Yesterday he was able to sit up and converse with his half-brother, John B. Carter, for almost an hour. Dr. R. L. Walker of Carnegie left his patient last night at 9 o'clock and said that Head was still weak from the loss of blood, but was resting comfortably. Just as soon as the wounded man's tongue heals sufficiently to allow him to take solid food his recovery will be rapid.

Dr. Ellis A. Duncan is still in jail, and yesterday seemed to be in better spirits than on any day since he was committed there. He asked about his victim, but Warden Lewis did not know Head's condition. In the afternoon Dr. Duncan attended the religious services and seemed to be interested in the minister's subject. He was calm and cool and could easily be distinguished from the other prisoners. He shows no ill effects from his confinement.

More Details Come Out.

Head told his half-brother a few more of the details of the shooting yesterday morning. Nothing was revealed, however, that would indicate the motive. Head said that Duncan was walking in front of him, and as the road was rough, he suggested to Duncan to walk in the rear, as Duncan did not know the road as well as Head did.

This was just as they left the camp. Duncan did as he was advised and walked in the rear of Head. Head did not repeat the conversation that took place between them, and skipped on into the details of the shooting, when Duncan placed his hand on his shoulder and shot him. Head seems disposed not to tell of the events intervening, from the time they left the camp until the shooting took place.

The fact that Head was able to talk so freely yesterday indicates beyond all doubt that his wound is healing more rapidly than Dr. Walker and Carter have said it was. To have carried on the conversation he is alleged to have done, he would have had to twist his tongue in many different positions, showing that the organ has healed considerably, or it would have bled from these motions.

Dr. Walker called at the camp yesterday morning about 9 o'clock and left his patient again at the same hour last night. From the expressions about the camp everyone seemed satisfied that Head would recover.

Callers for Duncan.

W. H. McClure, an uncle of Duncan, called at the jail yesterday morning, but was unable to see his nephew on account of the rules prohibiting visitors on Sunday. He sent word to the physician that he had been there and inquired after his condition. Sherman G. Peticolas of St. Louis and his mother, Marion T. Peticolas, whose home is in Victoria, Tex., the place where Duncan's parents now reside, called at the jail to see the physician. They were unable to do so, and Mrs. Peticolas left a note, which will be delivered to Dr. Duncan this morning. She said she would like to see him and would call again this morning.

Dr. Duncan asked if he would be permitted to have some clothing sent him. Warden Lewis granted this request, and on Saturday Mr. McClure bought him a hair brush, comb, some tooth powder, a brush, underwear and clean linen. The clothing was given him, also the tooth brush, but the hair brush, comb and tooth powder were restricted by Warden Lewis. The latter said the rules of the institution prohibited the delivering of these articles and he could make no exception in the physician's case.

Mrs. Duncan's Letter Arrives.

The letter from Mrs. Duncan to her husband, in care of her friend, Mrs. George B. Anthony of Wilkinsburg, was received yesterday, to be delivered to the imprisoned physician. The contents of the letter are not known to Mrs. Anthony, and it will be taken to Duncan this morning.

Some days ago Mrs. Anthony received a letter from Mrs. Duncan saying that she had written a letter to her husband, demanding that he make a statement as to his motive for shooting Head, to relieve her of the compromising circumstances that seem to envelop her. This is probably the letter referred to.

AMERICA AND ENGLAND CAN RULE WHOLE WORLD

Chief Sentiment Expressed By Lord Beresford Upon His Return Home.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 25.—Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford arrived here today from New York on the Umbria. He said he had had a splendid recreation in the United States and could vouch for the genuineness of sentiment entertained in America toward Great Britain.

"The United States," said the admiral, "is certainly ahead of us in engineering and administration, and we need to adapt ourselves more to modern ideas.

"If Great Britain and the United States were joined in the interests of universal peace, and if the rest of the world wanted to fight these countries, then let the rest of the world look out."

CHANGES AT HOMESTEAD.

Reported That A. C. Dinkey Is to Be President Schwab's Assistant. Others to Move Up.

It was stated yesterday in Homestead that some important changes in the Carnegie Steel Company of the United States Steel Corporation are pending.

It was rumored that A. C. Dinkey, general manager of the Homestead steel works, would shortly retire to accept a position on the executive staff of the corporation in New York, probably to become assistant to President C. M. Schwab on the latter's return from Europe. A. R. Hunt, formerly of Homestead, but at present general manager of the Duquesne plants, will succeed Mr. Dinkey, and that D. S. Kennedy, a department superintendent at Homestead, would become general manager at Duquesne.

MINERS GIVE MITCHELL GOLD WATCH AND BADGE

Foreigners Show Appreciation of Settlement of Coal Strike.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 26.—President Mitchell conferred with District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy for several hours today. He outlined his case as he will present it to the board of arbitration in behalf of the miners, and the same received the approval of the district presidents.

This afternoon President Mitchell was presented with a gold badge and gold watch by the Polish, Lithuanian and Slavish members of the United Mine Workers.

The presentation took place at President Mitchell's headquarters, and there was a large crowd in attendance. In making the presentation the chairman of the committee addressed Mr. Mitchell as follows:

Feeling the most sincere appreciation and the deepest gratitude for your manly, energetic, self-sacrificing and vigorous conducting of the last anthracite strike and considering your achievements in finishing the strike in so splendid and vigorous a manner for our cause, we hereby express our most sincere thanks for protecting our interests during the hard struggle you undertook for us.

Nothing could withstand your ingenious leadership and, a second Napoleon of labor, your every step was a conquest and a victory.

Mr. Mitchell replied as follows:

When I first came to the anthracite coal fields I found the mine workers disorganized and separated by race prejudices and religious animosities. There was no unity of action and no effective power of resistance, but now they are united, they have grown to know one another better, they recognize the identity of their interests and are prepared to move as one man in the advancement of their common cause.

I look forward to the time when strikes shall be no more, when peace and justice shall be secured for those who toil; when labor and capital, each recognizing its rights and obligations to society, shall work in harmony for the common welfare of our country and the general good of all our people.

President Mitchell left here this afternoon for Washington to attend tomorrow's meeting of the anthracite coal strike commission.

FIVE COAL OPERATORS ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON

Ready to Appear Before the President's Strike Arbitration Commission Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—All is in readiness for the meeting tomorrow afternoon of the anthracite coal strike commission. The meeting will be called to order at 2 o'clock, and the wishes of both parties to the controversy will be considered as to the method of procedure in securing testimony.

No testimony will be taken tomorrow. It is expected that very little evidence will be heard in Washington.

Five of the mine operators or their representatives arrived here about 9 o'clock tonight. They included President George F. Baer of the Reading; E. B. Thomas of the Erie; John B. Kerr, representing Thomas Fowler of the Ontarion & Western; David Wilcox of the Delaware & Hudson, and Alfred Walter, representing the Lehigh Valley. They spent the time in the lobby of the hotel, chatting, but refrained from discussing for publication their plans for tomorrow. The operators will hear the ideas the commission has for undertaking the work in hand.

Welcome Savings In Fashionable Furniture.

Do you know that we are selling Furniture, that is the Top-notch of Style, at lower prices than any other store? And we think we are showing more of it than most stores.

It's a splendid showing that delights all who see it. Possibly it is most appreciated by thinkers—people who value a piece of furniture for what it is—not for the high price paid for it. And in coming here you have the added certainty that the article wanted will be found here without the running around that might otherwise be necessary.

The final and vital merit lies in the Economy. It's the giving possession, to those who desire it, of the artistic and elegant things for the home, without the usual taint of extravagance. We can afford to sell these fine things for less because we do not have to make our entire profit on one class of goods. Every piece of this Arts and Crafts—this Mission Furniture—possesses several dollars' worth of excellence more than the price we ask. We will appreciate the opportunity of showing it to you. Cash or credit buyers—Both are interested.

Local Machine Treachery Was Cause of Rebuke—Pattison and Quay Are in Same Hotel for Awhile.

Senator Quay spent the greater part of the day in Pittsburgh yesterday on his way from his home to Philadelphia. He received several callers, among them leaders of the Allegheny county machine. Incidentally, he reproached some of them for the use they made of his letter, which was printed in yesterday's papers. Chairman A. C. Robertson gave out the letter on Saturday night, saying that a copy had been sent to him and every county committeeman in Allegheny county, leaving the public under the impression that Senator Quay, in speaking of treachery against the Republican ticket, referred to the Citizens party, which has indorsed the Republican state candidates, and not to the efforts of William Flinn, his "muddy water" party and the mysterious "anti-machine" column, which appears on the election ballot and contains the names of the Democratic state candidates.

When the senator asked why this impression had been allowed to go abroad, the ring men grinned and mumbled something about everything being fair in love and war.

Did Not Mean Citizens.

The fact is that the letter sent by the senator to A. C. Robertson and the ring committeemen was a circular letter from State Chairman Quay to every county committeeman in the state. In nearly every county the Ballot Reform party has a column on the official ballot, and it was this treacherous attempt of William Flinn, the boss of the local machine, to which the senator referred when he spoke of traitorous efforts to defeat the Republican state ticket. The advice to vote the straight Republican ticket was intended to apply to those counties in which efforts to down the ticket are made by enemies to Senator Quay and the Republican state organization, and not to efforts of the Citizens party to defeat William Flinn and the Allegheny county machine.

Robert E. Pattison and Senator Quay were only a few yards apart for an hour or so during the day, but neither knew of the other's presence. Mr. Pattison, James Nolan, the Democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs; Congressman J. K. P. Hall and Col. J. E. Spangler arrived from Butler in the morning, and missing their train connection for the east stopped a few hours at the Hotel Henry.

Leaders Under Same Roof.

Senator Quay was at the same hotel for a while, having called on Justice Dean of the Pennsylvania supreme court, an old friend. Mr. Pattison was in his own room at that time, and he and his party came down to luncheon just after the senator left the hotel. Mr. Pattison left in the afternoon for Chester county, where he will speak tonight. Senator Quay went to Philadelphia in the evening.

Mr. Pattison said the outlook for the election of the Democratic state candidates could not be better. He has been in 56 counties of the state so far on his stumping tour, and he was much gratified at the interest displayed by the people. James Nolan is also pleased. Judge J. G. Gordon and Charles Donnelly of Philadelphia, the Democratic leaders there, have said that the Republican majority in Philadelphia would be kept down to 50,000, which meant, in Mr. Nolan's opinion, the election of the Democratic state candidates.

Mr. Pattison had nothing to say regarding the arrest of Representative Hoy of Clarion county on the charge of bribery. He was in Clarion on Saturday, but did not hear of the arrest until after he had left the town. He said he had not read Senator Quay's letter to the Republican county committeemen all over the state, and had therefore no comments to make. Col. James M. Guffey took luncheon and spent several hours with Mr. Pattison and his party.

DROWNS HER CHILD IN FAMILY BATHTUB

Wife of Niagara Falls Business Man, While Insane, Also Attempts Suicide.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 26.—During an attack of acute insanity this morning, Mrs. Daniel Lynch, wife of one of the most prominent business men in this city, drowned her 8-year-old daughter Alice in the bath tub and then made an attempt to end her own life by cutting her throat.

She failed in her attempt to kill herself, and though badly wounded, will recover. While on the operating table at the hospital she calmly told the coroner that she had drowned her child and intended to kill herself.

Mrs. Lynch has been acting queerly since the sudden death of her 10-year-old daughter Mamie.

M'KENNA HOLDS HEARINGS

Greeted By 82 Prisoners After His Two Months' Absence—Some Fines Imposed.

Police Magistrate Bernard McKenna was at the hearings at Central station yesterday morning for the first time since his illness, which necessitated his absence for two months. He had 82 prisoners before him.

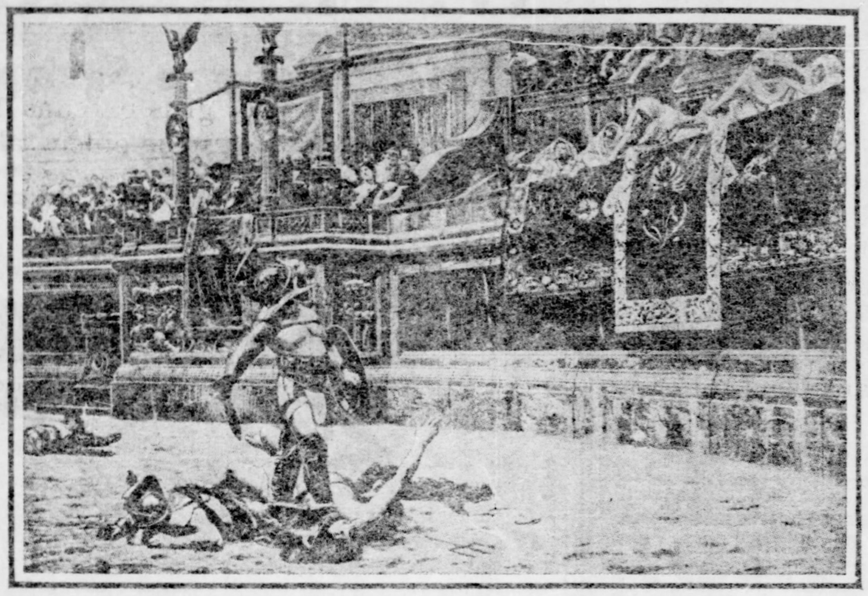
William Gray was fined $25 on a charge of being a suspicious character. Fred Hood was fined $20 on a similar charge. He was alleged to have stolen a coil of rope from a car in the Baltimore & Ohio yards.

Magistrate John H. Armstrong had 17 prisoners at the East End police station yesterday morning. Rube Burrows, a negro claiming St. Louis as his home, was sent six months to the workhouse. He was found on the rear porch of D. J. Brady's residence, No. 5833 Penn street.

At the hearing at No. 7 police station Magistrate David J. McGarey held Mrs. Martha Slinski of South Twenty-fifth street for court trial on a charge of larceny. She was arrested by Inspector William McShane late Saturday night on complaint of Adam Gacka, who alleges she stole an $18 ring from his wife. Yesterday afternoon her husband brought the ring to No. 7 police station. He said his wife told him she found it. Phil Jackwich of No. 1615 Ohio street, Allegheny, and James Stenki of No. 1824 Brownsville avenue, were each fined $10 for an alleged assault on Officer M. J. Halvery.

Albert Metz of Rebecca street, for attempting to kill his mother, was given 60 days, and Samuel Lulan of No. 97 Wilkins street for threatening to cut his wife's throat was sentenced 30 days to the workhouse by Magistrate Henry Hunnesnagen at Allegheny Central station.

GEROME'S GREAT MASTERPIECE IS LOANED FOR THE CARNEGIE INSTITUTE EXHIBIT



"POLLICE VERSO."

Famous among the paintings which will be seen in the loan exhibition at the Carnegie institute art galleries next month will be Jean-Leon Gerome's masterpiece, "Pollice Verso," which has been tendered by Mrs. Henry C. Potter of New York. No picture in the collection has won greater popularity; engravings of the familiar scene in the Roman amphitheater are to be found in almost every home. The trustees of the institute consider themselves especially fortunate in securing the loan of this priceless canvas.

"Pollice Verso" was painted in 1864, at the period when the great artist's brush was giving the world its best work. The canvas is 58 by 39 inches. It teaches a lesson in Roman history that volumes would fail to impart. In execution of detail and in historical accuracy it is unsurpassed by any work of art extant. It shows a battle between giant gladiators, when the mortal combat has reached the climax of fury and intensity. One of the antagonists lies prostrate, and towering above him stands his victor, ready in an instant to plunge his hungry sword into the vitals of the vanquished foeman.

There is a moment of breathless suspense. The helpless champion pleads for mercy. The conqueror glances toward the thousands surrounding him for the verdict. Instantly all thumbs are turned down. It is at this point that the artist has reproduced the battle with such fidelity. The beholder feels the sublimity of the scene, knowing that the gladiator's final thrust will be made. In the original painting all the horror and majesty which Gerome aimed to give his work is eloquently told in the mute story of his brush.

Gerome is still living in Paris. He was elected one of the 14 who compose the French Academy, thus receiving the highest honor that could be bestowed upon a French artist in France. Mrs. Potter secured the picture from the collection of Mrs. A. T. Stewart in New York when that great collection of masters' works was sold several years since.

ARTILLERYMEN ARE HOME AGAIN

Battery B Makes Time Record in Getting Back from Anthracite Region.

SOME GOOD ANECDOTES

Boys Have Fund of Rich Stories As Well As an Excellent Service Record—Horse Race Was Event of Day in Ashland.

Battery B of the national guard arrived from Ashland shortly after midnight yesterday, after a tour of duty in the anthracite coal country. The command left Ashland shortly after the noon meal on Saturday and the trip was made to Pittsburgh in less than 11 hours, including all stops. It took over 20 hours to land the battery in Ashland, but the boys say the Pennsylvania railroad broke all records in bringing the command home.

When East Liberty was reached the command went to work unloading the guns and battery stores. By 5 o'clock in the morning the guns were placed in the army and the stores distributed in their proper receptacles. The men were then dismissed by Capt. W. T. Rees, but the majority of them slept in the armory until daylight, when they scattered and went to their homes.

The trip to Pittsburgh was uneventful outside of the speed of the troop train. The men say they would have liked to have remained in Ashland a few weeks longer, until the miners had returned to work.

Did Good Service.

During the tour of duty the battery did considerable scouting as cavalry. Topographical maps of the country in the neighborhood of Ashland were made and roads plotted by officers. Before leaving, Gen. Wiley congratulated the officers and men of the command, and said that he never saw the battery in such an efficient condition. In speaking of the tour yesterday, Lieut. Clarence H. Powell said: "The tour of service was one of the most satisfactory in the history of the battery, not only to the command, but to the military authorities. The people of Ashland were sorry to see us leave, and so expressed themselves. The men conducted themselves like soldiers and gentlemen, and no complaints were made by the people to the officers of the command. As far as the battery is concerned, the trip has been more of pleasure than distasteful duty."

A funny incident occured shortly after the battery was dismissed in its armory yesterday morning. Private Joseph Reese had an old suit of citizens clothes in the armory, which he donned before starting for home. Slung from his arm was a new pair of government shoes and a three weeks' growth of beard covered his bronzed face. The collar of his campaign shirt was pulled up about his neck, and as he passed up Everett street a policeman grabbed him as a suspicious character.

Policeman Made Blunder.

"Let me go, you blasted fool," cried the private. "I'm no night prowler, but a soldier, and have just got in from the anthracite coal country." The officer and soldier were arguing the matter, when a citizen happened along, who was acquainted with both men, and Private Reese was allowed to proceed.

The boys tell a good story on Lieut. J. S. Purucker. The lieutenant had a very fine horse, which he was continually bragging about in camp. At mess the horse was always dragged into the conversation. At last Capt. Rees questioned the speed of the lieutenant's nag and a race was arranged. Purucker's horse should beat the nag, selected by Capt. Rees, 50 yards at the finish. Capt. Rees then selected the worst plug among the battery horses and Private Charles Francis was chosen as its jockey. The race was the talk of Ashland, and when the day arrived the entire population, headed by the band of the Fifth regiment, turned out to see the race. Lieut. Purucker rode his own horse and amidst the cheers and yells of the people and soldiers the two horses started. All the money in the battery, amounting to about $3, was wagered on the result.

When the finish was reached the plug had beaten the lieutenant's horse by a neck, or according to the agreement about 51 yards. As the battery plug was being taken to the stable the band played "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," while Purucker and his nag were forgotten in the cheers and yells.

MANY GIFTS COMING TO PRESIDENT TODAY

Will Celebrate Forty-Fourth Birthday In Quiet Way at White House.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
THE PITTSBURG GAZETTE BUREAU,
903 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.

President Roosevelt was born in New York city October 27, 1858. He will celebrate the 44th anniversary of his birth in an entirely informal manner tomorrow. Luncheing and dining with such members of his family as are in the city and with a few intimate friends who are yet to be notified that they will be guests.

Unfortunately Mrs. Roosevelt will be absent from the family table, but she will remember the president with a birthday gift.

It has been time-honored custom of the Roosevelt family to exchange presents at Christmas and to give little tokens of remembrance on birthdays. Alice Roosevelt will give her father a piece of her own handiwork, while the other children, after consulting Mrs. Roosevelt, have selected various presents, which they will hand to the president at breakfast tomorrow morning.

The president will spend the day in public business as usual, the birthday celebration being incidental and quietly observed only in the domestic circle.

To Exhibit Many Slides.

The photographic section of the Academy of Science and Art will hold its regular "interchange night" at Carnegie hall tomorrow evening. The feature will be an exhibition of 100 Pan-American slides by the Orange Camera club. The new projecting lantern will be used and the members have been invited to bring slides to have them tested.

Assaulted and Has Jaw Broken.

Simon Wallace of Twenty-sixth street was found by Policeman Michael Sullivan in Fifth avenue, near Brady street, early yesterday. He was cut about the head and face and his jaw was fractured. Wallace claimed he was assaulted by two men with whom he had been drinking. He was sent to the Passavant hospital.

CHAUFFEUR IS SUED.

Mrs. John Molley Wants $5,000 from Herbert A. Marble for Killing Her Husband.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Herbert A. Marble, a chauffeur of New York, who is awaiting trial here on the charge of manslaughter for causing the death of John Molley, in an automobile accident, has been sued for $5,000 damages by Mrs. Molley.

On the night of September 23, Marble in company with H. A. Tuttle and two young men, was driving in an automobile near Wallingford. Molley drove toward them and it is said became confused.

A collision happened and Molley was so badly injured that he died the following morning. Marble is in jail.

There is something wrong if you have a ravenous appetite and yet keep growing weak. Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge removes such condition and brings strength.

A Sideboard Rich and Sumptuous

There is good reason why a suggestion of lavishness should characterize the dining room. It produces on the cultured mind an effect most pleasing and desirable. The best results can be obtained only by the aid of good intuitions and careful study. For always the furniture must be appropriate, even in its least detail, to the uses of the room.

The Sideboard pictured above illustrates this idea of appropriateness. It is a generous, massive affair, made of the best golden oak, 6 feet high, 6 feet wide, and the carving is exquisite. The design is elaborate and satisfying.

Persons who wish to express something of their own individuality in the furnishing of their homes are always able to realize their ideals in this store. And as prices are always an inducement here, such persons invariably come to

GLAD TO GIVE YOU TO SEND YOU SAMPLES.

To the folks out-of-town who cannot come in to get a share of the Housefurnishings described in this advertisement—to the people in town who are boarding and not in need of china and kitchen utensils—and to the housekeepers who save a few dollars by taking advantage of this event and decide to indulge in something new, these items will make good reading:

Black Dress Goods.

Black Broadcloths in rich panne satin finish, 54 inches wide, which dressmakers who weigh their words say equal in weight, finish and every element of excellence the broadcloths others sell for $3.00 a yard. Our price $2.00.

Black Zibelines—the fabric most in demand just now—pure mohair and wool—52 inches wide—"swell" goods for skirts and suits with a "distingue" air—as low as $1.25 a yard. Better grades at various prices up to $3.00 yard.

Melrose Natte—a 54-inch medium-weight cloth, with wiry finish, that will neither crease nor crinkle—or hold the dust. Isn't such a cloth well worth $1.25 a yard? Only $1.00 a yard at Campbell's, remember.

Colored Dress Goods

Flaked Suitings—the most eligible fall material for swell suits and skirts—black, blue, green, and brown grounds, in pretty white flecked effects. These start at $1.25 a yard with various grades up to $3.00 a yard.

Walstings.—We speak advisedly and with a full knowledge of the situation when we say that the display of Walstings in silk-corded and striped effects are unsurpassed—are unequaled in the excellence of styles and the beauty of the color combinations. See what we offer at 59c a yard.

Silks and Velvets.

Things don't "just happen" in stores. At the counters where crowds are the regular thing, splendid values are the rule. Everybody knows that a crowded silk counter is an every-day matter at Campbell's.

Black Silk Crepe de Chenes—We're showing a beautiful line of brocaded black silk crepe de chene in pretty flowered designs, with small vines running through it—a most charming effect for a gown or a waist—Prices $1.00 and $1.25 a yard.

Black Taffetas—The kind we commend to you bear the words "Warranted to Wear" woven in the selvage. It is 27 inches wide and has the soft, rustling finish so much in demand. It sells for $1.00 a yard.

Colored Peau de Soies.—These washable fabrics with the new lustrous finish are particularly well suited for dresses and waists. The colors are old rose, tan, red, French blue, reseda green, etc. Only 89c a yard.

Plaid Silks—Come in the most charming clan and Taffeta effects in the pretty color combinations of green-and-blue or blue-and green—either in Louisine or Taffeta silks. Price $1.00 a yard.

Silk-Finished Corduroys—These we have in the stylish shades of golden brown, castor, tan, leaf green, navy, French blue, etc. The new hollow-cut effects are the novelty most in favor. Price $1.00 yard.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO MAKE FIGHT

Twentieth Century Leads Battle Against Pennsylvania's Point Plans.

OTHERS WILL LEND AID

Secret Meeting Held Last Week to Start Movement—2500 Club Women to Take Part—Attack Will Begin in City Councils.

All the women's clubs of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and suburban towns will aid the Daughters of the American Revolution to fight the proposed erection of elevated tracks, new warehouses and a large freight station at the Point by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the warehouse syndicate.

The ordinances which were recently introduced into Pittsburgh councils will be vigorously fought by the club women. The recent victory won in the local courts by the Daughters of the American Revolution against the warehouse syndicate, in its attempt to get possession of the blockhouse site, has inspired the club women with confidence, and the battle which will be waged by the women against the Pennsylvania railroad will be stubborn.

The movement among the women was started last week at a secret meeting of the members of the Twentieth Century club, one of the leading women's clubs of the state. At that meeting it was decided to ask the other women's clubs in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and suburban towns to join in the fight, and the presidents of these organizations have all been notified of the action.

All Will Help in Battle.

While no official replies have been received by the Twentieth Century club from other women's clubs on the subject, many prominent members have signified their intentions of having their organizations act favorably on the proposition, and it is expected that there will not be one dissenting club.

About 35 women's clubs are in existence in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and suburban towns within a radius of 30 miles of the city limits. Many of these organizations have a large membership. Several of the larger clubs have at least 500 names on their roster, and it is estimated that fully 2,500 women belong to these clubs.

The women of the Twentieth Century club are possibly the most enthusiastic on the subject. This club has already declared war against the railroad company, and with the assistance of the other women's clubs will carry on the fight.

Committees from other city and out-of-town clubs will, in all probability, be appointed to confer with the officers of the Twentieth Century club and a special committee of from 25 to 50 members appointed to carry into execution the plans formed.

Will Make Bitter Fight.

Counsel will be engaged and when the report of the committee appointed to examine the new ordinances is received in councils the women will be prepared to file their first formal protests. Resolutions will be drawn up by every club and presented to councils.

In the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Sewickley clubs especially are the wives of many of the most prominent Pennsylvania railroad officials in Pittsburgh, and the action of the clubs may cause some ill-feeling and trouble in the organizations.

Among the leading members of the Twentieth Century club are: Mrs. Omar Scott Decker, a daughter of Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad; Mrs. James McCrea, wife of James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, and Mrs. Joseph Wood, wife of Joseph Wood, second vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west.

None of these women attended the secret meeting of the Twentieth Century club, which was held last week, although they had separate invitations to do so.

TOMS ASSERTS THAT HIS RAZOR SLIPPED

The Neighbors, However, Believe That Gash in His Throat Was Attempt at Suicide.

Alonzo Toms, a baker, was removed to the Homeopathic hospital yesterday with a gaping wound in his throat. The neighbors say Toms tried to commit suicide, but the family said it was an accident. Several stitches were taken in the wound, and at the hospital it was said last night that the injury was not fatal.

Toms and his wife moved on Saturday night into the house of his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. S. Toms, in Joels lane, near Sycamore street, Mt. Washington. Toms had been discharged on Thursday from the South Side hospital, where he had been under treatment for hernia.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock Toms got his razor out and said he was going to shave. Suddenly he was heard to call for help, and his little niece, Laura Toms, ran into the room and saw her uncle writhing on the floor, with the blood streaming from a wound in the throat. His sister-in-law was alarmed by the little girl and tried to hold Toms down on the floor, as he was thrashing about as if in great pain. A neighbor was summoned and held the man until Dr. Leon Thurston arrived. Toms explained that the pain of the rupture had come upon him suddenly and the razor slipped, cutting a wide gash in his throat just beneath the Adam's apple. He was taken to the hospital at noon.

MORGAN AT PIER.

Goes to Meet One of Distinguished Party of Tourists from Europe on Celtic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Bearing a large number of persons who are prominent in the world's affairs, the big Celtic made port today. Among the voyagers was William C. Whitney.

"I have retired from politics," Mr. Whitney said quickly in reply to a question on the political situation.

The Whitney party was greeted by J. P. Morgan, who had come to the pier to meet Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Markoe and Mrs. W. P. Douglas. Douglas Robinson, a brother-in-law of President Roosevelt, was there to meet James K. Gracie, an uncle of the president.

Ring Headquarters Scorched.

The Nineteenth Ward Republican headquarters, in the Wallace building at Center and Sheridan avenues, was badly scorched last night by the third fire that has visited the building within the last year. The blaze was quickly extinguished. W. P. Moreland's real estate office, in an adjoining room, was slightly damaged.

Service for Old Folks.

An interesting service was held yesterday morning in the Shady Park Methodist Episcopal church, North Braddock, when about 45 old people, ranging from 58 to 75 years of age, occupied special seats. The Rev. Titus Lowe, the pastor, preached a special sermon on "Light at Eventide."

Chamberlain Going South.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—It is officially announced that Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has decided personally to visit South Africa in November to examine the problems presented by affairs in the new colonies.

SIAM'S PRINCE WON'T GRACE FOUNDER'S DAY

Declines Invitation of Col. J. H. Church to Be an Honor Guest.

His royal highness, Chowfa Maha Vajiravudh, crown prince of Siam, will not be an honor guest for the Founder's Day celebration, November 6. He has sent to Col. Samuel H. Church, secretary of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institute, a letter of appreciation at the invitation, but regretting that the itinerary of his western trip is so arranged that he will have only one day to spend in Pittsburg, which will be devoted to visits to leading industrial plants, as the guest of Francis J. Torrance.

Mr. Torrance yesterday received a telegram from Edward H. Loftus, secretary of the Siamese legation at Washington, explaining that his royal highness will not alter his program providing for only a day in Pittsburgh, although he regrets missing Founder's Day.

Prince Chowfa is due to arrive in Pittsburg over the Pennsylvania railroad Wednesday morning, November 5, at 8:45 o'clock. The day will be devoted to sightseeing at the Westinghouse works at East Pittsburgh, the Allegheny works of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, a glass factory and possibly the Homestead steel works, this sight-seeing to be interrupted only with luncheon at the Monongahela club at noon.

TRIBUTE WAS PAID TO ARCHER'S MEMORY

Symposium of His Favorites and Compositions Pealed From Organ at Church of Ascension.

The memory of Frederic Archer was tendered an honored tribute yesterday by the congregation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension. From the great organ, whose keys had responded so often to the touch of the master, many of Archer's favorite compositions were heard.

At the morning service the Rev. Dr. R. W. Grange, the rector, spoke of the services of Mr. Archer. He recalled the fact that a year had elapsed since the famous organ master had been called away. In the congregation were many strangers who had attended Mr. Archer's recitals at Carnegie Music hall, and went to the church to add their tribute of respect.

Last night's services were made memorable by the offertory sung by Miss Henrietta Keil. The composition was by Archer and set to the words of the familiar hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light." It was written for the funeral of the late Senator C. L. Magee and was heard again at the burial services of the composer.

The program included the two famous anthems by Mr. Archer, "The Glorious Majesty of the Lord" and the "Ransomed Spirit," the anthem, "Blest Are the Departed," by Spohr, which was sung by a quartet and chorus; the recessional hymn by Napier, and many of Mr. Archer's best works. Edward J. Napier, organist and choirmaster of the Church of the Ascension, presided at the organ.

SERVICES ARE POPULAR.

Large Crowd Attends the Afternoon Meeting at the Bijou Theater.

Attractive religious services, of which the instrumental and vocal music and an address by the Rev. S. Edward Young were the features, drew to the Bijou theater yesterday afternoon an audience that occupied every seat in the house and almost every foot of standing room.

Rocereto's orchestra was the main musical attraction, assisted by Benjamin F. Butts, who rendered a number of solos and led the congregational singing. The soft notes of the orchestra, the powerful, mellow voice of Prof. Butts and an eloquent appeal by Mr. Young made an impression that was apparent by the numerous hands raised when the speaker invited his hearers to signify their desire to change their life.

An impressive feature of the services was the rendition of "Holy City," the orchestra playing the first stanza of the hymn, Prof. Butts singing the second stanza and the congregation joining in on the last part. Mr. Young's address was an earnest exhortation for his hearers to develop the latent powers and qualities God had given them.

HAVE NEWELL CHECK.

Hotel Thieves Arrested in Binghampton Probably Worked Here.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Two hotel thieves were placed under arrest in this section for having robbed hostelries throughout the country. They were identified as James W. McDonnell and James A. Darling, both of whom have a national reputation. They robbed a sample room at the Rathbun in Elmira and coming to this city pawned some of the goods, among them being valises from all parts of the country.

The men had goods marked with a stamp of Newells Hotel in Pittsburgh and a check for a valise left at that place. The Pittsburgh police have been asked to investigate.

ARE READY TO BUILD.

Corner Stone of First Reformed Church, Homestead, Placed Yesterday.

The corner stone of the First Reformed church, Homestead, was laid yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was conducted under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. M. M. Noecker. The principal addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh of Pittsburg, and the Rev. W. C. Weaver of Homestead. A number of other pastors also spoke.

The Homestead congregation is a new one, and this is its first house of worship. The mission from which the church grew was formed by the Rev. A. K. Kline, pastor of the Braddock church, five years ago. The congregation was aided by the Allegheny classis of the Reformed church. The church will cost $5,000.

To Organize Valley Irishmen.

Leading Irishmen of Wilmerding and the Turtle Creek valley, are active in the movement to organize a branch of the United Irish League of Western Pennsylvania. A meeting will be held this week in Braddock and will be in charge of Attorney Edward F. Duffy of Braddock, president of the Western Pennsylvania league.

BIG GAS DEAL REPORTED OFF

Standard Oil Co. Does Not Want Wheeling Gas Co. at $5,280,000.

TOO HIGH FOR OTHERS

Options Held by George Heard Are Expected to Be Allowed to Lapse, His Own Company Not Having Considered a Deal.

The big deal for the transfer of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company to the Hope Natural Gas Company, one of the many underlying properties of the Standard Oil Company, is reliably reported to have fallen through. The Standard people are said to have been offered the property at $88 the share of par value of $25. This would have made the purchase price for the Standard $5,280,000, covering all the increased stock issue of the Wheeling Company, which is $1,500,000, at par. At the same time the Wheeling Company people are said to have given the option to President George Heard of the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia at the rate of $85 a share, which would aggregate $5,100,000.

The deal with the Standard people was dropped because the price was regarded as too high. The property of the Wheeling company is a good earner, the stock now paying dividends at the rate of 12 per cent, but the enormous premium put on the stock has stayed any purpose of the Standard people to enter a deal. The Wheeling company has its entire patronage in manufacturing concerns and the price paid for gas by these is considerably less than that paid by domestic consumers.

May Not Renew Options.

When wells were brought in by the Standard that company did not care to enter further into the natural gas trade, and has on this account disposed of these wells, but just recently the matter of acquiring the Wheeling company property was seriously considered.

Today is expected to determine what is to become of the Wheeling company, and it is quite unlikely that Mr. Heard will have his options renewed. Under its terms the property is costing too much to be inviting to any of the larger producing interests which could readily handle a $5,000,000 deal. The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, which in its purchase of the Tri-State company, secured what is regarded as the most prolific and best-paying properties of the present gas development, is not considered in the Wheeling deal. This company now has more gas than is required for its service lines and its next move will be to extend them. These extensions include new lines from the Washington county fields to Homestead and other near boroughs and a network through the East End.

Manufacturers Has Enough.

What the Manufacturers company will do with its additional stock in the proposed increase from $5,000,000 to $12,000,000 is now problematic, aside from the purpose of heavy expenditure in extending service lines. The company has plans concerning other properties, but the officials are not discussing this, and those in position to talk are now out of the city. At the time the Manufacturers took up the Tri-State the Wheeling company was considered, but at a much lower figure than the Heard option.

The Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, of which George Heard is president, is not considering the options on the Wheeling company held by Mr. Heard. This company supplies most of its gas to the more profitable consuming trade, the residue only going to the manufacturing plants. Besides, it is understood not to be ready to undertake a $5,000,000 deal. The Natural company has a capital issue of $1,000,000. Its directors have not even considered the Heard option on the Wheeling company. The Philadelphia Company is officially stated to have no interest in the option on the Wheeling company. The same is true of the Fort Pitt Gas Company, one of the remaining independent interests of importance.

STRUCK A TARTAR.

Stella Ray Resorted to the Manly Art and Put Officers on the Defensive.

Mrs. Stella Ray, colored, 35 years old, of Jones avenue, was landed in No. 3 police station early yesterday morning by Officer Battle Keys, after a hard fight. Mrs. Ray had been drinking Saturday night and went to Penn avenue, where she started a fight with another woman. The unknown woman escaped.

Kays attempted to arrest Mrs. Ray and she grappled with him, pulling off his badge and tearing his coat, collar and the bosom of his shirt. The woman was getting the best of it, and Kays butted her, knocking her down. He then sat upon her until another officer arrived and sent for the patrol wagon. In the wagon and also at the station house she continued her fight, and a number of policemen were considerably bruised. Yesterday morning Magistrate J. V. McMasters sentenced her to the workhouse for six months.

Printers Accept Compromise.

International Typographical union, No. 321, of Connellsville, has settled its wage controversy with employers. The demand was for a rate of 25 cents an hour and was compromised to make a rate of 23 cents rule till March 1, after which the 25-cent rate goes into effect. The settlement was arranged by President T. H. Dolan of the Pittsburgh Printing Trades Alliance, and a general organizer of the International Typographical union, and W. R. Jones and J. R. O'Neal, local officers at Connellsville.

TWELVE PAGES.

American supremacy is a fact of which the people of the United States are proud and the nations of the world are painfully aware. Great Britain was first among the powers to acknowledge the North American republic as being in the first class industrially and politically. Its recognition was as graceful as such things may be. The segments of continental Europe have practically been forced to admit the truth unwillingly. Most of them have done so despairingly.

There is one notable exception. That is Germany. While admitting the fact, Germany does not regard the race as forever lost. On the contrary, it is incited to greater efforts to keep pace with the giant of the western world, is rapidly closing the commercial gap between itself and Great Britain and increasing its lead over other European countries. Carrying an enormous burden in the form of a military establishment, handicapped by a poor soil and lack of crude resources, Germany is applying exact science to the problems of industry and commerce with the result of increasing both yearly. It has substituted thorough training and method for natural advantages with marked profit.

Within a generation chemistry has given Germany 231 new branches of industry. During the same period that branch of science has conferred untold benefit upon existing industries, supplying the textile workers with dyes and processes; the steel workers with combinations; the artisans with new agents. Every important works has chemists of its own; the government supports laboratories; the masters of wealth give of their substance to encourage scientific research. Such a commanding position have the German chemists attained that their services are sought in England and America to work out problems that may be successfully attacked only by men of most thorough training.

Chemistry is not the only science in which German thoroughness has become conspicuous. Microscopy has reached its greatest development there. It has played its part in advancing German industrial and commercial interests, side by side with chemistry, while both have contributed greatly to the advance of medicine. Engineering and technical training there have been carried to a thoroughness hardly attempted elsewhere. Not by accident, but by careful design, have the German schools trained their pupils so carefully in the physical branches, all with the object of building up trade and increasing the strength of the nation. To the same end has the government and wealthy individuals provided for post-graduate education and original investigation.

In the United States the development has been the opening of a new country; the discovery of rich resources; the meeting of emergencies and the conquering of vast forces; the annihilation of distances; the invention of new tools to work with. The training has been in the school of affairs, producing the captains of industry, with all of a general's grasp, promptitude, energy and decision. No doubt the pioneer conditions have evolved the highest type, the men who can decide on the instant what is to be done in a new situation; the men who create new monsters to delve and carry. But at the same time the abundance of natural riches has encouraged wasteful methods that will have to be abandoned for the welfare of succeeding generations and an increasing population. There will be less room, presently, for the giants to exercise in; more need for the careful winnowers who follow the robust reapers. The ready initiative will need to be backed by the thought that takes care of the details.

The United States has reached that stage where technical and scientific training of its young men is essential to a continuance of its world mastery. Not the mere teaching of elementary chemistry and mineralogy, or the broad lines of engineering, but that painstaking training that results in scientific accuracy, full knowledge of details, intimate knowledge of materials and absolute certainty of calculations. The time has come when the men of great wealth can confer a blessing upon humanity by making it possible for scientists to pursue independent investigations for the love of them; when great corporations will find it profitable to invest in pure science as they do in Germany. Such wealth as has been created by invading the wilderness and conquering the forces of nature may be doubled by saving, converting and utilizing the waste products of wholesale industry; by the investigation of materials and the discovery of hidden properties. Magnificent as has been the record of the pioneers in adapting the material at hand to useful purposes, there are equal possibilities in creating material that will add to the acquisitions of mankind.

An English authority has estimated that it will require two generations at least to secure in Great Britain the methodical accuracy that has already been attained in Germany. That is likely true. In the meantime Germany will have forged to the front. English conservatism is slow to abandon old ways. In America, however, we may accomplish the desired thing in less time. We have the advantage of having no fixed ideas or set ways. It is only necessary that the American people become convinced that careful training offers equal rewards with pioneer discovery and the next generation will be busy along the new lines. We have no fear for the American in the race with the German when he once begins to run. His only danger is in in finding himself so far ahead as to fall into the belief that he need not exert himself. A little thought given to the commercial statistics of the world for the past 30 years will act as a spur to effort. In 1870, Great Britain was so clearly first in manufactures and commerce that Englishmen did not even dream of its supremacy being questioned. France was second. Then came the Franco-Prussian war that put France out of the competition. The United States was floundering in the slough of despond following the tremendous stimulation of its civil war. Gradually the United German empire laid the foundations for scientific effort. Gradually its trade and industry increased. The United States advanced periodically by leaps and bounds. Today the United States is undisputably in first place, while Great Britain and Germany are struggling desperately for second, and Germany is winning. All along the odds of natural advantages have been against Germany. Nothing but scientific training and thoroughness could have won success for it. What may not those qualities, added to richest resources, do for the United States?

CLEVELAND'S FREE SOUP RACE.

The reappearance of Grover Cleveland in the political game with an eye to 1904 may be considered as heralded to the world in the announcement that he will on Thursday night address a Democratic mass meeting in Morristown, N. J., for the purpose of aiding in the effort to re-elect Representative Dewitt C. Flanagan to congress. It is related that when Mr. Flanagan was asked by Cleveland as to his platform, and replied, "The same as yours in 1892," the former president at once responded, "Then I will speak for you." Workingmen remember 1892 and the enactment of legislation that gave force to the Democratic platform of that year, and they remember even better what followed. Cleveland's platform in 1892 was free trade, and it was followed by free soup. The mills were closed and the soup houses were opened. In consenting to speak for Mr. Flanagan on Thursday night, Mr. Cleveland is inspired by the same principles as in 1892, and will speak for them in advocating the re-election of Flanagan. The Wilson-Gorman tariff reduction bill in its final form was not so bad as the measure of free trade Mr. Cleveland wanted, though it was bad enough, as workingmen will recall. It didn't realize the full promise of the platform of 1892 on which Mr. Cleveland again appears before the people. Therefore, if Cleveland's hopes of 1892 and now can be realized, the result will be an appalling shock to national prosperity.

Mr. Cleveland is at least honest. In reappearing in politics he does not mask his batteries. He is not preparing an ambush. He lets us know what to expect, and to be forewarned is to be forearmed. In a recent letter he advised Democrats to make a contest for control of congress with readjustment of the tariff for their platform. He now steps from the political retirement of which he boasted some months ago at the so-called harmony dinner in New York to become the tariff adjustment leader of the Democratic party, with the platform of 1892 as the promise for 1904. However, the United States has had its lesson. It prefers the mills to the soup houses.

The reappearance of Cleveland in politics is of significance in these last days of the Pennsylvania campaign. Each time Cleveland has been elected president of the United States Pattison preceded him in the governorship of Pennsylvania. Pattison is again a candidate for governor, and Cleveland feels encouraged to let people know that he still lives. But this isn't a Pattison year, nor will 1904 be a Cleveland year. The Pattison-Cleveland combination appeared once too often for the good of the people.

DANGER POINTS.

While all signs indicate Republican victory at the November election there are points that need to be guarded and strengthened to make the victory complete. It is essential to the success of Republican policies that there be not only a Republican majority, but a large one in the next congress, and to this end it is important that no district in Pennsylvania be lost to the party. Pennsylvania cannot afford to chill Republican enthusiasm and arouse apprehension by any backward step. There ought to be a gain in Republican representation from Pennsylvania instead of a loss. Nevertheless, there are danger points and Republicans in these last days of the campaign need to be up and doing.

In the new Twenty-third congressional district, composed of Fayette, Somerset and Greene counties, the Democrats have nominated for congress one of their strongest men, and he is making an active campaign. Mr. Kennedy is the general superintendent of the Frick Coke Company, and in the effort of the Democrats to elect him to congress over a Republican they are attributing to him all the benefits conferred on the coke region and its workmen through and by the corporation with which he is connected. The intended effect of this on the minds of the workingmen of the district is to make him stronger than his party. Yet, Mr. Kennedy, if elected, will represent in congress and vote for the policies of the Democratic party that are subversive of the prosperity of the coke region, and he will vote against the policies of the Republican party that are at the basis of that prosperity. Whatever personal worth and popularity he possesses should not be permitted to weigh in the balance against these facts. The Republican nominee is A. F. Cooper of Uniontown. He represents the principles and policies of William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt, which opened the mills that had been closed under the administration of Grover Cleveland; which stimulated industry so greatly that new mills had to be erected, and which in this way created a demand for coke that has since kept employed all the labor of the coke country at constantly increasing rates of wages. Mr. Kennedy, on the other hand, represents the principles and policies of Grover Cleveland and a Democratic congress, the enforcement of which closed the mills and killed a demand for coke, giving coke workers and other workers the worst times they ever saw in the United States. The workers in the coke region do not want a return of such times, and to guard against another such calamity should vote for the Republican nominee for congress.

Another danger point in Western Pennsylvania is the Twenty-fourth congressional district, where the Hon. Ernest F. Acheson has a moral title to the Republican nomination, though without legal right to have his name appear in the party column of the official ballot. Republican success is here menaced by the circumstance that the Dauphin county court decided there had been no legal nomination for congress by the Republicans of the district, thus leaving a vacancy on the ticket for congress, with two Republicans running on nomination papers, Mr. Acheson and Mr. J. H. Cunningham of Beaver county. Hence there is confusion, and peril to Republican representation. Republicans of the Twenty-fourth congressional district have a difficult problem. With two candidates running they have no name in the party column. They cannot elect two men to congress and should not let a Democrat slip in between the two. They should decide to unite their strength for one candidate, and, as between Acheson and Cunningham, Acheson is clearly entitled to their support. He submitted his claims to a popular vote and was approved by nearly 7,000 majority. He, therefore, stands as the choice of the majority of the Republicans of the district for the nomination for congress, and because of his services in congress to his state and district he ought to be elected by a big majority. His election is largely a matter of properly marking the official ballot. The Republican who votes his party ticket in the Twenty-fourth district must also mark the name of Acheson and make no mistake about it.

There is need for hard work from now until the election by Republicans of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth congressional districts, and of vigilance on election day if these two Republican districts are to be counted in the Republican column in the next congress.

ONE BAR TO PROMPT WORK.

Attorney General Knox's report on the title of the Panama canal leaves but one bar to the rapid completion of that project—the political turmoil in Colombia. The revolutionary struggle now going on has prevented the recognized government from concluding a treaty with the United States, enabling it to take possession of the Panama property, and should the revolution be accomplished there may be serious difficulties in the negotiation of terms. Governments in Central America are largely dominated by mercenary considerations, and the present status of American interest in the Isthmian canal project might seem to offer an inducement to a new government to drive a hard bargain.

There is a way out besides taking up again with the less desirable Nicaragua route. It is to take over the French company concessions, take possession of the property and declare jurisdiction over the territory. Of course, there will be some to declaim against such a harsh policy as one of oppression of the weak. It is not a course to be advocated by preference, but will be justified as a last resort. The United States stands ready to make fair terms with Colombia and to give reasonable compensation. But if Colombia stands arrogantly in the way of progress, declines its own advantage, and denies the convenience of the world's commerce, what is to be done? What would be done in the family of individuals if one member developed such a recalcitrant disposition everybody knows. The rule will apply to the family of nations.

In fact, the safety of the Central and South American republics depends upon the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine by the United States. That protection involves the responsibility for exercising police powers in the western hemisphere. Those powers include, or ought to include, the enforcement of whatever is unquestionably for the good of all concerned, and the Isthmian canal comes in that category. It is of vital import to the future of the Latin American states as well as to that of the United States.

MIGHT AND RIGHT.

Two cartoons of peculiar significance are reproduced from German publications in the current number of the Literary Digest. One, from a Berlin journal, is labeled, "The Flight from the Cossacks on Germany's Frontier." It represents a German soldier stopping a family party heading away from the German territory adjacent to Russia in what looks like an old-time prairie schooner. "Halt!" commands the soldier. "Where are you going?" "To Haiti," is the reply, "to be nearer Germany's protecting power." The other cartoon, taken from a Munich journal, shows the head of a German fraulein, her tongue licking an unmistakably Russian boot, into the top of which is stuck the butt end of a knout, its knotted lashes mingling with the fraulein's hair. This cartoon is entitled "German-Russian Relations." The Berlin publication is named "Ulk," the Munich publication "Jugend."

What does it mean? In other than German publications these cartoons would be attacks on Germany, and Germans would resent them as such. In German publications they are not attacks on Germany. But if not attacks on Germany, they must be attacks on the policy in international matters of Germany's rulers. They imply, therefore, no disloyalty to the Fatherland, and the animating motive may be a spirit of the purest patriotism, the manner of its expression being intended to goad the government on to nobler deeds. The attitude of Germany toward Russia, it is evident from the cartoons, is not satisfactory to some Germans. They see frontier aggressions on the part of Russia; they see German residents near the boundary with wrongs administered by Russian hands unrighted by German might, and Germany, instead, in an attitude of subserviency. In contrast is the speedy punishment of Haitian violators of German rights. They perhaps want Russia dealt with as summarily as Haiti. The pictures were "made in Germany" and intended only for German eyes, but the United States may, perhaps, learn something from them with a bearing on the relation of German enterprise in South America to the Monroe doctrine and the respective growths of the German and American navies. In international relations might may not make right, but it is at times substituted for it.

Preliminary to the big chrysanthemum show at the Phipps conservatory, Mr. Frick yesterday permitted a view of his beautiful private collection. Next Sunday will open the annual exhibition in Schenley park and the assurance that it will be the finest that has yet been given can be easily believed. Each display has been better than that of the year before, which is a pledge that each succeeding year will maintain the record of constant improvement. No one would feel keener disappointment over failure to achieve greater heights of excellence than the master in charge of the city's flower show, under whose able guidance the Phipps conservatory is a liberal educator in floriculture and a constant delight.

Union of the women's clubs against the Pennsylvania's elevated railroad project will cause trouble, but can hardly prevent so great an improvement as the release of Liberty street from the obstructing tracks and the betterment of traffic facilities. Old Fort Pitt may be moved, but it cannot be allowed to stand in the way of progress.

Clarion is a county of well established Democratic majorities, but it looks as if Representative Hoy, candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket, has some reason to walk the floor from now until the votes are counted.

In predicting 21,000 plurality for Odell for governor of New York, and giving the national house of representatives to the Republicans by a narrow margin, the New York Herald probably does not concede more than the election results will show.

It is comforting to learn that James R. Keene of Wall street says the business outlook is bright, but it is even more comforting to know that it really is so.

GOTHAM ENJOYS INDIAN SUMMER

Thoughts of Coal Famine Quickly Melt Away Under Warm Sun.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.

One of the most beautiful Sundays New York has seen this fall is drawing to a close as this letter is telegraphed to The Gazette. While there is not an unlimited supply of coal in the city, no one has felt the want of it today. It is said that no newly-mined anthracite has yet reached here, and dealers are declaring that they cannot deliver coal with profit at less than $10 or $12 a ton. Two weeks ago such a statement would have been of sharp interest; today no one has cared what the price of fuel may be, for the simple reason that it has been too warm and pleasant to arouse longings for artificial heat. The sun has been shining all day, and the breath of a true Indian summer has been over everything. The churches were crowded this morning. New Yorkers are a church going class, on the whole, and they like to walk to their respective places of worship. Street car lines and the "L" carry many churchgoers, of course, and even the suburban trains bring in hundreds who like to worship in metropolitan churches, instead of their own villages and towns. But persons living in New York generally contrive to attend a church within walking distance of their homes, and the walk is regarded as a particularly pleasant part of the regular pious duty. Everyone has heard of the church parade in Fifth avenue. Although many of the swagger set who used to walk to church along the fashionable thoroughfares, have now ceased to show themselves there, there are enough of the bourgeoisie still clinging to the old tradition to make Fifth avenue a spectacular parade ground on a bright Sunday morning. Multi-millionaires who affect aristocratic ways do not like to take part in any demonstration in which they may be compelled to rub shoulders with the proletariat, and for that reason one does not meet Astors, Goelets or even Vanderbilts in Fifth avenue on Sunday morning. You may see young John D. Rockefeller and Helen Gould, both rich persons, but not the set that fills the grand parterre at the Metropolitan on Rosz'ke or Calve nights. Leaving these all out, however, it was a fine Sunday in New York today.

School Girls Take Elevator.

There is only one elevator for passengers on the "L" system in New York. That is at West One Hundred and Sixteenth street, and it is kept busy at all times, day and night. It is said that patrons of the road living in the Harlem district paid for the installation of the elevator, on condition that the railway company would maintain it, and on those terms the elevator has been going for 10 years or so. The elevator man says that he never has been busier than this fall. He lays that fact to the opening of a new high school in One Hundred and Fourteenth street, and the consequent rush of young girls belonging to that establishment. There are stations on the "L" at West Twenty-third and East Fifty-ninth, where an "escalator" helps people to the higher level of the railway, but none except West One Hundred and Sixteenth street where a regular old-fashioned elevator is provided. There are plenty of stations where an elevator would be a great comfort, however.

Big Income from Small Ground.

An indication of the value of some site in New York was the renting last week of the northwest corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-fifth street, a remodelled four-story building on a lot 25x100 feet, on terms which mean $37,000 per annum for three years. At 5 per cent this makes the 25-foot house worth $740,000, or nearly $30,000 a front foot.

Enterprise Poorly Rewarded.

Five enterprising fellows have just been held for trial, charged with stealing 70 chests of tea, valued at $1,000, from a steamship lying in the East river. When one reads of such a case it makes the old story of the burglar walking off with the red hot stove and family bulldog seem hardly worth the telling.

Uncle Russ Long Time Dying.

It was a dull week on 'change, and brokers played more than the usual number of monkey-shines, to while away the time. One of the jokes telephoned to the different offices was: "Russell Sage has been elected president of the Staten Island Dyeing Company." It is said that no one enjoyed this witticism more than Uncle Russell himself, who is still far from being a dying man at this writing.

Coler Defies Hill.

Bird S. Coler is proving that he cannot be muzzled by D. B. Hill by talking to reporters whenever they can catch him. He has not said anything of importance so far, but he can deliver platitudes with an impressiveness that seem to stamp him a born politician. Hill makes no comment, but his friends say he is keeping a close watch on the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, and would be ready to put the brakes on if "Birdie" should talk too much.

Apples, Apples, Everywhere!

Down by the rivers, where freighters are loaded for Europe, there is a splendid aroma of apples just now. This fruit, which is particularly abundant all over America this year, is brought from many points to be shipped from New York, and one can see thousands of barrels of apples along West and Water streets, and in the side streets where commission houses are numerous. The entire apple crop of this country is said to be 43,000,000 barrels, against 27,000,000 last year, and one can easily believe these figures when one walks through the fruit district down town.

Settlements Provide Enjoyment.

The managers of the East Side "settlements" believe in all kinds of recreations for their protegees, provided they are kept within reasonable bounds. So at the "House settlement" in Seventy-sixth street, down by the East river, which is one of the most successful in the city, there was a dance last night, and a rattling good time for people who would not have been enjoying themselves in such wholesome fashion had they been left to themselves. There was dancing from 8:45 until 11:45, with decent intervals for refreshments, and everyone got to bed in time to get up for church this morning. That is the way these "settlement" sociables are always managed.

Long Hair and Chrysanthemums.

New York is football mad. There was a general rush of New Yorkers to Princeton yesterday, to witness the great match between Columbia and Princeton, but most of them got back to Broadway in the evening, and the city was full of college men from several universities, chrysanthemums and football jargon. Many football visitors are still in the city, although they did not appear in numbers until this afternoon and evening.

Links vs. Gridiron.

Golf and football are in a death struggle at this season of the year. The lovers of the royal Scottish game are loth to give up their links, even with the gridiron to take its place, while the average football enthusiast cannot see how anyone can care for golf when the football season has arrived. It is a noticeable fact that there is always a preponderance of golfers in the spectators of a football match, suggesting that the activity, and thew and sinew which count for so much on the gridiron are matters of sympathetic admiration for the heroes of the tee, bunker and putting green.

Need of Technical Lawyer.

Plasterers are still on strike in this city, and several big buildings are at a standstill in consequence. The peculiar aspect of this strike is that it does not concern wages or hours of labor, but merely technical questions that, on the surface, look as if they could be answered easily. The employers think they can, and the workmen hope so. The propositions of the employers will be submitted to the men on Tuesday evening, and it is hoped that by Wednesday or Thursday morning work will be resumed. New York has had about all the strikes it wants, what with tailors, carpenters, piano polishers and about a score of other trades having been on strike off and on in the last year, to say nothing of the coal strike which has affected everybody.

Poisoner Finds Valuable Dogs.

When prize dogs can be poisoned in their kennels in bench shows as important as that in Madison Square garden last week, it may be truly said that no dog's life is safe in this city. Two valuable bulldogs were found dead in their stalls yesterday morning, and the veterinarian who examined them pronounced the poison strychnine. There is an investigation afoot, of course, but even if the poisoner is discovered it would be little consolation to the owners. The dogs were each worth a small fortune.

Now "Apple Mary" Appears.

The value of a trade mark is suggested down in the criminal court building, in Center street, where there is still an "Apple Mary," although the original "Apple Mary" has been dead for a year or two. The quaint old Irishwoman had sold apples about the courts, and in City Hall park for a generation and more, and had numbered among her customers jurists of international fame, besides thousands of lawyers that she saw develop from office boys to positions high in the profession. Everyone knew "Apple Mary," and there was genuine sorrow when she died. But, lo, here is another "Apple Mary," as Irish and as good natured as the original, and when this one dies, no doubt there will be another to take her place. The distinctive title is too precious to be allowed to die out, while there is any business sagacity left in the average Celt.

Business, But Also Horses.

A score or two of Pittsburghers left New York last night for home. They had been down here on business of various kinds, but one of the matters some of them at least gave attention to was the races at Morris park. The weather was glorious for the meeting. Pittsburghers are noted for their love of horses, merely as horses and aside from betting possibilities. This love brings a great many well-known residents of the steel city to New York in the racing season, and the merits of the different horses are as well known to them, as a class, as to any combination of citizens from any big center in the country. Ask some of those same Pittsburghers tomorrow morning what they thought of the proceedings at Morris park, and they may look at you in wide-eyed surprise. But they could tell and they would.

Seeks to Break Speed Record.

If the Newark cyclist, John Ruel, accomplishes the feat he is about to attempt, of riding a mile on a motor bicycle in 30 seconds, he will travel faster than any man ever has on wheels. He says he can do it. The course will be a long hill near the Orange mountains, and he will go down hill. The fastest time ever made down hill to date was 41 2-5 seconds. Ruel thinks, with wind and other conditions favorable, he can spin along at the rate of two miles in a minute, and perhaps he can. When a cyclist did a mile in a minute, paced by a train, a few years ago, it was regarded as remarkable, not so much on account of the power of his pedaling as that he could move so fast and keep his senses. The motor cycler will not have to pedal at all, but he will have all the other opposing conditions to meet, and even in New Jersey, where they believe nearly everything possible to one of their own people, there are some doubts as to the outcome of this proposed 30-second ride.

A Halloween Edition That Was Unique in Pittsburgh

The greatest of all Halloween editions published yesterday was The Sunday Gazette. No newspaper in the country devoted as much space to the literature of the frolicsome holiday, and with the host of other good things, The Gazette eclipsed all previous efforts to give the people of Pittsburgh an up to date newspaper and illustrated literary magazine.

A page was devoted to the history of Halloween pranks. It was illustrated by attractive pictures in colors made by The Sunday Gazette's own artists and photographers. Charles M. Payne, the unrivaled cartoonist, contributed one of his inimitable "Coon Hollow" sketches, and three other pages were devoted to the quaint humor of the Halloween season.

Illustrated special articles were from such well known writers as Waldon Fawcett, who told of Canadian life in winter; Hamilton Wright, in a story of farming in Southern California, and Rene Bache, who contributed an interesting scientific account of the process of extracting perfume from flowers by electricity.

The section devoted to women abounded in articles on fashions and the feminine toilet, together with pages devoted to the latest news in society and women's clubs. The Sunday Gazette's theatrical pages are recognized as giving the authoritative dramatic news in Pittsburgh. The merits of half a score of new books were told in its literary page. A story on the relics of Washington in Pennsylvania contained hitherto unpublished anecdotes of Washington's adventures at French creek.

As usual The Gazette printed all the news. With its special correspondents in all the great news centers throughout the world, it was able to outdistance all its competitors in giving its readers the latest happenings of the day. Its sporting department was unexcelled and the financial situation was accurately described. Its local columns gave a resume of the day's events attractively set forth.

The Sunday Gazette's art supplement, "When Cupid Holds the Reins," has increased the popularity of the magnificent series of color sketches by Charles Holliday Banghart. Yesterday's supplement is considered one of the best works of this popular artist.

PERSONALS.

W. Lloyd Wise, councilor-at-law of Lincoln-Inn-Fields, London, England, is at the Hotel Lincoln. He is a specialist in patent law and is visiting this country making a study of how the law is applied here. "I have had introduced into parliament a bill which will be of great help to those applying for patents and prevent fraud in the granting of them. I had heard that Pittsburgh was a dirty and uninteresting city and while in Canada had determined not to come here on that account. So many of the great patents of the world had been granted to some of your leading manufacturers, like the air brake, steel cars and other things, that I finally determined to visit this city. I find the city not only interesting, but containing fine parks and residences. I will visit all the large industrial plants before I return to New York."

The Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh, pastor of Grace Reformed church, was a passenger to Philadelphia last night, where he will attend a meeting of the executive commission of the Reformed Church of the World, holding to a presbyterial form of government. "The commission represents 80 denominations," said Dr. Prugh, "and 20,000,000 members." A dinner will be given to the commission this evening in the Bullitt building by J. H. Converse, president of the Baldwin locomotive works. An address will be made by Dr. Prugh.

A. Kruger, a sugar manufacturer of Dessau, Germany, is at the Hotel Duquesne. "I have been visiting the best sugar industries of the west," he remarked. "There is no essential difference in the manufacture of sugar in Germany and this country. I just dropped into Pittsburgh to visit the large industries before I returned to Germany."

H. A. White, a mechanical engineer of Chicago, is at the Hotel Lincoln. "I have come to Pittsburgh to erect 200 tanks at the Iron City brewery. Each tank will have a capacity of 142 barrels and they will be the finest in the world. They will be of steel and will be enameled inside."

Robert T. Lincoln, president of the Pullman Car Company, passed through the city to Chicago last night. He had a stateroom on the Limited and was invisible to newspaper men.

About 50 miners returned to the anthracite regions last night. They expect to get back their old jobs upon their return.

THE DEATH ROLL.

James O'Donnell.

James O'Donnell, aged 30, died at his residence, No. 4000 Second avenue, at 7 o'clock last night after a short illness from typhoid fever. He was manager of the Greenfield hotel. Mr. O'Donnell was born in Ireland and came to Pittsburgh five years ago. His parents still reside in Ireland. Six months ago he was married to Miss Mary Mullen of the Fourteenth ward. He was a nephew of Edward and J. J. O'Donnell, well-known business men of Hazelwood. He was a member of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic church and branch No. 46 of the C. M. B. A., also of Court Duquesne No. 251 Order of Foresters. He is survived by his wife and three sisters, Mary, Delia and Margaret O'Donnell. The funeral arrangements will be made today.

Mrs. Daniel Collins.

Mrs. Elizabeth Collins, aged 46 years, wife of Daniel Collins of Wilkins township, died yesterday in the Passavant hospital after a short illness. She was the mother of seven children, all of whom survive her. The funeral will be held from her late residence, Laketown road, Wilkins township, tomorrow afternoon.

Obituary Notes.

Edward E. Jenkins, aged 46, died at his residence, No. 6700 Deary street, East End, at 12:20 yesterday afternoon. He was engaged in the paper hanging business, and leaves a family. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

PENNYPACKER PARAGRAPHS.

Judge Pennypacker's campaigning party has visited all of our neighboring counties, but no matter whether he comes into Somerset or not, he will receive the solid Republican vote. —Somerset Herald.

Wherever Judge Pennypacker goes throughout Pennsylvania he is given an enthusiastic reception by his fellow Republicans. There is no evidence that the Republican rank and file are discontented or disgruntled this year, on the contrary, the signs of the times are all propitious.—Altoona Tribune.

Cleveland's Bubble-Blowing.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"Why do Cleveland's speeches better things from the Democratic party in the future is not clear. His own later experience with the gratitude of that party is not reassuring. No man living may survive long enough to see a Democratic president and congress as in 1893. But bubbles are beautiful in prismatic effects while they last, and even an old politician out of a job and out of a party may find pleasure in watching them float away. Mr. Cleveland's reversion to his early dreams shows that he has more imagination than has been supposed.

JAILER OUT WEST IS RARE GENIUS

Turns a Talent for Painting to Odd Use Decorating Prison.

A WELL-KNOWN Pittsburgher, just returned from New Mexico, describes a visit to the jail of a border county which, through the kindness of the warden, he was permitted to make during his tour of the country. He said that in one end of the cell department were large pictures of McKinley and Roosevelt, with letters six inches deep explaining who they were, and underneath the picture of McKinley was his memorable last words. The two pictures were easily recognizable, and the visitor was much surprised when the warden told him he had painted them himself. He was more surprised when he made a tour of the cell tiers.

Over the door of each cell was painted a motto, as, "What is home without a mother?" "I am happy as the day is long." "A hot time in the old town tonight," and others too numerous to mention. The Pittsburgher was puzzled at first to know the meaning of all this placarding, but the jailer explained, as he had to paint the jail himself once every year, to add spice to the work and lend a little more coloring to the interior of the otherwise barren and plain white walls, he thought of the motto scheme. The selection was varied enough to suit any taste. Titles of popular songs were seen over the doorways to cells containing prisoners whose appearance was totally at variance with the idea conveyed. For purposes of harmony with the surroundings, some of the titles of songs are appropriately modified, for instance: "Home Ain't Nothing Like This" is made into "Home Ain't Nothing Like This—My Wife's There," over a cell into which during the course of a year numerous drunks find refuge until they are fit to mingle again in their home circles.

"BE SURE you are right, then go ahead," was a favorite remark of Davy Crockett, if we are to believe all we are told. A popular Wilkinsburg minister once got into trouble by not being sure of his dog. It was really his wife's dog—as most things around the house belong to the wife—but the minister made much over the animal. By roaring at the dog the minister had started the animal in the habit of barking whenever he spoke in a loud tone. When the minister was in his study rehearsing the next Sunday's sermon the dog would stand just outside the door and set up a howl that continued as long as he could hear the voice inside.

One Sunday morning the minister was sitting in the pulpit waiting for the choir to finish the opening hymn, when he discovered the dog standing quietly in the aisle. He saw trouble ahead. The moment he began his sermon he was certain the dog would start to howl. So he left the pulpit and, after some trouble, gathered the dog in his arms to take it across to the parsonage where the wife—who was suffering from a headache and, consequently, remained home from service—would keep it quiet. He ran hastily upstairs and tossed the dog into the room, saying: "Here's your dog, sweetheart. He was over in the church."

Right there a dog fight started. It was not his wife's pet, but one that looked remarkably like it.

AN OAKLAND boy demonstrated the other day that some things in this world cannot be proved by logic. With a party of friends he was passing along Ward street, where a Scotch collie pup was lying at the feet of its mistress.

"I wonder what kind of a dog it is?" asked one of the boys.

"It's a bloodhound," answered another.

"I guess it's a shepherd," said a third.

"Tain't neither," said the wise lad. "It's a fox terrier. Can't you see how much it looks like a fox?"

ON MARKET street, the other day, a well-known coal operator assisted in amusing the loungers, though he did not mean to. As he walked toward the wharf he heard the bark of a dog at his heels and immediately felt a sharp pinch on the calf of his leg. He started violently, then turned to kick the cur. There was no dog. An urchin was scampering away, wearing a diabolical grin, and the crowd laughed. The lad's "bark" is said to be a perfect canine imitation.

Battle Between Policies.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The campaign which will close with the balloting one week from Tuesday next is recognized all over the country as a battle between the policies of the Republican party and those of the Democratic. The Democrats are denouncing the trusts and declaring that the only way to reach them is to do away with the protective tariff. On the other hand, the Republican policy as outlined by President Roosevelt is none the less antagonistic toward criminal trusts, but it holds that protection has nothing to do with the matter. The president rec

KING AND QUEEN OFFER THANKS

Services at St. Paul's Cathedral Described as More Brilliant Than Devout.

ALL POMP OF ROYALTY

Ministers, Nobles and Foreign Ambassadors Add Color to the Scene — Honorable Artillerymen Faint from Long Standing.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The last ceremonies connected with the inauguration of King Edward VII. occurred today, when the king, accompanied by Queen Alexandra, the prince of Wales and almost all the members of the royal family drove to St. Paul's cathedral and offered up thanks for the recovery of his health, which had enabled him to be crowned.

The weather was rainy and small clouds marked the royal progress through the metropolis. At Temple Bar the lord mayor of London and the corporation, in bedraggled robes, met the king and escorted him to the cathedral.

In the nave of St. Paul's were gathered several thousand persons, including Premier Balfour, leading members of the nobility, almost all the members of the cabinet and the foreign ambassadors, among whom was Mr. Choate. The honorable artillery company formed an imposing line; the members wore their busbies and carried fixed bayonets.

Before the service was over several of the artillerymen had fainted as a result of long standing.

The choir, the chapter and the bishop of London, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Ingram, escorted the king and the queen to the throne. There was a full choral service of thanksgiving, followed by a sermon from the bishop of London, who laid special stress upon the fact that this was the second time in his majesty's life that he had entered St. Paul's to give thanks for his recovery from a disagreeable illness. At the close of the sermon the tedeum was sung heartily.

The royal party then returned to Buckingham palace. The king and queen were well greeted on the way wherever the crowds were large enough to raise a cheer. In spite of the rain King Edward ordered that the carriages be kept open, and Queen Alexandra bowed and smiled from behind a small umbrella.

The scene at St. Paul's was more brilliant than devotional. All the officials present wore their uniforms and their decorations, creating a blaze of color seldom seen in the cathedral. King Edward wore the uniform of a field marshal and the decorations of the Order of the Garter.

DUMONT STAYS OUT.

Does Not Favor Syndicate Aeronauts Going After Big St Louis World's Fair Prize.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—A number of French aeronauts met today to devise a united plan under which to compete for the St. Louis exposition aeronaut's prize of $100,000. Emilien Marceau, the inventor of the flying machine "Le Papillon," was the principal promoter of the meeting. Mr. Deutsch, M. Santos-Dumont and other leaders in aeronautics were invited, but did not attend.

M. Marceau exhibited a huge model of "Le Papillon" with outstretched silken wings measuring 30 feet across. He urged that as France was ahead in aeronautics, there should be a united effort here to secure the St. Louis prize.

He proposed the raising of a fund with which to build French airships and said that in case the prize was won, half of it would be divided among those assisting the movement. Final action was deferred.

Commissioner Hildebrand Attacks Party on Whose Ticket He Is Running for Re-Election.

YORK, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Republican County Chairman Daly has written a letter to Jere Hildebrand, nominated by the Republicans and Democrats for county commissioner, asking him to withdraw from the Republican county ticket.

Hildebrand is the man who exposed the crookedness in the county treasurer's office and was nominated by both the Republicans and Democrats.

Since the campaign has opened he has been making speeches denouncing the Republicans, which has resulted in the county chairman asking him to withdraw from the ticket.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

MORE POWERFUL NAVY PRESIDENT'S KEYNOTE

Wants to See Strength Equal to That of Any Nation in the World.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.

To build powerful warships every year until the United States navy is as strong as any in the world is the keynote of President Roosevelt's naval policy.

Secretary Moody in a recent trip through the middle west spoke in every speech of the need for a navy adequate in strength to protect the interests of the United States in every part of the globe. These references evoked the warmest response, so that heavy naval legislation is expected to meet with little opposition in congress. The board on construction has already recommended the construction of two battleships, the same type as the Maine, two armored cruisers, the same type as the Tennessee, and two gunboats, the same type as the Dubuque, every year for at least three years.

Germany's fleet is three times as strong as that of the United States, according to the statement of Commander Beehler, recently detached naval attache of the embassy at Berlin, and other European powers are rapidly increasing their naval strength. Germany expects to have her present program in commission by 1906.

President Roosevelt, it is thought by naval officers, will go down to history as the "naval president." He gained a more intimate knowledge of this service, as assistant secretary of the navy, than any of his predecessors in the White House.

The increase of the number of battleships is not the only problem confronting the president. The personnel of the commissioned and the enlisted force is inadequate for the ships already in commission and for the duty required ashore. To provide for the proper manning of the ships which are to be built hereafter it is necessary that a new policy be adopted which will result in an increase of cadets at the Naval academy.

ARMY FADING AWAY.

Soldiers of Colombian Government Dying of Disease—Bodies Lie Unburied on Savonilla Wharf.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, Oct. 26.—The German steamer Hercynia reached here today from Colon. Her officers report that considerable fighting is going on in the interior of that country, the revolutionists taking advantage of the withdrawal of government troops for service on the isthmus.

At Savanilla the government soldiers are dying at an alarming rate from fever and privations. While the Hercynia was moored at Savanilla there were on the pier the bodies of several soldiers who had died there and whose remains had not been removed.

Disease is rife on that part of the coast. The ship's officers had to check their own cargo at Savanilla and do other work themselves, to perform which Colombians are generally employed, it being impossible to get local help.

READY TO ADVANCE.

Gen. Sumner Prepares to Give the Sultan of Bacolod a Taste of Real War.

MANILA, Oct. 26.—Gen. Sumner has completed his inspection of the proposed roadway from Iligan to Lake Lanao, Mindanao. He will return to Zamboanga within a week and will then go to Camp Vicars to organize and start the expedition against the sultan of Bacolod.

There is a slight possibility that the sultan will not resist the American forces, but he continues to strengthen his forts.

TRIED SUICIDE TWICE.

Hugh Bulger, After Being Dragged from Death, Jumped Under Train.

Hugh Bulger, aged 30, of Sixteenth street, made two attempts to commit suicide yesterday morning. He was lying on the Allegheny Valley railroad tracks at the foot of Thirteenth street in front of an approaching train when Special Officer John McGuire dragged him from the tracks in time to save his life. The officer started toward the station house with Bulger, but he broke away and ran to the tracks again, this time jumping under the train which was passing. With assistance the officer rescued Bulger a second time. He was locked up. Bulger said he had been drinking and did not know what he was doing.

ODD REPORT OF CENSUS BUREAU

Native Born Children of Foreigners Better Educated Than Americans.

THE REASONS ASSIGNED

Improved School Systems in the Northern States Where Most of the Foreigners Locate—Poor Southern Educational Facilities

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The census office has issued a statement giving a compilation of figures regarding illiteracy among children of immigrants and children of natives. The statement says:

"Confining the comparison to children between the ages of 10 and 14 years in the United States as a whole, 95.86 per cent of the native white children of native parents and 99.1 per cent of the native white children of foreign-born parents are able to read and write.

"This surprising difference in favor of the children of the foreign-born population is due largely to the fact that the children of the foreign-born immigrants live mainly in the northern and western states, where the public school systems have already reached a high degree of efficiency, while great numbers of native white children of native white parents live in the southern states, and in that region about 10 per cent of such children are illiterate.

"When the comparison is carried out by geographic divisions the difference between the two classes in each part of the United States, except the south Atlantic states, is found to be much less than in the whole country. Yet these figures indicate that in every region except the north Atlantic states the literate children of immigrant whites are a larger per cent of the whole number of such children than the literate children of native whites are of all children of native whites. This is partly explained by the clustering of immigrants and their children mainly in the cities and towns, while the native white children of native parents live more generally in the rural districts. Thus in the north Atlantic division there are 696,831 native white children, 10 to 14 years of age, and born of native parents, of whom 22 per cent live in cities having at least 25,000 inhabitants. Among the 713,770 native white children, 10 to 14 years of age, and born of foreign parents, who live in the same group of states, 62 per cent live in similar cities. There is no reason to infer from the census figures that the children of illiterate immigrants are constituting a permanent illiterate class in the population.

"It will be noticed, however, that the foregoing figures relate exclusively to immigrants who have been in the country long enough for their children born here to have reached the age of 10 years. Whether among the children of immigrants who have arrived since 1890 there is the same eagerness to acquire at least an elementary education it is still too early to determine from census figures.

OPINION REACHES PITTSBURGH.

New Jersey Court's Decision Favoring Steel Corporation Distributed.

Pittsburgh attorneys are receiving copies of the notable opinion of the court of errors and appeals of New Jersey, as delivered by Judge Van Syckel, in the case of Miriam Berger against the United States Steel Corporation, brought to enjoin the corporation from carrying out its conversion scheme. The opinion, as outlined in the columns of The Gazette, recognizes every right assumed by the steel corporation and is a masterly production.

The conversion plan provides for the taking up of 2,000,000 shares of the preferred stock of the company, which paid a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent, with bonds bearing interest at 5 per cent, payable in 60 years, and redeemable after 10 years at $110 each. Copies of the opinion are being furnished the Pittsburgh attorneys by Paul W. Miller, head of the Pittsburgh office of the New Jersey Corporation Guarantee and Trust Company.

CONVICTED MURDERER IS SHOT AND KILLED

Had Trouble With Peace Brothers While Out on Bond Awaiting Trial.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PINEVILLE, KY., Oct. 26.—At West Pineville last midnight Jessie Broughton, who was on May 20 convicted of the murder of Charles McIntyre and sentenced to 21 years' imprisonment, but secured a new hearing and was to have been tried during the court now in session, was himself shot and instantly killed and Britt Harlin mortally wounded by Will and Hayes Peace.

It is supposed the Peace brothers were enraged because Broughton, as mine boss where they were working, had reprimanded them during the day for allowing a blast to go off prematurely.

Harlin says he, with Broughton and Joe Sparks, were sitting on the railroad, talking, when Will and Hayes Peace came up with pistols in their hands and said:

"Jessie, is that you?" and leveled their guns.

When Harlin made a move toward his gun, he was shot by each, one ball striking in the shoulder, the other in the breast.

Immediately the guns were turned on Broughton. Then two or three shots were fired at Sparks, while he was running. The Peaces escaped and have not been located.

MONEY RATES CONTINUE VERY LOW IN LONDON

In Berlin the Feature of Last Week's Trading Was the Raid Made on Steamship Shares.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The rates for money continue low. The £2,560,000 raised last week to meet the treasury bills appeared to be easily procurable on the open market and did not result in any marked stiffening of prices. No applications for large loans are being made to the bank.

The apprehensiveness concerning monetary conditions in New York has now fairly subsided. The non-speculative condition of the stock exchange last week extended into the American department, which relapsed into activity, is in sympathy with the general indifference.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The feature of the boerse last week was the raid on Hamburg and North German Lloyd shares; both went below par for the first time in years. Hamburg-American shares were sold heavily all during the week. The shares of ocean transportation companies made a partial recovery, Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd both reaching 102 yesterday.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—For some time past Germany has not had a military attache at her Washington embassy. It has now been decided to fill this post.

ZOLA PRAISED BY RABBI LEVY

Tribute Is Paid to the Author Who Defended Dreyfus Against His Own Nation.

JUSTICE WAS HIS IDOL

Jewish Preacher Declares That Zola Had Not a Drop of Hebrew Blood, but Stood Up for Right and Saved France.

The second of the series of Sunday services was held in the Temple, Eighth street and Penn avenue, by the Reform congregation, Rudoph Shalom, yesterday morning. The Rev. J. Leonard Levy lectured on "Emile Zola." He said in part:

The old teachers of Israel insisted that in no age was God bereft of His witnesses on earth. History demonstrates the truth of their assertion. In one age a Micah, in another a Savonarola plead powerfully for God and for the fulfillment by man of His manifest bidding.

Today we lay a wreath on the new-made grave of Emile Zola, who has served as a witness to God's demand for justice and righteousness, and who by his service to the entire human family, as an unselfish pleader for equity, deserves to be canonized among the true servants of God and crowned as a king among mankind's noble champions.

Idealized Righteousness.

We all should hold that justice will ultimately triumph and that iniquity will finally sit mute and discredited. With his last work, entitled "Truth," and with an outlined work on "Justice," he suddenly fell into the icy and pitiless arms of death, leaving on this side of the shadowy realm the seal of those ennobling inspirations that had found such practical demonstrations in his strenuous and self-sacrificing life.

He idealized righteousness. He apotheosized justice. The whole trend of his checkered career was in the direction of tearing down national idols and of instituting righteousness as the national ideal. Every utterance of Zola is to the effect that where righteousness is not there will be degeneracy, decadence, and, ultimately, downfall. This sentence will ring the ages he sends forth through his life's work.

THE REV. J. LEONARD LEVY.

Motives Were Pure.

He heartily repeats the proverb of the Italian peasant, "God does not pay on Saturdays," for all eternity being His, He can afford to wait. He shows that the comedy of unbridled lust and conscienceless prostitution may be long, but that the tragedy of the retributive power of unsullied righteousness is short in its destructive fury. He realized that were it not for God, society would be but a jungle, and, therefore he pleaded most eloquently for social purity and social regeneration by adherence to the divine principle of justice.

Though by no means a worshipper in the church, his soul was ardently religious. He pleaded for liberty, for tolerance, for righteousness. On this holy trinity depends the political and moral salvation of mankind. His faith in these principles was translated into works. Not because there was a trace of Jewish blood in his veins, for the best satisfied evidence he had none, though I could devoutly wish he had; not out of revenge because the academy, with its 40 immortals, had refused him the coveted honor of membership; not out of a desire to receive increased financial resources by a sensational move for notoriety, not by any vulgar motive was he induced to hurl his words, flaming with indignant protest, at the head of the French republic.

Sacrificed Much.

He realized as only a true Frenchman could, that to attack the army meant that he would be shunned and abhorred, denounced and detested. He jeopardized his liberty, he surrendered his comfort, he endangered his future, when in defense of an unpopular and despised Jew he uttered his immortal J'accuse and challenged the military party to a moral combat. The honesty of his motive may be seen from the fact that all through his literary career he had held out the warning finger and had raised his voice like a trumpet, showing his people their sins and acquainting them with their transgressions.

In France, then, liberty was a widow and justice an orphan. Ignorance was enthroned and malice was sceptred. The Dreyfus case had reduced logic to an absurdity. Prejudice was president and its cabinet officers were race-hatred, corruption, venality, immortality and their attendant vices. Like the reverbating thunder sounded his charge, I accuse.

Zola Saved France.

As Whitefield and Wesley saved England, so Zola has, for a time, saved France. Not yet has his cause entirely triumphed, but, with God's help, it finally will. Dreyfus has entered Paris unmolested and his innocence will yet be legally and unequivocally established, as his character has already been vindicated before the supreme court of the public conscience. We honor Zola because in the firmament of humanity he has placed a star. We honor him because he enshrined the divine principle of equity. We honor him because his soul cried for justice and he heeded her appeal. We honor him for the literary legacy he has left us, but yet much more for the glorious inheritance he has bequeathed humanity in the form of his illustrious example.

In a moral desert he was the incarnation of the spirit pleading for righteousness. No statue or shaft can adequately transmit his honorable name to succeeding generations. His life is his best monument. In the temple of humanity the "Nunc Dimittis" (now Thou lettest thy servant depart in peace) has been sung; every God-fearing man now joins in chanting a benedicite (bless the Lord) for the gift to mankind of this courageous liberator and for the uplifting example of this heroic soul.

COAL STRIKE AS A SIGN OF THE TIMES

Is Regarded By the Rev. Robert C. Douds As Fulfillment of the Gospel.

The Rev. Robert C. Douds preached a sermon in the Duquesne Park chapel, Allegheny, last night on "Gospel Lessons From the Great Coal Strike." His text was taken from Matt. xvi:3, "Ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times." Mr. Douds said in part:

We are liable to be so taken up with the things that concern our daily comfort, the mere changes of weather, that we fail to see the deep meaning of the great movement above us. How many in viewing the coal strike have thought only of their own discomfort, the financial loss, or perhaps the political results? But there is a deeper meaning. It is only when we view this strike as a sign of the times, as an indication of the coming Kingdom, that we get its true significance. There are a number of features in this struggle and its outcome, which indicate that the Kingdom of God is drawing nearer.

In the first place, the very bitter intensity of this mighty struggle is an indication of the last times. James points out to us that the insatiable gluttony of the rich, the oppression of the laborer, and the conflict between capital and labor would be a sign that the coming of the Lord draws near. Then add to this the great catastrophies in nature, and the social and political movements of recent years, these things all tell us that God is moving, that there is a handwriting on the wall, and it behooves us to read its meaning.

But more important than this, we see in the peaceful settlement of this strike by arbitration, an indication of the influence of the gospel and the progress of the kingdom. Arbitration is not a recent discovery of the sociologist. It is as old as Moses, and its principle was taught by Jesus. It was a Christian president, who has drawn his ideas of justice and righteousness from the word of God, backed by a Christian public sentiment, that compelled these warring parties to arbitrate.

UNITY OF THE CHURCH.

The Rev. W. L. McEwan Says All Are Bound Together in a Great Work.

The Rev. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, preached a sermon on "The Unity of the Church," yesterday morning. His text was taken from Romans xii:5: "So we, being many, are one body in Christ and every one members one of another." Mr. McEwan said in part:

The Christian church is the body of Christ. Redeemed sinners are its members. The union of believers does not grow out of their acceptance of the same statement of doctrine or creed, nor of their being subject to the same ecclesiastical head. It depends on their devotion to the one Saviour and Lord. They all believe in the same Lord, and partake of the benefits of His redemption, dependent on the same holy spirit, and with a common destiny and hope.

It is easy to exaggerate the lack of unity among the churches. In all the essential things all the denominations of the evangelical faith are in practical union. The world would be poorer without any one of these great historical churches.

Your conscience cannot be made a rule for another. So long as they keep within the limits of evangelical truth the opinions and beliefs of other honest men are as worthy of our respect as your opinions. The way to bring a close union of the churches is by each doing its own appointed work.

When at last we reach the general assembly of the church in heaven there will be no denominational names. In the meantime it is quite certain that the better members of the Presbyterian, or Episcopal, or Methodist, or Baptist, or Lutheran churches live up to the duties taught them all, the more surely will they be able to enter into the spirit of that above. Tearing down the creeds and the doctrines is not by any means the first step toward union.

CHURCH AND MONEY.

The Rev. John A. Jayne Tells How People Are Kept From Church.

At the Observatory Hill Christian church, Allegheny, yesterday morning, the Rev. John A. Jayne continued his series on "Problems Confronting Pittsburgh Churches." His subject was "The Church and Money." His text was taken from Cor. xvii, 4. Mr. Jayne said in part:

Two questions the preacher almost invariably asks when he receives a call to a church, what kind of a building have they and how much salary will I receive. Two questions the church asks relative the man they are about to call, does he draw the crowd and will he help raise our mortgage. Only to rarely is the man's power as an evangelist taken into consideration.

Churches are built with great mortgages resting upon them, a preacher is called at a great salary to raise the mortgage and fill the church pews, with the inevitable result the common people are alienated, the rich won't come into the church for fear of being called upon to open their pockets, and the poor won't come because they feel they cannot pay. So the chasm grows wider and wider between the churched rich and the unchurched poor.

If instead of paying $100,000 for a great temple and loading it with a great mortgage, Christian people would raise their hundred thousand first and scatter it over the wastes of our cities in the form of 10 or 20 well equipped and completely paid for houses for worship, and call men of Christian power and manhood to the ministry, and let the minister work among the people, as a man with men, we would hear less about the alienation of the masses and the infidelity of the age.

HUMAN LIFE IS HELD TOO CHEAP

The Rev. J. W. Sproull Says It Is Not Considered in Modern World.

TOO LITTLE PRECAUTION

Railroads and Corporations Do Not See That Employes and Patrons are Safeguarded—Lays the Blame to Greed for Money.

At the Central Reformed Presbyterian church, Allegheny, yesterday morning the Rev. J. W. Sproull preached a sermon on "Thou Shalt Not Kill." His text was taken from Deuteronomy, xii:8: "When thou buildest a new house, thou shalt make a battlement for the roof, that thou bringest no blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence." Mr. Sproull said in part:

"According to a published statement, the latest statistics on cities issued by the department of labor at Washington show that in New York city 6 per cent of the deaths, or one person in 17, during the last year, died a violent death; in Philadelphia the proportion is a little more than 5 per cent; in St. Louis, nearly 7; in Boston, a trifle over 5; in Pittsburgh, nearly 10; in Allegheny, about 5½, and in McKeesport, over 11. No statistics are given of the accidents that resulted in loss of a limb or other injury.

Carelessness Must Exist.

"Full and complete statistics of the accidents would make the blood of every man that loves his fellow-man fairly boil with indignation. Such a sacrifice of life, and such a maiming of individuals, are wholly inexcusable. Someone is culpable. Who is that someone?

"There is prevalent a radically wrong theory with reference to the right of individuals and of corporations. A railroad receives valuable franchises from a city, for which it makes no adequate return. Its business increases to such an extent that its traffic constantly endangers the lives of citizens. Whose duty is it to see that proper precautions are taken to guard against accidents? The company, whose increased business occasions the danger, or the people, who are in no way responsible for existing conditions?

People Have Rights.

"The community is taxed to keep in good repair the streets. The streets are for their use. Why should they be compelled to live in constant terror lest while crossing one they be run over by a passing car, or an automobile going at a speed so fast that it is almost impossible to get out of the way. It is time that the rights of the individual, of the 'any man,' were emphasized.

"The spirit of greed has taken such possession of the world that human life is held at a very low value. Does anyone believe that if proper precautions were taken so many lives would be lost in the erection of buildings, or in the coal mines, as are? To afford proper protection would occasion increased expenditure and lessen dividends. But human lives would be saved. That is of more value than great riches."

DR. BARNES CLOSES HIS LONG PASTORATE

In His Farewell Sermon He Said the Voters' Civic League Is a Benefit.

The Rev. Lemuel Call Barnes preached his farewell sermon in Pittsburgh in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church last night after a pastorate of 15 years. He spent the first four and a half years of his ministerial life in this church and then received a call elsewhere. He was recalled in 1893 and has occupied the pulpit there ever since. He leaves this evening for Worcester, Mass., to resume his ministerial duties there.

Mr. Barnes preached upon "Our Citizenship Is in Heaven." His text was taken from Phil. iii:20. Mr. Barnes said in part:

It used to be customary to think of religion as being a preparation for the next world, that people might get into heaven.

THE REV. DR. LEMUEL CALL BARNES.

Even yet some when approached with the personal question as to the religious life, answer as if they supposed it meant some scheme of insurance for the next world. But today the prevailing emphasis of thought and speech is concerning the bearing of religion on the life which we are now living.

How can these two points of view be harmonized? They are brought together by our subject, which does not say that our citizenship will be in heaven, nor does it say that our citizenship is on earth. But that our citizenship is now in heaven. That means that we are to live our every day lives in the spirit of heaven. This bears directly on our political citizenship, which we are to exercise as a religious service. This exalted view lifts the voter above narrow partisanship and helps him to see the voting booth as a sacred altar, which is not to be profaned by any act unworthy of heaven.

The impossibility of having personal knowledge of every candidate makes such organization as the Voters' Civic League of the greatest use to every conscientious man who wants to know what he is doing. In Chicago it has been the chief instrument in bringing about the great municipal progress recently made there.

SERMON ON PATIENCE.

Dr. Donehoo Tells How Much May Be Accomplished When One Works With God.

The Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo preached a sermon at the West End Presbyterian church yesterday morning, on "Biding One's Time." His text was taken from John vii:8: "My time is not yet full come." Mr. Donehoo said in part:

Some grow discouraged because the world is not converted in a day. They brand Christians as faithless unless they are busy night and day in religious matters, and churches as not fulfilling the divine purpose unless they are increasing numerically and financially all the time, while they pronounce ministers flat failures if they do not attract multitudes to their ministry and bring in converts by the thousand. They decide missions to be a failure and the money expended as wasted unless heathen nations are evangelized in a single lifetime.

Do not grow impatient if things do not move above as rapidly as you think they should. Remember that a thousand years are with the Lord as a single day. I have heard men say that if they had their way they would wipe out iniquity with a single sweep of their hand, and destroy violators of law with a breath of their nostrils. Now, the Almighty does not work that way, and you simply arraign Him when you talk so. If the holy God can endure those who trample on his laws and mock at his commands without visiting his displeasure upon them on the instant, you ought to be able to stand it.

When a man undertakes to reform all the evils in society by summary methods the Lord generally lets him have his way until the man discovers that he has been essaying the impossible. All that God requires of us is to do justice and love mercy and walk humbly with our God.

CHARACTER BUILDING.

Storms, Tribulation and Death Ineffective Against the House of Life Where God Reigns.

At St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, yesterday morning, the Rev. Dr. E. H. Ward preached a sermon on "The Foundation and Superstructure of Character." His text was taken from Matt. vii:24, 27. Dr. Ward said in part:

In the construction of a great building it is of supreme importance that the foundation be secure. And the same is true in building the house of life. Every man is building a house of some kind, and the Master bids us look well to our foundation. He Himself is the foundation upon which all true life must be built.

When we take Him as our Lord and Master and do things which He says, we are building on the solid rock. All that is noblest and best in our modern civilization radiates from Him. All strength of religious character flows from Him. He is not only the pattern of virtue, but also the highest incentive to its practice.

We are all building a house of life, a moral character. Every deed, every thought, every desire is a stone in that building and is visible to the eye of God. Do good deeds, think pure thoughts, cherish right desires, and the very fiber of your moral being will become godlike. Let Christ reign in the heart and the structure of character will rise fair and strong, even as did that temple of old, upon which was heard no sound of axes or hammers. And remember you are building for eternity. Upon the proudest works of man are written the words, "Decay and Dissolution." The great tempter of old has crumbled to dust, but over a godly character time's effacing finger has no power. It can withstand the winds of temptation, the storms of weal and tribulation, and even the flood of death will but wash away the scaffolding and debris, leaving the structure flashing in the sunlit eternal day.

FAITH AND COURAGE.

The Rev. J. S. Hutson Says Bible Story Contains Lessons for Modern Men.

The Rev. J. S. Hutson, in the Beth Eden Baptist church, last evening, preached a sermon on "Two Grand Old Men." His text was taken from Joshua xiv: 13: "And Joshua blessed him; and gave him unto Caleb for an inheritance." Mr. Hutson said in part:

A generation of grumbling pessimistic scepties have been quietly tucked under the sod. Moses, the servant of God, has died, the Jordan has been crossed and Jericho taken, and Joshua and Caleb meet once more pressed on to victory. Now comes Caleb, that man of faith and courage, to claim the inheritance for which he has waited the space of forty weary years.

This bit of ancient history concerning "two grand old men" is not without its lessons to the young man of today. What is it that makes a grand lesson of patient waiting. Not waiting in idleness and indifference, but ever up and doing.

Many people have adopted from these contradictions a sort of mixed system. hot water in the winter, and they, too, are right. The real truth is that there is no absolute rule and that the best rule is habit. If then, since childhood you have washed your face in hot or cold water and your skin has remained fine and soft and unwrinkled with the use of either, do not change your custom.

Hot water is preferable above all in warm weather. The reason is that the skin is the seat of continual secretions which are most abundant in summer. The pores are invaded by many sorts of matter, organic and foreign. Cold water removes these obstacles slowly and with difficulty, while hot water acts almost instantly. It is also true that delicate skins suffer from cold water; it brings small wrinkles, which little by little increase. Oily skins should only be washed with very hot water. People who are subject to neuralgia, above all to facial neuralgia, should also avoid cold water. Fat people, whose skins are not oily, should use cold water to close the pores. It is a good tonic against flabbiness and wrinkles, but it should never be used without a few drops of some toilet water. If there are any blotches, eruptions or red spots on the skin, only hot water should be used.

The woman who wants to add only an inch or so to her waist line, or to the line from her chin to her belt, can do so without trouble.

Let her loosen her waist bands, and let out her corset strings to their utmost. Better still, to take the corset off when exercising.

Now, let her take an ordinary hand ball and toss it from hand to hand, resting the weight first upon one foot and then upon another.

Raise one hand high and throw the ball from hand to hand. This is playing ball with one's own self and very good sport it is. You can knit a cover for the ball if you find that the rubber is inclined to callous your palms.

For this work by all means make yourself a convenient suit and wear it when exercising. It need not be elegantly cut, but it should fit you and allow you free use of your arms and legs.

This exercise of playing forces you to take a long breath, which develops the bust and decreases the size of the waist. As the chest is thrown out the abdomen is forced in and the while effect upon the figure is very good.

Palmistry, graphology, phrenology, even pedology and kindred sciences which reveal, or are said to reveal, character are popular enough, particularly among English speaking people. An Englishman now seeks to show that a woman's character may be judged by her fondness for the compositions of the great musicians. For instance, a passionate admiration of Beethoven's music proves a faithful, reliable, capable character. Lovers of Mendelssohn are tender, with a certain disposition toward melancholy—a delight in what Byron calls "the ecstacy of woe." Practical, methodical, excellent housewives may be found among the followers of Sebastian Bach. According to this observer, Chopin enthusiasts are sentimental, dreamy, romantic, while those who show a fondness for old ballads and simple music possess shy and retiring souls. Finally, he regards women who are content with the every-day music of the musical comedy as dolls without head or heart.

Of the feminine devotees of the Wagner craze he says nothing. After all, that is hardly necessary; we know what these are.

FOR BEAUTY AND HEALTH

Cold and hot water have both been recommended, one as often as the other. Dermatologists extol the virtues of hot water, very hot, and they are absolutely right. Lovers of hygiene speak eloquently of cold water and they, too, are right. They use cold water in the summer and Temperament As Revealed by Music.

Palmistry, graphology, phrenology, even pedology and kindred sciences which reveal, or are said to reveal, character are popular enough, particularly among English speaking people. An Englishman now seeks to show that a woman's character may be judged by her fondness for the compositions of the great musicians. For instance, a passionate admiration of Beethoven's music proves a faithful, reliable, capable character. Lovers of Mendelssohn are tender, with a certain disposition toward melancholy—a delight in what Byron calls "the ecstacy of woe." Practical,

A BRAVE KENTUCKY BELLE WHO WILL SOON BE MARRIED

MISS ADA MAYO RAILEY.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The engagement of Miss Ada Mayo Railey, daughter of C. L. Railey, the well-known horseman, to Maj. David Castleman, has been announced here, the wedding to take place in December. Miss Railey is well known in the east, where she spends much of her time each season.

A few years ago, while visiting friends, she stopped a runaway team hitched to an opera bus, after the driver had been thrown from the seat, by climbing out of the front window and down to the dashboard, where she regained the lines and mounted the driver's box. She was extensively dined and toasted because of the brave act, in which she saved several lives.

Maj. Castleman served in the war with Spain and was in Porto Rico, where he assisted in establishing the free government. He is now in charge of the Pleasant Hill farm owned by himself and father, Gen. John B. Castleman. He is the brother of the noted Kentucky beauties, Misses Alice and Elice Castleman.

Oriental Rugs

A Round Half Dozen Points of Superiority

Oriental Rugs are today the most popular form of floor covering used by intelligent people—and for good and sufficient reasons—
Oriental Rugs Excel every other known floor covering in

Convenience—Cleanliness
Healthfulness—Durability
Beauty—Economy

Considering them simply from a practical standpoint—leaving out all the sentiment and value that attaches to the finer pieces, they are still unquestionably the most desirable of floor coverings—
We are showing pretty little Daghestans as low as $5, $8 and $10—both modern and antique weaves—
Persian Carpets at $100 to $1,500—
And no matter whether you buy the $5.00 one or $1,500 one, you will pay simply a fair commercial value—without any romance or sentiment to it—
The display is at its height now—
We will be glad to have you see it whether you buy or not.

COL. ROBERT C. CLOWRY, who began life as a telegraph messenger boy, advanced to the position of President of the Western Union Telegraph Co., at a salary identical with that of the President of the United States. Col. Clowry never had the advantage of a college education. The necessity of earning his living while yet a boy allowed no opportunity for a college training. His circumstances in those early days were similar to those of thousands of young men and women in Pittsburgh today, who are busy making a living instead of going to college. But young Clowry did more than simply earn his living. He devoted his spare time to self-improvement and the habit of home study then formed, steadily continued during the years he has been mounting upward. Men and women, clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers, workers in all callings of life, is not the lesson a plain and practical one? If you want to make substantial progress you must build now for the future by giving your spare time to self-improvement.

Western League Baseball War Called Off

SETTLEMENT OF ONE BASEBALL WAR

American Association and the Western League Adjust Difficulties.

DEAL IS SATISFACTORY

Western League Will Withdraw Clubs from Kansas City and Milwaukee and May Have Six-Club League Next Year.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The main object of the members of the national board of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues in remaining in New York after the annual meeting of the association had been adjourned became apparent today when a number of conferences were held between the members of the board and the principal backers of the Western league and the American association.

It was said tonight that efforts toward bringing about a settlement of the war would undoubtedly be successful.

Presidents Brice of Columbus and Watkins of Indianapolis of the American association were in conference with members of the board at the Hotel Victoria nearly all day. In the evening they were joined by President T. W. Vandrunt of the St. Joseph club of the Western league.

The scheme for the adjustment of the difficulties as mapped out tonight calls for the withdrawal of the Western league clubs in both Kansas City and Milwaukee and the turning over of these two cities at once, to the American association.

At the same time the promotors of the Western league teams in these two cities are to be taken care of to the extent that they may be given an interest in the American association teams, or they may be rewarded financially outright.

With the withdrawal of the Western league clubs from both these cities the way would be clear for a harmonious adjustment of all difficulties, and the American association would then apply for and receive protection under the National agreement of the National association, coming in as a class A organization, on a par with the Eastern league.

The Western league could take in two smaller cities or stand with a six-club circuit and come in as a class B or class C organization under the National agreement.

SORROW AT WASH-JEFF.

Players Are All Disheartened Over Result of Satuday's Game With Ohio Medics.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 26.—The Washington and Jefferson football team returned from Columbus tonight considerably disappointed over the result of the game yesterday with the O. M. U. team.

The players are in fairly good shape in spite of the fact that they went through an unusually hard contest Saturday, although two or three of them are nursing minor injuries. Hayes' knee was hurt badly again, and Burns also was badly used up.

The fact that Wash-Jeff outplayed the Medics in the first half and then practically went to pieces in the second half indicates that they were not in good condition.

The W. and J. backs ran the ends for the first game of the season, and the practice along that line at College park last week was evidently productive of good results. Wash-Jeff meets Waynesburg here on Wednesday and Buffalo university eleven on Saturday.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED.

Great Interest Centered in the Westminster-Grove City Football Game Today.

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Since the Grove City game the Westminster eleven has been doing hard, consistent practice and the men are in better condition, both individually and in team work, than at any time this season.

The attention of Coach Edmunson has been mainly directed toward strengthening the defense. The scrub team of 18 players has been given the ball on the varsity 5-yard line and five downs to cross the goal line. By this, a fault of the linemen in falling back and depending on the secondary defense has been in a large measure corrected. Grove City's touchdown Monday was deserved and the Grove City team and supporters will be here in force for tomorrow's game, confident of victory.

NEW CASTLE MAN SIGNED.

Harry P. Starkey Will Play Polo With Indianapolis Team of Western League.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

RICHMOND, IND., Oct. 26.—Harry P. Starkey of New Castle, Pa., a crack polo player, has been signed for service in the Western Roller Polo league, which includes Richmond, Muncie, Anderson, Elwood and Indianapolis, in Indiana, and Racine, Wis.

Starkey will tend goal for the Indianapolis club. Many eastern players have been signed by the clubs in the western league.

AT WORK ON SCHEDULE.

Dates of Interstate Basketball League to Be Announced Soon.

A special meeting of the Interstate basketball league, held in this city yesterday, was attended by representatives of every team in the league but Butler.

William S. Haddock of Pittsburgh was elected president of the league and the Homestead Library Athletic club was admitted to membership in place of Carnegie, which team dropped out on account of being unable to secure a hall for their games.

Work on the season's schedule has been begun and it was stated after the meeting yesterday the playing dates and games arranged will be announced next week. Three officials will be appointed to handle the league games and National league rules will govern all contests.

Dillon Denies the Charge.

John Dillon, umpire in the Cottage-Lyceum football game at Homewood, Saturday, which ended in a riot, called at The Gazette office last night and stated he was in no way to blame for the trouble. Dillon denies that he struck a blow and claims he was arrested while carrying one of the injured Lyceum players off the field. He was discharged from custody.

Kid McCoy a Bookmaker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Kid McCoy is giving his attention to the horses these days instead of the fighters. He has been making book at Morris Park, but has not neglected to take enough exercise to keep him in good physical condition. He will be ready to meet all comers in the near future. He prefers a match with Bob Fitzsimmons.

ANOTHER GAME MAY SOON BE ARRANGED

Pittsburgh Stars Anxious to Roll Up a Larger Score Against East End.

So pleased is the management of the Pittsburgh football team with the showing made by the East End Athletic eleven at Colosseum park on Saturday that another game may be arranged between the teams. Several dates are already under consideration, but as yet none has been definitely decided upon.

The members of the All-Star eleven claim the game Saturday was one of the hardest they have ever had and all are anxious for another try at Walsh's eleven. The East End boys are just as anxious for another game with the stars and claim they can hold them down to a much smaller score than Saturday's.

The game which the East End eleven had scheduled with the Maryland Athletic club at Baltimore next Saturday has been decared off. The Baltimore team could not pay the guarantee agreed upon and so wired Manager Walsh last night.

The East End management has secured Friendship park for several of its remaining games, and the strong Natrona team will be the attraction next Saturday. The Natrona eleven has been sweeping everything before it thus far this season and has quite a good record.

Several members of the East End team are slightly bruised as a result of the big game on Saturday. Musselman and Charles Heh, who were compelled to leave the contest, are nursing slight injuries, but will be all right in a few days. Regular practice will be resumed tonight.

MRS. DRAKE WILL BUY STRING OF RACERS

Wife of Millionaire Plunger to Own Stable on the Turf Next Year.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mrs. John A. Drake, wife of the millionaire, will have a racing stable and a fine string of racers of her own, under the name of "Mr. Bunting." Having watched with interest the successful career of Mrs. Herman Duryea and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney as the owners of fast horses, raced under the name of "Mr. Roslyn," Mrs. Drake has decided that the idea of women owning stables is an exceptionally good one. Therefore, she will enter the field where her husband has made fortunes.

John A. Drake is through with the racing game for this year. He made his last big bet yesterday, and with the closing of the Morris Park track said he would return to business in Chicago and not go through the winter campaign.

Drake left for Chicago last night. His stable goes to Nashville for the winter. Mr. Drake said he would be too busy to take in New Orleans or San Francisco, though, possibly, he might look in at these tracks for a day or two during the winter.

At a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey club, held at Morris Park shortly after the race won by Merry Acrobat yesterday, the license of Jockey Louis Smith was revoked on the recommendation of the stewards of the Westchester meeting.

NEW HOCKEY LEAGUE MAY BE LAUNCHED

Prominent Athletic Clubs of Allegheny Considering the Proposition.

A new hockey league may be formed in Allegheny. Several of the most prominent North Side athletic clubs are now considering the advisability of launching the new organization and putting teams in the field.

The new league, if formed, will be a strictly amateur one and no professional players will be allowed on any of the teams. It is the intention to hire Canadian experts for coaches, but they will not be allowed to participate in any of the contests.

There will not be the least difficulty about securing a fine rink for the games to be played. President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh baseball club is an admirer of the sport and announced some time ago that it was his intention to flood Colosseum park for hockey and skating this season.

At least four teams will be found in the new league and it may be possible that its membership will be increased to six or eight. The sport is popular in Allegheny and if the new proposed North Side league is formed the games will be well patronized at the Colosseum.

The meeting of the managers of the teams of the Western Pennsylvania Hockey league, which was to have been held yesterday, was postponed until next Wednesday evening. The managers, it appears, did not get their notices in time to be present yesterday.

The Keystone, Ranker and P. A. C. teams will all be in line for next season and it is quite probable that the Iroquois team may be the fourth member of the league. Ex-Mayor Diehl, it is expected, will be elected president of the old league.

A special telegram to The Gazette from Houghton, Mich., says: "The Portage Lake hockey team which last year won the championship of the west by defeating the Canadian Soo and St. Paul sevens, has arranged a series of games with the Pittsburgh club, which holds the title in the east. Three matches each will be played at Houghton and Pittsburgh. Negotiations for games with the strong New York team are also on, with prospects of success. A $20,000 ice rink, particularly for the use of the hockey team, is to be built at Houghton this fall by a local stock company."

HEAT RACING STOPPED.

Memphis Trotting Association Has Abandoned Practice for Good of Harness Horse Turf.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 26.—Secretary Murray Howe of the Memphis Trotting association caused a sensation today by announcing to all owners that at future meetings to be given here the system of heat racing would be discontinued.

It is said the action of Driver Saunders in confessing to the judges on the opening day that he had made no effort to win the first heat of the race with Sir Albert S., is responsible for the change in system.

C. K. G. Billings, builder of the local track, was present when Saunders confessed, and it is said that his orders were to abandon the heat system, which is thought to be responsible for the evils of the harness horse turf.

Association Team for Youngstown.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—An association football team was organized here last night, with M. J. McGrath as manager. Games will be played with Niles, East Liverpool, Homestead and other teams. The first game is scheduled here with East Liverpool, on November 15.

Loss of Work and Money in Coal Strike Subject of Sermon.

At the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning the Rev. E. L. Eaton preached a sermon entitled "Plenty of Coal Now." His text was taken from Psalms lxxxiv:2, "No good thing will be withheld from them that walk uprightly." Mr. Eaton said, in part:

"The recent coal strike has cost all concerned probably more than a quarter of a million dollars. The miners have lost about 20,000,000 days' work, which must mean about $30,000,000. They can hope to make this up only by the arbitration court allowing them better wages. The operators will make up their losses by selling coal at an advanced price. In either case the third party to the strike—the public—will pay the bills.

"This great strike has compelled many to think about the fuel supply of the world, and to contemplate what would be the condition of this nation in winter with no fuel to warm the people or to cook their food. Yet how abundant has God made the world's fuel supply. There are 200,000 square miles of coal in the United States, and China has enough to supply the world for the next 5,000 years."

MISSING BUTLER GIRLS GIVE BAIL AT ELLWOOD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUTLER, PA., Oct. 26.—After eluding the officers from this county since May 8 last, Abbie and Maggie Hank are under bail for their appearance at the December term of court to answer the charge of aiding a prisoner to escape. On the night of May 7, it is alleged, while Sheriff Hoon was attending a lecture, the two girls, who were employed as domestics at the jail, assisted by Lee Coovert, a friend of one of the girls, released Clyde Adams, held on a charge of larceny, and the four disappeared.

Recently Sheriff Hoon learned that the girls were at their old home in Ellwood. Deputy Sheriff J. Rainey Hoon went after them, but they were not at home when he called. Yesterday the authorities here received the bail bond of the girls, with their father as security. They voluntarily appeared before Justice Kelly, in the Lawrence county town, and gave bail.

It is said that Maggie and Adams have been married since the sensational escape from jail.

SAYS HE SHOT HIMSELF.

Parkersburg Man Takes Blame for Fatal Wounding.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Lying on his deathbed, W. Brooks Harley, proprietor of the Manhattan club, who was shot in the breast yesterday morning, takes upon himself the blame for the fatal shot, which he yesterday declared it is said, was fired by his wife.

He arrived home from his club at 4 a. m., and in a few minutes thereafter the police were summoned. Upon their arrival, Harley declared, it is said, that his wife had shot him, but afterwards he denied this, and has since stoutly maintained, along with the other members of the family, that he shot himself and that it was purely accidental. There was no witness outside the family.

Got Away With Drygoods.

ELLWOOD, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—About 3 o'clock Sunday morning burglars broke into the drygoods store of Dambach Bros. & Co. and stole several hundred dollars' worth of goods. They also broke into the office of the Crescent Lumber Company and dynamited the safe, but got nothing. They stole a horse and surrey of R. G. Brown and drove away. There were four robbers.

Probably Fatally Shot.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—There was a shooting affray at Jane Lew in Lewis county this afternoon. A man named Brown, it is alleged, shot a man named Mulligan in the abdomen and it is doubtful if the latter will recover. He was brought here this evening.

—Jacob Myers, 60 years old, who says he has no home, fell over an embankment at Mc-Candless and Stanton avenues early yesterday morning. His face was cut and he received a small scalp wound. His wounds were dressed at No. 5 police station.

—The engagement of Mrs. Georgella Bates, a well-known elocutionist, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bates of Rochester, Pa., and James G. Meighan of Allegheny, a brother of Thomas Meighan of the Grand Stand Company, Pittsburgh, has been announced.

—Inspector John Lennix and Lieutenant Myers, with a squad of policemen, yesterday morning raided the house of Mrs. Kate Hollerman, No. 32 Pike street. She and five men were arrested. Mrs. Hollerman was charged with keeping a disorderly house and the men with being visitors.

—Shortly before noon yesterday Officer Terry Boyle arrested at South Ninth and Sarah streets, Daniel Murray, George Easton, Cornelius Wagner, Edward Richards and Christopher Clark, all of the South Side, and locked them in No. 7 station on a charge of drunkenness. They were drinking alcohol.

—Early yesterday morning Mrs. Carrie Willard, a widow, 35 years old, fell at Penn avenue and Twenty-eighth street. She had some very bad bruises and cuts on her head and a finger broken. At No. 3 police station Dr. Alexander E. McCandless dressed her wounds. She said she fell from a car. She left for her home near Sewickley.

WHOLE TOWN TURNED OUT TO INVESTIGATE BURIAL

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The town of Bismark, W. Va., was greatly excited when a farmer, John Rinker, drove into the place and reported that he had found a newly made grave in a wilderness, near where the Beaver Creek company operates a saw mill. In a short time all the male members of the town turned out to investigate, as no one had heard of a death or burial in that section.

On reaching the scene they commenced at once to open the grave. After considerable labor the jawbone of a horse was found. At that juncture the crowd started home, not so greatly excited, but fully satisfied.

OHIO MAN FOLLOWED FROM TOWN TO TOWN

Nursery Company President Claims to Be Threatened With Death.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 26.—Charles S. Norris, president of the Riverside Nursery Company of Troy, O., who has been stopping in this city, claims that he has been followed by four men since October 9, and can give no reason for being spied upon, as he claims not to have an enemy in the world.

When he left Columbus, on October 9, he saw the men who have since made his life unbearable. They followed him to Steubenville. They remained all night in a Wellsville hotel when he stopped there, and when he boarded a train for Wheeling these men were the first he saw. At Wheeling they stopped at the same hotel with him, but there he managed to elude them, and go alone to Toronto. However, when he came to this place the men were already here, and after he had registered at a hotel they came and registered also.

About midnight Norris was awakened by hearing a noise outside of his door, and claims to have heard one whisper: "Wait till he gets asleep and we'll kill him; that's the way to settle his hash." Norris ran to the window, opened it and called for assistance, but resistance the officer might have fared badly.

After a fight lasting several minutes the officer and this foreign friend got the better of the three assailants, and two made a hasty retreat, one being captured and lodged in the Monessen city prison. Officers are searching the country for the men who escaped. Gaffney was struck several times with a club while the foreigner was seriously injured.

Shot for His Gallantry.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—John Pinsky of Hecla, is at the Westmoreland hospital with a bullet in his shoulder. Pinsky came to Greensburg on Saturday night and while on his way home, stopped at Spring Garden to talk to a party of girls. He asked one of them to ride with him. As she was about to get into Pinsky's buggy her lover came along, knocked John from the buggy, it is alleged, and then shot him. The wound is not dangerous.

CAR DASHED DOWN HILL.

One Man Injured in Exciting Accident at East Liverpool—Leaves Acted as a Lubricant.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—While descending a hill in the central part of the city today, a street car became unmanageable, the brakes refusing to work on account of leaves on the track, and dashed down the hill. It left the rails and ran nearly a square over the paving bricks, finally stopping only a short distance from the river. Collision with a tree and a large rock brought it to a standstill.

John Wallace, a pottery worker, leaped from the car, fell on his side and was seriously hurt. Motorman C. W. Rauch stuck to his post until death stared him in the face and then escaped by jumping. There were eight passengers on the car and a panic prevailed among them.

POWDER WORKS DAMAGED.

Six Hundred Kegs Exploded at Factory Near Fairmount.

FAIMONT, W. VA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The Fairmont powder works, 18 miles from this city, were damaged to the extent of $8000 by 600 kegs of powder exploding today. Two men were on duty at the time, but were at another building quite a distance from the glaze department when the explosion occurred. The men escaped uninjured.

The machinery was completely destroyed and the roof was thrown for miles around. Earth was torn up for 40 feet. The plant is owned by Delaware men.

New Industry for Rochester.

ROCHESTER, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The Armstrong Cork Company of Pittsburgh has just closed a deal with the North Rochester Improvement Company for a site on which to erect a large plant for the manufacture of an insulating material. The contract for the erection of the plant has been let to Martsolf Bros. of New Brighton, who will commence work tomorrow. The main building will be of brick, 100x165 feet, and will be four stories high.

STATE LAND DISCOVERED IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Farmers Must Go Into Court to Clear Titles to Property.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 26.—The almost innumerable surveys that have been made throughout this county to determine the lines of the farm land that has been sold to coal operators and speculators have developed the startling fact that there are many tracts of land in this county which still belong to the state, and the farmers have been using them, believing that they owned them.

Already some of these cases have got into the courts and others must follow in order to make it possible to procure clear titles to the land. The fact that so much unpatented land lies in this county is accounted for in a dozen ways or more. The most commonly accepted explanation is that the methods of surveying were decidedly loose in the early days. Applications have been made in some cases for patents from the state and others will be made.

SIGN COURT HOUSE CONTRACT.

Westmoreland Commissioners Agree on Price for Structure.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The contract for the erection and completion of the new court house of Westmoreland county has been signed by the county commissioners and Drake & Caldwell of Columbus, Ind., and has been submitted to Judges Doty and McConnell of the common pleas court. Drake & Caldwell were the lowest bidders, their estimate having been $872,300.

The nearest competitive bid was that of Norcross Bros. of New York. They agreed to build the structure for $1,032,000. This is the second contract that has been handed to the court, the first having been disapproved for the reason that it was not awarded to the lowest bidder.

OFFICER SEVERELY BEATEN.

Fierce Fight at the Pittsburgh Steel Mill at Monessen.

MONESSEN, PA., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—For refusing to allow three men to enter the gates and trespass upon the property of the Pittsburgh steel mill today Officer John Gaffney, one of the special watchmen, was assaulted and had not an empire come to his assistance the officer might have fared badly.

After a fight lasting several minutes the officer and this foreign friend got the better of the three assailants, and two made a hasty retreat, one being captured and lodged in the Monessen city prison. Officers are searching the country for the men who escaped. Gaffney was struck several times with a club while the foreigner was seriously injured.

Just Like Eggs

Eggs and Filled Watch Cases have some features in common. You can't see very far beyond the shell of either. You've got to take the insides on faith. The imitations of the Boss Case look somewhat like "the real thing." "How can I tell whether a Filled Case will wear the length of time for which it is guaranteed?" You can't tell—no one can tell—unless it is a

JAS. BOSS Stiffened GOLD Watch Case

Your faith in a Boss Case can be safely grounded on the fact that while IT and its imitators are alike guaranteed for 25 years' wear IT, only, has actually proved its wear-worth, after trial of 25, 35, even 45 years. None of its imitators have been made long enough to prove anything for themselves—except their inferiority to the "old reliable," the JAS. BOSS Case! Why buy an experiment, when you can get proved value? All sizes, in all styles, at all jewelers.

MONEY SITUATION IMPROVES SLOWLY

Each Day of Light Dealing Adds to Relief of Banking Interests---Present Cure Likely to Be Temporary.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.

Each succeeding day that records a dull and apathetic stock market is one of hope to the banking interests, which are seeking to guide the financial bark into deep water, and away from the shoals and rocks which so recently threatened disaster. Slowly the monetary situation is improving, but in conservative quarters it is fully recognized that the bettered condition is more the result of measures of expediency than to the workings of natural causes, or any radical change in the underlying and influencing factors.

If the developments of the week disclosed anything at all, it was that confidence has not yet been fully restored, either as the result of the capitulation of the anthracite coal operators to the United Mine Workers, or the pouring of some $20,000,000 of public funds into the New York money market. The breaking of the threatened fuel famine and the slight relaxation of money rates are matters of importance to the business interests of the country; they certainly alleviated a condition, but they have not cured a disease, and their benefit, unfortunately, is apt to be temporary. Labor is still aggressive, even in the coal fields, and its attitude elsewhere leaves much to be desired, particularly as in connection with the growing discontent is the entrance of the labor question into political controversies.

Cash Holdings Increase.

With all the outpouring of public money cash holdings in the Associated banks have increased by $19,000,000 from the low point of October 4, and even with this they are $13,000,000 under the figure at this season a year ago. What the situation is among the interior institutions at this time there is no better data than that furnished by the controller of the currency's report of September 30, which showed the heavy increase in loan expansion for all national banks within the year of $282,000,000 and a loss of legal money of $30,000,000. If the interior institutions have been influenced in the same manner and in like degree with those in New York it is clear that the changes have not yet been great enough to inspire complete confidence, and that the relief efforts of the treasury department have been only palliative.

Slowly, however, as has been said, the monetary situation is improving, but it is a process which must be continued over a long period of time before it becomes completely effective and permits a revival of stock market activity such as speculative Wall street longs to see. At no time now can the operations of the sub-treasury be ignored, and the true and lasting relief for the situation can only come when the outward shipments of wheat, corn and cotton are of sufficient volume to liquidate some substantial proportion of our huge foreign indebtedness and re-establish a surplus abroad. While export shipments of cereals and cotton show some increase, they are not yet up to the record of a year ago.

Two Essentials Required.

To stimulate the stock market now requires two essentials—the complete restoration of public confidence and the willingness upon the part of financial institutions and foreign lenders to furnish the resources for speculative enterprises, which they can only advance at the expense of the business community. What the chances are of such a result one man may determine as well as another.

The last six weeks have cleared up some crazy financial notions. In the first place, the various bank presidents who were loudly proclaiming in the spring that there would be no money stringency and that the west would care for its own crops, must feel rather foolish concerning their predictions. Men who professed to believe that some wonderful economic change had come over the country, which made us the dominant world power in finance, and rendered us immune from the workings of natural economic laws, must at last realize that they were entirely at fault. A world power in finance we undoubtedly are, but just at present it is because our credits are widely extended in every market of the world.

With the great natural resources of the country, a good financial system and due attention to economy, this country will become the world power in finance in time, but it is not to be made so by stock-watering operations, converting stocks into bonds and overloading credit to the breaking point, or by dissipating our resources as a drunken sailor parts with his money.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE MARKET PRICES

Another Advance for Potatoes. Strictly Fresh Eggs Scarce. String Beans Lower.

One of the strongest markets of the week was straw, which is in very small supply, and the few arrivals are eagerly sought by purchasers. Prices are $1 a ton higher for both oat and wheat straw than the prices ruling a week ago. The discouraging feature of the situation is that there is no likelihood of any considerable supplies, as the wet weather in growing sections ruined much of the crop, and users will be driven to look for a substitute during the coming winter.

Hay is steady and selling freely, although there is a shade of decline shown in figures asked for No. 1 timothy as compared with last Monday. This does not indicate any real weakness in the market, but is the result of the fact that a temporary scarcity of the preceding week caused quotations to advance above actual conditions; there has simply been a settling down to real values. Rye is steady and unchanged, with a good supply running. Corn, both ear and shelled, unchanged. New ear corn was offered on the exchange yesterday, 10 days' time at 51 cents. Oats range at the same prices as at the close of trade last week, and are strong. White and brown middlings are a shade easier, while bran is firm and unchanged.

Unchanged Flour Prices Rule.

Flour opens this morning at same figures as ruled at the close on Saturday. There was no change during the week, although toward the close it did look as though a bearish wheat conditions might prevail. One jobber predicted that flour would go lower before it went higher, but the wheat situation is very uncertain, and the unexpected is always imminent. Sugar is moving better than it did earlier in the month, selling being about the average for the time of year in volume. Raw sugars are very firm. Coffee is holding its own, but has been unable to score on advances. Brazilian receipts at seaports continue large, but the New York market has gained some strength during the last two or three days, with more speculative interest shown. Cereal foods are steady at last week's prices.

Teas have not receded any from the high position taken two weeks ago, but are maintaining a strong range of prices, in sympathy with which both limas and prime navy beans have advanced. Dried peas are also affected, and quotations have moved up. The molasses trade is large, and prices are firm, with new open kettle now arriving and quoted at higher figures than old.

Canned goods present few features, the advance in canned corn, being the main item of interest. This advance affected all grades and was expected, on account of the short packs and higher prices for tomatoes. Jobbers figured a little by the putting on the market of some low grade stock at our prices, but the atmosphere has cleared, and the situation is again steady. Ondera Valencia raisins advanced a half cent, and apricots and peaches are very strong, with coast quotations advancing.

Potato Market Gains Strength.

Potatoes have had several advances during the past week, the last one on Saturday. The market is very much stronger than was anticipated a few weeks ago, due to the early buying for storage on the part of a large number of retailers, who have commenced to put stock away earlier than usual this season. Sweet potatoes are also higher. Jerseys having gone forward in price twice inside of a week. Apples are now in full quotations, and are in excellent supply, notwithstanding the heavy demand, which is expected at any moment. Fancy apples have the call, and are moving very rapidly.

Hothouse cucumbers are now in the market. Cauliflower is very plentiful, and a trifle easier in price. Cabbage is unchanged. Radishes are higher. Tomatoes are still offering in fairly good quantity, but are higher in price, with the bulk of the crop of corn in the fields almost done, only an occasional lot being seen, and it is no longer quoted. Spinach has advanced. Florida eggplant is now arriving in crates, and has largely taken the place of the home product. String beans have advanced very sharply during the week, but went off with a sudden thump on Saturday upon the arrival of a large consignment from the east. Peaches may be found here and there in small baskets, but are very scarce. Concord grapes are in good supply, and are bringing a little better prices than at the beginning of the week. In other lines there is little change.

Demand for Nuts Increasing.

Nuts, both foreign and domestic, are in good supply, and are selling freely at unchanged prices. Demand for these goods has been quite active during the past few days, and will reach its height this week.

Elgin creamery butter was advanced a cent a pound last Monday, and the local market was changed accordingly. Since that time there has been an active demand here and stocks have cleaned up well. Some reports of weakness in other markets were heard several days ago, but if true, conditions have been strengthened and the market is very firm.

Cheese is holding its own without loss, and quotations are unchanged. Eggs are steady to strong, the supply being reported light, and, in many instances sold as fresh, while a number of held fresh stock eggs are also on the market. Strictly fresh stock is scarce, and readily brings top prices.

Poultry has gone through the week without an important change, prices being the same now as quoted a week ago. Indications point to heavy receipts as among the probabilities during, and if this expectation is realized, there will likely be some falling off in prices.

PUPPY WOOLS THE CUBS

Hundreds of Visitors To Highland Zoo Were Entertained by Spectacle of Little Fox Terrier Getting Best of Two Lion Cubs.

The magnificent display of chrysanthemums at the Phipps conservatory in Schenley park attracted thousands of visitors, and from the time the building was thrown open to the public in the early morning until it closed last night a constant stream of people passed through the houses. Although it was not the formal opening, still lovers of the beautiful in nature flocked to the conservatory in droves to see the exhibition. The display is the finest ever seen here. While the bloom is in profusion, it will be better developed by next Sunday, as many of the flowers are not yet at their best.

It was an ideal Indian summer day and the cool atmosphere brought out many thousands of people to both the city parks. Of course the chrysanthemum show was the great attraction, and more people went to Schenley than on any other Sunday this fall.

The arrangements of the flowers is admirable, as every effort has been made to remove all idea of artificiality, and impress the visitor that the scene is a natural one. The colors are naturally and tastefully arranged, and the entire display is pleasing.

The Highland zoo had a big crowd of visitors yesterday, considering the attraction at the conservatory. All the animals have now been placed in their winter quarters and are doing nicely. The inhabitants of the zoo are at present enjoying good health, and Supt. Earnest Tretow hopes to keep them in excellent condition during the winter months. The zoo was enriched during the week by the donation of a possum and five young ones. They were donated by A. M. Clark of Oak Forest, Pa. They are the first possums yet placed in the zoo, and attracted much attention.

One of the interesting sights in the lion house of the zoo during the afternoon was a fox terrier puppy in a cage with the baby lions, born a few weeks ago. The puppy wanted to play football, the cubs ping-pong. The manner in which the puppy rolled the cubs around and abused them in his innocent way, was a source of delight to hundreds of spectators. But if he remains in the cage a few weeks longer the tables will be turned, as the lion cubs are growing wonderfully.

SCHENLEY RIVALED BY FRICK DISPLAY

Coke King's Conservatories Were Admired by Great Crowds.

The private conservatories of H. C. Frick yesterday rivaled the display at Schenley park as an attraction to lovers of beautiful flowers. All day long hundreds of people visited Mr. Frick's grounds at Penn and Homewood avenues and strolled through the winding paths of the great greenhouse to admire the chrysanthemums. This is the fourth season that Mr. Frick has admitted the public to his conservatories, and his chrysanthemum exhibition is now regarded as an annual attraction.

David Frazer, superintendent of grounds for Mr. Frick, welcomed his visitors, and with assistants accompanied each party through the houses, pointing out the rare specimens and describing the peculiar characteristics of the flowers.

Every variety of the chrysanthemum known to botanists in this country is on view. Aside from the standard varieties are all the latest growths from famous gardens in England. The best of the new ones is the Mrs. F. J. Tractor, a large white chrysanthemum, which was grown in England last year and seen here for the first time.

There are no specimens in this country that compare with those in Mr. Frick's collection. Other new varieties are the A. J. Balfour, a large pink bloom; the Vicar of Leatherhead, the largest of the yellows; and the George Carpenter, an extra fine blossom of striped pink. The Bessie Godfrey and Godfrey's king, two specimens in delicately striped yellows, were named for Godfrey, the famous English florist. Rare flowers in beautiful shades of creamy white are the Madame Deis and the Nellie Pocket.

Mr. Frazer has introduced a new flower in the Frick collection. It is the clerodendren falax, a deep scarlet bloom that grows in wax-like tapers from a sturdy plant. The flower was recently introduced in England and is bound to become popular.

The exhibit at the Frick conservatories will be at its best next week, and will be enhanced by the best display of orchids and begonias ever shown here.

Mansfield and Company Here.

Richard Mansfield and his company of 119 reached Pittsburgh last night on a special train from Chicago, where this great artist made a remarkable success with his new vehicle, "Julius Caesar." Mr. Mansfield is stopping at the Lincoln hotel and entertained some friends at supper last evening. During Mr. Mansfield's engagement here this week, at the Alvin, the curtain will rise each evening promptly at 8 o'clock and at the matinee at 2 o'clock.

PICNIC FOR A HOST OF HOUSEKEEPERS

Campbell Is Closing Out All His House Furnishings.

To make room for the Christmas goods downstairs William Campbell is going to evict the pots, kettles, brushes, brooms, glassware, china, etc., from the big basement salesroom of The People's Store. And to make quick work of the moving process, everything in wood, iron, tin, glass and china has been cut in price from 10 to 50 per cent.

Bring along your biggest basket when you come downtown to this picnic, for you'll see dozens of things you want, and if you wait until next time, they'll be gone.

Monday, Oct. 27, 1902

A Series of Unusual Sales for the Closing Days of October.

We throw reserve to the winds today and do a bold thing—take our public by the hand and say here are wanted goods at, and around, the half price line. And this, too, at the very beginning almost of the Winter season. True, Winter isn't here by the Almanac, but we are in a period of the year when Nature is likely to introduce some of her whimsicalities.

Collectively we do not remember when we had such engaging news for publication as that which follows.

Every section of it is worth a double reading, but you should not pore over the whole too long. A little haste to be with us early this morning will be fraught with some astonishment and much profit for everyone.

Special Underprices for Silks and Velvets.

Silks for all sorts of uses in this brief mention and especially some Silks and Velvets for making up into fancy bags and other novelties for enclosing holiday gifts. By the way, there is not any too much time for executing holiday fancy work.

And we may as well say that women who buy their Velvets and Silks of us have the satisfaction of knowing that they are buying from the importer. And that fact has a great deal to do with our less prices.

Fancy Silks—including moire velours—striped, figured and plaids—75c and $1 grades for 50c, 58c and 65c a yard.

White Wash Cords—and every woman knows how to employ them—A 45c grade today at the special price of 35c a yard.

Black fancy Silks—stripes and figures—you have lots of uses for them—a 75c grade for 50c a yard.

Black Grenadines—that dressy Silk texture that will always retain its high favor—A $1.25 grade for 75c a yard.

Black Moire Velour—of course you know that moire is simply nothing but a water color effect—an 85c grade at 65c a yard.

Of the Velvet family we offer today fancy Paons, Pannes and Velveteens, 75c and $1 grades for 50c and 65c a yard.

Walking Suits, Full of Style, $10.

We never like to talk of a $10 Suit—as a rule there is little confidence to be placed in them.

But these Suits were not made to sell for $10. On the contrary, they were to be exceptional Suits for $15. How we got them would be tedious in the telling and we don't think you would care to hear it. The point that will best please you is that they are here this morning ready for you at the price stated.

The material is an excellent Homespun—and you can have either the dark oxford gray or a pretty blue. The jacket is an Eton effect, finished with stitched bands around the bottom, forming a girdle effect, and a still further finish of neat little tabs trimmed with buttons; the sleeves are bell-shape and are finished with stitched cuffs. Jacket is lined with a good grade of black satin. The skirt is one of those popular 7-gored effects finished around bottom with 7 rows of stitching.

And we take occasion to say this morning briefly, because there is not room for the details which will follow later, that we have received a number of handsome Dress and Walking Suits from a manufacturer who used them as samples. They are grand Suits in every way. And we are going to sell them around the half price line, $13.50 up to $50.

Ends of Dependable Dress Materials

Remnants, if you please, but a manufacturer's. He sacrificed them to us and we, in turn, do the same to you.

Thousands and thousands of yards of the latest weaves and colors, including Black, of Dress Goods to be sold today at about half prices.

The collection contains skirt and entire dress lengths, running from 3 yards to 7.

These remnants represent the short ends accumulated from the over estimation of the maker, and we bought a great number of pieces, something like 1,000. All the news cannot be given in detail, but enough for a glance that will hurry you to this department of the main floor.

Remnants of 75c, 85c, and $1 Voiles, Cheviots, Broadcloths and Mixtures—on special table today ..... 50c a yd.

Remnants of $1.25 assorted Dress materials—we say assorted because there are too many for description—today ..... 62½c a yd.

Remnants of $1.50 assorted Dress materials—a fine lot in every way—today at ..... 75c a yd.

Remnants of $1.75 Tailorings and Skirtings ..... 87½c a yd.

Remnants of $2 Tailorings and Skirtings at ..... $1 a yd.

Medium and Finest Linens.

A splendid stock of sturdy everyday Linens; a splendid stock of decorative Linens; a splendid stock of finest table Napery, the aristocratic weaves of foreign looms—those of Ireland, Scotland, France and Germany. And back of this collection is an unbroken and unsullied record of many years' dealing with the best makers of the world. Still further back of it is the well-known fact that we are individual importers and that we save every buyer of Linen—no matter what grade is chosen—a substantial sum on every piece or yard bought of us.

It is of frequent occurrence that stores selling such large quantities of Linen as we do naturally in a very short time accumulate quite a lot of Linens that become mussed. Thus, in the heavy selling of the past few weeks, we have accumulated a larger lot of these mussed Linens than usual. But in the buying mussed does not amount to much, for water and soap soon remedy the soiled parts.

Today these underprices on Linens more or less hurt by dirt.

Decorative Linens.

12½c each—20c to 35c goods—odd lots of Doilies, of fringed damask, hemstitched damask and Renaissance lace.

25c each—35c to 50c goods—for odd lots of hemstitched linen Scarfs, Centers, Covers and Tray Cloths.

85c each—$1 and $1.25 goods—Mexican Table Centers and hemstitched drawnwork Scarfs and Covers.

$2.25 each—$3 goods—Table Centers and Scarfs of Renaissance lace. The Centers 20 by 20 and 24 by 24 inches; the Scarfs 20 by 54 inches.

$4.75 each—$6.75 and $7.50 goods—Table Centers of Arabian lace, and Scarfs and Centers of Torchon Lace.

Towels and Toweling.

10c a yard — 12½c goods — for bleached silver crash.

15c each—20c goods — hemstitched huck Towels. 19 by 38 inches.

Table Damasks.

50c a yard—65c goods—for bleached Table Damask, 64 inches wide.

$1 a yard—$1.25 and $1.35 goods—72-inch and 81-inch bleached Table Damask, odd half pieces without napkins to match.

Damask Table Cloths.

$2.25 each—$2.75 goods—bleached Damask Cloths. Sizes, 2 by 2 and 2 by 2½ yards.

$3 each — $3.75 goods — bleached Damask Cloths, sizes 2 by 3 and 2¼ by 2¼ yards.

$5 each — $6.75 goods — bleached Damask Cloths, sizes 2½ by 2½ and 2½ by 3 yards.

Damask Napkins.

$1.50 a dozen — $2 goods — for bleached Damask Napkins. 22 by 22 inches.

$2.75 a dozen — $3.50 goods — for bleached Damask Napkins. Sizes 22 by 22 and 24 by 24. These are Scotch and Irish goods.

$5 a dozen — $6.50 goods — for bleached Damask Napkins. Sizes 25 by 25 and 27 by 27 inches.

$3 a dozen—$3.75 and $4.50 goods—hemstitched Damask Napkins, 18x18 and 20x20 inches. These are odd dozens from matched sets.

Little to Pay for Pretty Curtains.

Some fine ones for the proverbial "song"—and some that are not so fine for the price still lower than the "song."

A variety of Curtains—single pairs—consisting of Nottingham Lace Curtains, Ruffled and Net Curtains finished with lace edges, and Ruffled Muslin Curtains—heretofore selling for $2, $2.50, $3 and $4.75 a pair—today for the single $1 a pair.

One lot of Irish Point Curtains—single pairs—that sold for $5, $6, $7.50 and $8.50 a pair—today for $2.50 the pair.

And we may as well give you while we are at it some low prices on Curtain Muslins, and also on that great utility fabric, Cretonnes.

Today we will sell a lot of Curtain Muslins one yard wide—10c goods—for 5c a yard.

One lot of French and English Cretonnes — regular price range being 40c, 45c, 50c, 60c a yard—today for 25c a yard.

Laces—Half Prices.

The call for Laces has been greater than ever in the history of this store, and has quickly resulted in a great many short ends and odd widths accumulating. Their room is more desirable than their presence, and you may have them today for half of former prices.

A bit of everything—Gauzes, All-Overs, Val. Laces, Normandy Vals., Chantilly Laces, English Torchon Laces, Insertions and Venise Lace Galloons.

On center table today, Fifth street cross aisle, at these prices:

Plain Gauzes, were $1.25, now 63c a yard.

Embroidered Gauzes, were $3, now $1.50 a yard.

Embroidered All-Overs, were $1, now 50c a yard.

Chantilly Lace, was 20c, a yard, now 10c a yard.

Normandy Val. Lace, was 5c and 10c a yard, now 3c and 5c.

Venise All-Overs, were $1, now 50c.

French Vals., were $1.10, now 50c a dozen yards. Were 50c, now 25c a dozen yards.

Women's Silk Petticoats, $5.

Any one of them, and, by the way, there are only 150, would easily sell for and be worth all of $7.50.

Usually when Petticoats of this grade are offered for $5 there is but one color, black. In this collection there are all colors, even to the popular color of gun metal, and also black.

They are finished with hemstitched accordion pleats and circular flounces.

And we can say with all the emphasis it is possible to put in advertisement that this is one of the best values in Silk Underskirts that we ever offered.

Some Special Prices on Bronzes, Vases and Cut Glass Bowls.

The Bric-a-Brac Department of the third floor catches the spirit of this last-of-October movement, and comes into the special sale with the following fine offers.

300 imitation Bronze Busts of Shakespeare, Apollo and Diana—6 and 7 inches high—$1 and $1.50 each, usually sold for as much more.

Enameled and Brass mounted Vases from Berlin, two sizes; 13 inches, $1.25 each, regularly $2; 30 inches, $6 each, regularly $15. The 30-inch Vases are all defective, some parts of the metal trimming having been broken on the long journey.

Rich Cut Glass Bowls, 8-inch size—an American product—a regular $5 article for $3.50.

New today from the great potteries of Villeroy & Boch, Germany, some beautiful Placques in delft and mettlach effects.

Large and handsome blue delft Placques in figure and scenic decorations, $7.50 and $10.

The Mettlach Placques are wonderfully etched and painted. The price range is $2.5c and along gradually to $7.50.

Our Exposition Baskets at Half Prices.

The ones you saw in our booth, and, as they were there six weeks, they are just a little bit soiled, at least those that were handled. Some of them were never touched at all. 480 in the Basement today at these half prices:

75c Scrap Baskets for 37½c each.
50c Scrap Baskets for 25c each.
$1 Glove Baskets for 50c each.
10c Candy Baskets for 5c each.
$1.50 Sewing Baskets for 75c each.
And so on through the entire list.

Odd Sizes of Girls' Dresses—Half Price.

Today $3.50, were $7.

Blue, red and brown serge—waist and sailor styles.

Misses' Skirts of blue and tan cheviot for $3.50, were $6.50. Lengths 37 to 40 inches.

$3 Cotton Waists for $1.50.

They are made of white figured cheviot with vest front; double-breasted, trimmed with fancy buttons; stock finished with black silk tie.

If the cheviot doesn't suit you take pique or white Bedford Cord at the same price of $3 and worth 7.50.

Either of these Waists are embellished with colored figures. Bishop sleeves and narrow cuffs.

Embroideries—Half Price

Just to keep the flood tide of this department at its full we offer today new and desirable Nainsook and Cambric Embroideries at half prices. We know you would not miss this for the world.

Cambric Edges were 10c to 20c a yard, now 3c to 5c.

Nainsook Embroideries were 25c a yard, now 12½c; were 15c, now 8c.

Stamped and Tinted Pillow Tops and Backs, 18c Complete.

We have several dozen of these Tops and Backs, and we have sold them all along for 25c.

But we must tell you that the Tops are slightly soiled, but as Tops always have to be cleaned after they are embroidered, you will likely not consider this defect of much moment.

We sell you the Top and the Back and charge you only 18c for them, leaving you 7c in your purse.

Fine Bed Spreads with Special Reductions.

Just in time when you want some new fixings for the Winter outfitting of the bed. We hardly think the same opportunity will again be presented this Autumn or Winter.

$3.50 each, $5 quality special lot of fine Marseilles Bed Spreads—extra large sizes.

At $2 each—$3.50 qualities—fine fringed Marseilles Spreads, made especially for twin Beds.

$2.25, $3 and $4 each—a new lot of fine Bed Spreads with a satin finish.

$5, $6.50 and $7.50 each—some very handsome Bed Spreads made of a mercerized material—white, delicate light blue and cream.

Manufacturers' Mill-Ends Handkerchiefs.

18c each—6 for $1.

If they were regular stock they could not be sold for less than 25c, 35c and 50c.

Mill-ends mean nothing at all except to the manufacturer. He starts on a run of linen for a certain number of Handkerchiefs and finds himself with a lot over after he has completed his invoice. After a while there is a great collection and the party who is fortunate enough to get this collection has a prize and so have the parties who purchase mill-end Handkerchiefs.

These are all pure linen—they are hemstitched and are embellished with a hand embroidered initial.

There are two weights of linen—sheer and medium.

3,120 arrived Saturday and are ready this morning on special table under dome.

Ribbon Underprices.

Every woman likes to have plenty of Ribbon in her belongings, and the opportunity is presented today to buy pretty Ribbons for prices far removed from the original.

5-inch Satin Taffeta Ribbon, 35c a yard, original price, 45c and 50c.

3½-inch Pillow Ribbons, 25c a yard, original price 35c.

4½ and 5 inch fancy Ribbons, many plain colors, 25c a yard, original price 40c.

Mousselaine Ribbons, 25c, 30c, 35c yard, original prices 40c, 45c and 50c.

A Healthy Trade in China.

This department of the basement is enjoying the greatest trade since it was established. We take good care to see that goods are here that people want and that they are different from other collections around us. We also take good care that the prices are popular, the variety unexceptional, and the grades of chinas not to be duplicated. Some of the prices that we hear of being quoted for fine specimens seem to us to almost be a prohibitive act against purchasing.

Our shipments come in about every month, and any one month's new things would constitute the average Pittsburg store's entire stock of China, new and old. Some matters of detail for today:

Plates, 50c to $2 each.
Tea Cups and Saucers, $1.
Chocolate Cups and Saucers, $1.
Bouillon Cups and Saucers, $1.25.
Nut Bowls and Plates, $2.
Salads, $1, $2 and $3 each.
Syrup Jars, $1.50 each.
Marmalade Jars, $1.50 each.
Bonbon Boxes, $1 each.
Tea Pots, $1.75 each.
Sugar and Cream Sets, $2.
Creams, 75c each.
Chocolate Pots, $2 and $3 each.
Cracker Jars, $2 each.
Mustards, 75c each.
Bread Plates, $2 each.
Celery Plates, $2 each.

The above comprise some of an importation of 3,000 pieces finest Japanese China, so good and modern in style of decoration that it does not look the least like Japanese ware. The decoration and shape are a copy of a noted French design—a garland of roses over a solid border of gold, so wonderfully effective that anyone would expect each piece to cost two or three times the prices asked. This pattern is here with us exclusively for Allegheny county.

Another very special China offer for today is that of 500 dainty Japanese Ramikins and Plates—a new oblong shape, or we can give you the regulation style. Instead of 50c we say for them 25c.

$1 Glace Gloves for 75c Pr.

Our buyer bought a great lot of these Gloves in New York, and they went like popcorn balls at the Exposition last Saturday. Plenty left for today.

Just the kind of a dressy Glove women like—two-clasp Glace with one strand embroidery back. Choice is among all colors and shades of colors, along with white and black.

$1.50 Umbrellas for 95c Each.

There are 500 of these and they are a 26-inch length, fancy silver, pearl, Dresden, horn and trimmed natural handles. The cover is what is known as Union Taffeta—a mixture of silk and linen.

Then we have another offer at the same price of 95c, consisting of $1.25 Silk Gloria Umbrellas—plain and trimmed natural handles.

PENN AND FIFTH.
